Storm Dumps Heavy Snow In Colorado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A heavy snowstorm, packed with gusty northerly winds, swept across the southern Rockies into the central Plains today and headed into wide areas of the Midwest.

The early March storm dumped heavy snow in Colorado, Wyoming and parts of Nebraska, with amounts up to a foot in some sections. The snow spread into central Arizona and New Mexico northward through southern Utah.

Winds of 30 to 45 m.p.h. whipped the snow from northeastern Colorado northeastward across northern and central Nebraska and into southeast South Dakota and extreme northwest Iowa. There was much drifting and the blowing snow created hazardous driving conditions. No severe cold was reported.

Lighter amounts of snow were reported in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Heavy snow warnings were issued for areas from central and extreme northeast Nebraska, extreme northern Iowa northward into eastern South Dakota and southern Minnesota.

Thunderstorms broke out in the mild air in southern and central Illinois while rain fell in northern areas and in parts of Iowa, North central Kansas and eastern Missouri.

Fog and drizzle shrouded areas in southeast Texas eastward into coastal sections of Louisiana.

Coldest weather was along norther areas in the Midwest and in northern New England. One of the lowest readings was four below zero in Grand Forks, N.D. It was near zero in Holton, Maine.

Six Children Burn to Death: Candles Blamed

LIMA, Ohio (AP) —The Esau Robinson family, with six children, moved into new quarters here Saturday afternoon. A few hours later, the house was afire and the children were dead.

The Robinsons lit candles for night-time illumination.

The mother, Beatrice Robinson, put the children—the youngest age 1, the eldest 7—to sleep in one bedroom. Then she visited a neighbor.

Her husband went out to another neighbor. He was father of two of the youngsters, stepfather to the other four.

Mrs. Robinson, away for about an hour, came back for her second look-in at her children. The house was filled with smoke and ablaze.

Romney Repeats He Will Not Seek 1964 Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said today he is not going to become a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

He made the statement to reporters before presenting, as head of a Michigan delegation, Detroit's bid for the 1964 Republican National Convention to the Republican Site Committee.

"I said before the 1962 election I would not be a candidate for the presidential election in 1964 but would concentrate on Michigan's problems," Romney said.

"I have repeated that here this morning."

Romney was the first Republican governor elected in Michigan in 14 years. Asked if he would accept a draft for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, Romney replied: "That is presumptious. That just does not happen. I am not going to become a candidate."

Asked if his thinking might go beyond 1964 to 1968, Romney said, "I indicated that I got into this because of my concern about Michigan's problems. I am concentrating on that. There is an opportunity in Michigan to do a lot of great significance."

Nameplate From Missing Tanker May Be Found

MIAMI (UPI)—Coast Guard officials examined a charred board today that appeared to be the nameplate from the missing tanker Marine Sulphur Queen.

A Miami boat manufacturer, John Allmand, found the 10-foot board floating in the surf Sunday about 200 yards off a Key Biscayne beach.

The letters "ARINE SULPH" were inscribed on the black board in large white letters.

Allmand said the nameplate appeared to have been torn into several pieces by an explosion. He said a metal strap on the board had been twisted and several bolts in the strap had been sheared in half.

"It must have been quite a blast to twist metal like that," he said. "The sign was partially charred and was covered with burned oil. It really smelled bad."

The 523-foot tanker, missing with its crew of 39 since Feb. 3, was carrying a cargo of molten sulphur. Coast Guard officials said if the hot sulphur had been exposed to water, it could have caused a tremendous explosion.

Post Presses Roll; Strike Talks Go on

A resounding cheer went up in the press room of the Post as pressman Robert Lawton pushed the button that started one of three presses rolling for the first time in 87 days.

"Well, I'm glad we're back to work," said press room foreman Edward Peterson, who has served 18 years on the newspaper, just before he ordered Lawton to push the button.

The Post resumed publication amid reports of progress in negotiations to get the other eight major dailies back on the streets.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner reported that both sides had substantially narrowed their differences on two important issues following a six-hour session that ended early today.

Local 6 of the International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO, struck four of the dailies last Dec. 8, and the other five, including the Post, shut down.

Negotiations in a 95-day five-union strike against Cleveland's two dailies also continued today.

Wagner, hoping to end New York's strike early this week, told the disputants he wanted to see the pace accelerated in today's discussions, which cover "two or

'Personalities' Change in Peru Ruling Junta

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Gen. Nicolas Lindley Lopez, new chief of Peru's military junta, says the bloodless ouster of Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy will not affect holding of democratic elections scheduled for June 9.

The civilian winner elected then is to replace the military bosses.

Lindley, a one-time commando instructor in the U.S. Army, joined two other members of the four-man junta to force out Perez Godoy over the weekend.

The six million people of this nation on South America's Pacific coast took the change in the junta calmly. Lindley said it was a matter only of personalities within the junta.

Lindley, a quiet, forceful man of 54, charged that his predecessor tried to make himself a dictator.

"We did not overthrow the government last July to enthrone Perez Godoy as dictator," he declared.

The new leader is considered a strong anti-Communist and a good friend of the United States. He studied at the Command and General Staff School in Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., in 1946-47 and was a commando instructor there. Twice since he has visited U.S. military installations.

The junta seized power last July 18, charging that President Manual Prado had permitted fraud in the elections to name his successor. Critics charged the junta trumped up the charges to prevent election of Victor Haya de la Torre, anti-Communist candidate of the leftist APRA party.

Lindley was the junta's war minister. He and the other junta members reportedly accused Perez Godoy of acting independently of the junta's collective leadership. There was no indication that a new fourth man will be named to the junta.

Earth Tremors in Six States Said 'Good Thing'

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Earth tremors shook parts of six states Sunday and they were a good thing, says a geologist.

"These smaller tremors are actually desirable because they are indications that stresses in the earth's crust are being relieved; whereas if we had a long period with no perceptible shocks there might be danger of a severe quake," said Norman F. Williams, executive director of the Arkansas Geological and Conservation Commission at Little Rock.

They might be desirable, but they were startling to worshippers at the Christian Church in Dexter, 20 miles west of Sikeston, where plaster on the walls cracked before their eyes.

A church in Sikeston was shaken just after the minister spoke about the destruction a Soviet nuclear bomb could cause.

Some merchandise was jarred off store shelves in Dexter and Sikeston. There were no injuries.

Centered over the New Madrid fault in this southeast Missouri area, the tremors were felt across Missouri and in parts of Kansas, Arkansas, Tennesee, Kentucky and Illinois.

One of the heaviest earthquakes in American history started over the New Madrid fault Dec. 16, 1811. Tremors continued intermittently for five years. "The great shake" changed the course of the Mississippi River and created Reelfoot Lake in Tennessee.

Dr. James Peoples at the University of Kansas said Sunday's shake was the strongest in recent years.

Minister, Two Daughters Feared Dead in Avalanche

DIGGING FOR AVALANCHE VICTIMS—Men armed with shovels and long steel rods dig into masses of snow for some trace of three persons feared killed in a snowslide Sunday on Red Mountain Pass. (AP Wirephoto)

OURAY, Colo. (AP)—An avalanche of snow, slithering downhill at racing car speed, swept over a high mountain road Sunday, burying a Congregational minister, his two daughters and their car.

Rescuers, endangered by other slides, searched the snowy mass in a canyon alongside U.S. 550 on Red Mountain Pass for the Rev. Marvin Hudson, 39, and daughters, Amelia, 17, and Pauline, 12.

"I don't feel there's any chance they're alive," said Sheriff Albert Brown. "I've been in snowslides. The concussion is terrific. It could have knocked them unconscious. There's also a tremendous amount of mist. It's almost impossible to breath in it."

A snowplow operator, Leo H. James, said he saw the slide whisk down East Riverside Gulch and over the minister as he crouched by his stuck car, apparently putting on tire chains. The girls were inside the car.

"The slide came down and took the car right off the road," said James, who had stopped his machine because 50-mile an hour winds whipped up ground blizzards that hampered his vision.

"The car went around me and got stuck there and about that time the snowslide ran," he said.

The avalanche clogged the road on the 11,018-foot pass for more than 500 feet with snow 18 feet deep. It apparently carried the victims over a 70-foot, sheer wall to a creek bed below. The snow is 30 feet or more deep in the canyon, searchers said.

Hudson was on the way from his ranch home five miles south of Ouray to Silverton to conduct Sunday services.

Mrs. Hudson and the couple's other three children remained at home when the minister started his ill-fated trip.

The slide struck about 13 months after an avalanche near Twin Lakes in which seven persons perished. They died beneath a mighty wall of snow rumbling down the slopes of Mt. Elbert, Colorado's loftiest peak.

As many as 17 persons have been killed in one day in Colorado snowslides.

Striking Miners Defy De Gaulle Order to Work

MERLEBACH, France (AP)—Striking coal miners of eastern France's Lorraine region defied President Charles de Gaulle's draft orders today and refused to work.

Riot police were on duty to guard against violence.

Mine officials said at mid-morning that more than 96 per cent of the miners in the Lorraine basin were continuing their strike beyond the government deadline.

De Gaulle signed an order drafting the striking miners Saturday. Union leaders in the Lorraine basin retaliated by issuing handbills telling miners to set up picket lines and stay away from their jobs. French coal mines are government-owned.

The presidential decree meant that any miner who failed to show up at the pits could be fined or sent to jail.

W. C. Williams, Noted American Poet, Dies at 79

RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP)—Dr. William Carlos Williams, a leading American poet for four decades, died of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home here today. He was 79.

Dr. Williams, perhaps best known for his long poem "Paterson," lived in Rutherford all his life and combined a literary and medical career.

Although the early efforts were considered imitative, the poet-physician in time developed a strong personal style brought to fruition in "Paterson."

Dr. Williams was a physician here from 1910 to 1950. He was forced to retire because of illness. He specialized in pediatrics.

He had about 40 books of poetry published and several prose works as well, including a collection of short stories and four novels.

Protection of Underground Water Supplies Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal water pollution consultant urged today a drive to protect underground supplies, saying that all surface water would be destroyed by any atomic attack.

Jack C. Toole of Shelby, Mont., consultant with the Water Pollution Control Advisory Board, said in a report that the United States would have to depend on underground water if surface supplies were contaminated by radioactive fallout.

"Little has been done," he said in a report to the board, "to carry out an effective sampling and testing program for underground waters either on a state, local or national level.

"Lack of research and legislation regulating private sewage disposal plants has allowed waste to be emptied on or near underground water supplies in vast quantities. Other factors are contributing to this pollution situation."

Toole made these nine recommendations "as a step toward safeguarding the health of millions of Americans who must depend upon private wells for their water supplies:"

Widows of Bay Of Pigs Action Get Allotments

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Two Birmingham widows confirmed Sunday they have been receiving $225 checks every two weeks since their husbands disappeared during the Bay of Pigs invasion.

Mrs. Wade C. Gray told United Press International the checks were drawn on the Bankers Trust Co. of New York but that she did not know who the sender was.

Mrs. Riley W. Shamburger Jr. said she could identify the sender of the checks but declined to do so.

The Nashville Tennesseean said in a news story Sunday the checks were being received by two other Birmingham area widows of the invasion—Mrs. Thomas Willard Ray and Mrs. Lee F. Baker. Mrs. Ray could not be contacted and Mrs. Baker now lives in California.

In another development, a Birmingham newsman who flew in support of the invasion said 18 Americans accepted "personal invitations" to take part in the attack.

Albert C. Persons, managing editor of a weekly newspaper here, said he was recruited with 17 others in January 1961.

"We believed then, and believe now, that the men who engaged us were representatives of the United States government," Persons said.

14 Inches New Snow Falls On Watershed

Fourteen inches of new snow fell during the weekend on the city's watershed on the South Slope of Pikes Peak, according to Art Abbey, caretaker.

He said the 14 inches of snow contained about .75 of an inch of moisture. It was still snowing lightly at the 11,000 - foot Seven Lakes early this morning. The low temperature Sunday night was 2 degrees below zero.

The Northfield watershed received seven inches of snow since last Friday, the moisture content of which was .43 of an inch.

So far this past fall and winter, Abbey said, there has been a snowfall of about 71 inches, which is about two thirds of what it was last winter.

Children Play While Mom Lies Dead in House

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — "My mother has been sick. I don't know how many days it's been since she talked to us," the boy said.

George Haefeker, 6, didn't know his mother had been dead for six or seven days, nor did he realize that his father had been too ill with pneumonia to do anything.

So George and his brother, Billy, 5, spent the days playing, and eating from the plentiful food supply when they got hungry.

Saturday night the father, Sgt. Henry F. Haefeker of Forbes Air Force Base, telephoned the sheriff's office and mumbled an appeal.

"Everybody in the house is dead," Haefeker said, his voice fading.

Officers traced the call to the isolated five-room house south of here.

Haefeker, partly clothed and dazed, was sitting in the living room. The body of Alice Haefeker, 37, was covered with blankets and

Russians Not Budged in Atom Test Ban Talks

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western powers today apparently failed to budge the Soviet Union from its rigid position on the nuclear test ban issue in an informal closed door debate at the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Sources said U. S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle pressed the Soviets to depart from their hardened line on the question of on-site inspections and to get down to serious negotiations.

Asked if anything had happened at the three-hour session, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said, "Nothing."

Court Junks Featherbeds Of Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously upheld today a lower court ruling that the nation's railroads have the right to make sweeping work rules changes.

The Supreme Court in an unsigned opinion rejected a union protest against plans by the carriers to eliminate what management calls "featherbedding" work practices.

Five operating unions, representing about 210,000 men who man the trains of 195 railroads, had asked the court to overturn a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago.

The Circuit Court had ruled in favor of the railroads and their

Two Peace Corps Volunteers Die In Plane Crash

MANILA (UPI)—The bodies of two American Peace Corps volunteers killed in a plane crash that took 27 lives were brought down from a remote jungle-covered ridge today.

The Peace Corps members were identified as Nancy Ann Boyd, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Boyd of Martinez, Calif.; and Phillip Walter Maggard, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maggard of Buffalo, Wyo.

Investigators said the plane, a Philippine Airlines DC3, probably crashed because of bad weather. It ripped into a ridge Saturday near Davao, about 450 miles south of Manila. There were no survivors.

A U.S. Air Force mortuary team from Clark Air Force Base went to Davao today to take the bodies to Clark Field near Manila for transfer to the United States.

John Cort, head of the Peace Corps office in Manila, said Miss Boyd and Maggard were going from Zamboanga City to Davao after attending a conference. Both cities are on Mindanao, the southernmost main island of the Philippines.

Both had arrived in the Philippines last Sept. 12 and were working as elementary school teachers in small Philippine villages on Mindanao.

Cort said Miss Boyd was one of the youngest members of the corps. Unlike most volunteers, she was not a college graduate, although she had attended the University of California at Santa Barbara.

"Maggard was highly popular," Cort said. "He had just finished teaching many of the people artificial respiration because there had been so many drownings."

A total of 625 Peace Corps members are working in the Philippines.

The crash brought to seven the number of Americans killed in the Philippines over the weekend. Five American servicemen died Saturday when their helicopter crashed on Zambales Mountain, 50 miles northwest of Manila.

Asian Nations Show Criticism Of U.S. Policies

Notes from the foreign news cables:

Influencing people:

U. S. friends and allies in Asia do not make a hobby of criticizing Uncle Sam but for various reasons many of them are unhappy. The Philippines is unhappy over recent U. S. support for the projected Malaysia Federation which would include North Borneo, to which the Philippines lays claim.

Thailand's foreign minister has said that the Mansfield committee which recommended a gradual reduction in U. Balloon Probe Confirms Water Vapor on Mars

By PRESTON MCGRAW

PALESTINE, Tex. (UPI)—The Stratoscope II space balloon probe of Mars confirmed the presence of water vapor and carbon dioxide on the planet, scientists reported today. But they could not tell whether there was enough to support any form of life.

During last Friday night's flight of the giant unmanned balloon with an instrument package and a 36-inch telescope, scientists got five "scans" of Mars.

They could not get more views of the red planet because of its position in the sky and the trajectory of the balloon as it sailed from Palestine to land at a point near Pulaski, Tenn.

A preliminary survey issued in advance of a news conference at the balloon launch center in Palestine said the experiment was "highly encouraging" and gave astronomers "useful data" in their search to discover the secrets of the closest planet to earth.

"Infra-red tracings were made by the balloon as it sailed on the fringe of space to altitudes of 77,000 feet. Some of the water vapor and carbon dioxide recorded on instruments would be attributed to earthly origin, the summary said.

The balloon rose to an altitude beyond 96 per cent of earth's atmosphere, and scientists must perform extensive research before they can determine how much water vapor and carbon dioxide can be attributed to Mars itself.

Scientists already know, the summary said, that "because of

Storm Dumps Heavy Snow In Colorado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A heavy snowstorm, packed with gusty northerly winds, swept across the southern Rockies into the central Plains today and headed into wide areas of the Midwest.

The early March storm dumped heavy snow in Colorado, Wyoming and parts of Nebraska, with amounts up to a foot in some sections. The snow spread into central Arizona and New Mexico northward through southern Utah.

Winds of 30 to 45 m.p.h. whipped the snow from northeastern Colorado northeastward across northern and central Nebraska and into southeast South Dakota and extreme northwest Iowa. There was much drifting and the blowing snow created hazardous driving conditions. No severe cold was reported.

Lighter amounts of snow were reported in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Heavy snow warnings were issued for areas from central and extreme northeast Nebraska, extreme northern Iowa northward into eastern South Dakota and southern Minnesota.

Thunderstorms broke out in the mild air in southern and central Illinois while rain fell in northern areas and in parts of Iowa, North central Kansas and eastern Missouri.

Fog and drizzle shrouded areas in southeast Texas eastward into coastal sections of Louisiana.

Coldest weather was along norther areas in the Midwest and in northern New England. One of the lowest readings was four below zero in Grand Forks, N.D. It was near zero in Holton, Maine.

Six Children Burn to Death; Candles Blamed

LIMA, Ohio (AP) —The Esau Robinson family, with six children, moved into new quarters here Saturday afternoon. A few hours later, the house was afire and the children were dead.

The Robinsons lit candles for night-time illumination.

The mother, Beatrice Robinson, put the children—the youngest age 1, the eldest 7—to sleep in one bedroom. Then she visited a neighbor.

Her husband went out to another neighbor. He was father of two of the youngsters, stepfather to the other four.

Mrs. Robinson, away for about an hour, came back for her second look-in at her children. The house was filled with smoke and ablaze.

Romney Repeats He Will Not Seek 1964 Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said today he is not going to become a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

He made the statement to reporters before presenting, as head of a Michigan delegation, Detroit's bid for the 1964 Republican National Convention to the Republican Site Committee.

"I said before the 1962 election I would not be a candidate for the presidential election in 1964 but would concentrate on Michigan's problems," Romney said.

"I have repeated that here this morning."

Romney was the first Republican governor elected in Michigan in 14 years. Asked if he would accept a draft for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, Romney replied: "That is presumptious. That just does not happen. I am not going to become a candidate."

Asked if his thinking might go beyond 1964 to 1968, Romney said, "I indicated that I got into this because of my concern about Michigan's problems. I am concentrating on that. There is an opportunity in Michigan to do a lot of great significance."

Nameplate From Missing Tanker May Be Found

MIAMI (UPI)—Coast Guard officials examined a charred board today that appeared to be the nameplate from the missing tanker Marine Sulphur Queen.

A Miami boat manufacturer, John Allmand, found the 10-foot board floating in the surf Sunday about 200 yards off a Key Biscayne beach.

The letters "ARINE SULPH" were inscribed on the black board in large white letters.

Allmand said the nameplate appeared to have been torn into several pieces by an explosion. He said a metal strap on the board had been twisted and several bolts in the strap had been sheared in half.

"It must have been quite a blast to twist metal like that," he said. "The sign was partially charred and was covered with burned oil. It really smelled bad."

The 523-foot tanker, missing with its crew of 39 since Feb. 3, was carrying a cargo of molten sulphur. Coast Guard officials said if the hot sulphur had been exposed to water, it could have caused a tremendous explosion.

Post Presses Roll; Strike Talks Go on

A resounding cheer went up in the press room of the Post as pressman Robert Lawton pushed the button that started one of three presses rolling for the first time in 87 days.

"Well, I'm glad we're back to work," said press room foreman Edward Peterson, who has served 18 years on the newspaper, just before he ordered Lawton to push the button.

The Post resumed publication amid reports of progress in negotiations to get the other eight major dailies back on the streets.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner reported that both sides had substantially narrowed their differences on two important issues following a six-hour session that ended early today.

Local 6 of the International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO, struck four of the dailies last Dec. 8, and the other five, including the Post, shut down.

Negotiations in a 95-day five-union strike against Cleveland's two dailies also continued today.

Wagner, hoping to end New York's strike early this week, told the disputants he wanted to see the pace accelerated in today's discussions, which cover "two or

'Personalities' Change in Peru Ruling Junta

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Gen. Nicolas Lindley Lopez, new chief of Peru's military junta, says the bloodless ouster of Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy will not affect holding of democratic elections scheduled for June 9.

The civilian winner elected then is to replace the military bosses.

Lindley, a one-time commando instructor in the U.S. Army, joined two other members of the four-man junta to force out Perez Godoy over the weekend.

The six million people of this nation on South America's Pacific coast took the change in the junta calmly. Lindley said it was a matter only of personalities within the junta.

Lindley, a quiet, forceful man of 54, charged that his predecessor tried to make himself a dictator.

"We did not overthrow the government last July to enthrone Perez Godoy as dictator," he declared.

The new leader is considered a strong anti-Communist and a good friend of the United States. He studied at the Command and General Staff School in Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., in 1946-47 and was a commando instructor there. Twice since he has visited U.S. military installations.

The junta seized power last July 18, charging that President Manual Prado had permitted fraud in the elections to name his successor. Critics charged the junta trumped up the charges to prevent election of Victor Haya de la Torre, anti-Communist candidate of the leftist APRA party.

Lindley was the junta's war minister. He and the other junta members reportedly accused Perez Godoy of acting independently of the junta's collective leadership. There was no indication that a new fourth man will be named to the junta.

Earth Tremors in Six States Said 'Good Thing'

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Earth tremors shook parts of six states Sunday and they were a good thing, says a geologist.

"These smaller tremors are actually desirable because they are indications that stresses in the earth's crust are being relieved; whereas if we had a long period with no perceptible shocks there might be danger of a severe quake," said Norman F. Williams, executive director of the Arkansas Geological and Conservation Commission at Little Rock.

They might be desirable, but they were startling to worshippers at the Christian Church in Dexter, 20 miles west of Sikeston, where plaster on the walls cracked before their eyes.

A church in Sikeston was shaken just after the minister spoke about the destruction a Soviet nuclear bomb could cause.

Some merchandise was jarred off store shelves in Dexter and Sikeston. There were no injuries.

Centered over the New Madrid fault in this southeast Missouri area, the tremors were felt across Missouri and in parts of Kansas, Arkansas, Tennesee, Kentucky and Illinois.

One of the heaviest earthquakes in American history started over the New Madrid fault Dec. 16, 1811. Tremors continued intermittently for five years. "The great shake" changed the course of the Mississippi River and created Reelfoot Lake in Tennessee.

Dr. James Peoples at the University of Kansas said Sunday's shake was the strongest in recent years.

Minister, Two Daughters Feared Dead in Avalanche

DIGGING FOR AVALANCHE VICTIMS—Men armed with shovels and long steel rods dig into masses of snow for some trace of three persons feared killed in a snowslide Sunday on Red Mountain Pass. (AP Wirephoto)

OURAY, Colo. (AP)—An avalanche of snow, slithering downhill at racing car speed, swept over a high mountain road Sunday, burying a Congregational minister, his two daughters and their car.

Rescuers, endangered by other slides, searched the snowy mass in a canyon alongside U.S. 550 on Red Mountain Pass for the Rev. Marvin Hudson, 39, and daughters, Amelia, 17, and Pauline, 12.

"I don't feel there's any chance they're alive," said Sheriff Albert Brown. "I've been in snowslides. The concussion is terrific. It could have knocked them unconscious. There's also a tremendous amount of mist. It's almost impossible to breath in it."

A snowplow operator, Leo H. James, said he saw the slide whisk down East Riverside Gulch and over the minister as he crouched by his stuck car, apparently putting on tire chains. The girls were inside the car.

"The slide came down and took the car right off the road," said James, who had stopped his machine because 50-mile an hour winds whipped up ground blizzards that hampered his vision.

"The car went around me and got stuck there and about that time the snowslide ran," he said.

The avalanche clogged the road on the 11,018-foot pass for more than 500 feet with snow 18 feet deep. It apparently carried the victims over a 70-foot, sheer wall to a creek bed below. The snow is 30 feet or more deep in the canyon, searchers said.

Hudson was on the way from his ranch home five miles south of Ouray to Silverton to conduct Sunday services.

Mrs. Hudson and the couple's other three children remained at home when the minister started his ill-fated trip.

The slide struck about 13 months after an avalanche near Twin Lakes in which seven persons perished. They died beneath a mighty wall of snow rumbling down the slopes of Mt. Elbert, Colorado's loftiest peak.

As many as 17 persons have been killed in one day in Colorado snowslides.

Court Junks Featherbeds Of Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously upheld today a lower court ruling that the nation's railroads have the right to make sweeping work rules changes.

The Supreme Court in an unsigned opinion rejected a union protest against plans by the carriers to eliminate what management calls "featherbedding" work practices.

Five operating unions, representing about 210,000 men who man the trains of 195 railroads, had asked the court to overturn a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago.

The Circuit Court had ruled in favor of the railroads and their

Two Peace Corps Volunteers Die In Plane Crash

MANILA (UPI)—The bodies of two American Peace Corps volunteers killed in a plane crash that took 27 lives were brought down from a remote jungle-covered ridge today.

The Peace Corps members were identified as Nancy Ann Boyd, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Boyd of Martinez, Calif.; and Phillip Walter Maggard, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maggard of Buffalo, Wyo.

Investigators said the plane, a Philippine Airlines DC3, probably crashed because of bad weather. It ripped into a ridge Saturday near Davao, about 450 miles south of Manila. There were no survivors.

A U.S. Air Force mortuary team from Clark Air Force Base went to Davao today to take the bodies to Clark Field near Manila for transfer to the United States.

John Cort, head of the Peace Corps office in Manila, said Miss Boyd and Maggard were going from Zamboanga City to Davao after attending a conference. Both cities are on Mindanao, the southernmost main island of the Philippines.

Both had arrived in the Philippines last Sept. 12 and were working as elementary school teachers in small Philippine villages on Mindanao.

Cort said Miss Boyd was one of the youngest members of the corps. Unlike most volunteers, she was not a college graduate, although she had attended the University of California at Santa Barbara.

"Maggard was highly popular," Cort said. "He had just finished teaching many of the people artificial respiration because there had been so many drownings."

A total of 625 Peace Corps members are working in the Philippines.

The crash brought to seven the number of Americans killed in the Philippines over the weekend. Five American servicemen died Saturday when their helicopter crashed on Zambales Mountain, 50 miles northwest of Manila.

Bus Disaster

NEW YORK (AP) — A Bus plunged into the East River today and the Fire Department reported four bodies from the vehicle had been recovered from it or from the water.

The accident was near Welfare Island.

Striking Miners Defy De Gaulle Order to Work

MERLEBACH, France (AP)—Striking coal miners of eastern France's Lorraine region defied President Charles de Gaulle's draft orders today and refused to work.

Riot police were on duty to guard against violence.

Mine officials said at mid-morning that more than 96 per cent of the miners in the Lorraine basin were continuing their strike beyond the government deadline.

De Gaulle signed an order drafting the striking miners Saturday. Union leaders in the Lorraine basin retaliated by issuing handbills telling miners to set up picket lines and stay away from their jobs. French coal mines are government-owned.

The presidential decree meant that any miner who failed to show up at the pits could be fined or sent to jail.

W. C. Williams, Noted American Poet, Dies at 79

RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP)—Dr. William Carlos Williams, a leading American poet for four decades, died of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home here today. He was 79.

Dr. Williams, perhaps best known for his long poem "Paterson," lived in Rutherford all his life and combined a literary and medical career.

Although the early efforts were considered imitative, the poet-physician in time developed a strong personal style brought to fruition in "Paterson."

Dr. Williams was a physician here from 1910 to 1950. He was forced to retire because of illness. He specialized in pediatrics.

He had about 40 books of poetry published and several prose works as well, including a collection of short stories and four novels.

Protection of Underground Water Supplies Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal water pollution consultant urged today a drive to protect underground supplies, saying that all surface water would be destroyed by any atomic attack.

Jack C. Toole of Shelby, Mont., consultant with the Water Pollution Control Advisory Board, said in a report that the United States would have to depend on underground water if surface supplies were contaminated by radioactive fallout.

"Little has been done," he said in a report to the board, "to carry out an effective sampling and testing program for underground waters either on a state, local or national level.

"Lack of research and legislation regulating private sewage disposal plants has allowed waste to be emptied on or near underground water supplies in vast quantities. Other factors are contributing to this pollution situation."

Toole made these nine recommendations "as a step toward safeguarding the health of millions of Americans who must depend upon private wells for their water supplies:"

Widows of Bay Of Pigs Action Get Allotments

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Two Birmingham widows confirmed Sunday they have been receiving $225 checks every two weeks since their husbands disappeared during the Bay of Pigs invasion.

Mrs. Wade C. Gray told United Press International the checks were drawn on the Bankers Trust Co. of New York but that she did not know who the sender was.

Mrs. Riley W. Shamburger Jr. said she could identify the sender of the checks but declined to do so.

The Nashville Tennesseean said in a news story Sunday the checks were being received by two other Birmingham area widows of the invasion—Mrs. Thomas Willard Ray and Mrs. Lee F. Baker. Mrs. Ray could not be contacted and Mrs. Baker now lives in California.

In another development, a Birmingham newsman who flew in support of the invasion said 18 Americans accepted "personal invitations" to take part in the attack.

Albert C. Persons, managing editor of a weekly newspaper here, said he was recruited with 17 others in January 1961.

"We believed then, and believe now, that the men who engaged us were representatives of the United States government," Persons said.

14 Inches New Snow Falls On Watershed

Fourteen inches of new snow fell during the weekend on the city's watershed on the South Slope of Pikes Peak, according to Art Abbey, caretaker.

He said the 14 inches of snow contained about .75 of an inch of moisture. It was still snowing lightly at the 11,000-foot Seven Lakes early this morning. The low temperature Sunday night was 2 degrees below zero.

The Northfield watershed received seven inches of snow since last Friday, the moisture content of which was .43 of an inch.

So far this past fall and winter, Abbey said, there has been a snowfall of about 71 inches, which is about two thirds of what it was last winter.

Children Play While Mom Lies Dead in House

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — "My mother has been sick. I don't know how many days it's been since she talked to us," the boy said.

George Haefeker, 6, didn't know his mother had been dead for six or seven days, nor did he realize that his father had been too ill with pneumonia to do anything.

So George and his brother, Billy, 5, spent the days playing, and eating from the plentiful food supply when they got hungry.

Saturday night the father, Sgt. Henry F. Haefeker of Forbes Air Force Base, telephoned the sheriff's office and mumbled an appeal.

"Everybody in the house is dead," Haefeker said, his voice fading.

Officers traced the call to the isolated five-room house south of here.

Haefeker, partly clothed and dazed, was sitting in the living room. The body of Alice Haefeker, 37, was covered with blankets and

Russians Not Budged in Atom Test Ban Talks

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western powers today apparently failed to budge the Soviet Union from its rigid position on the nuclear test ban issue in an informal closed door debate at the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Sources said U. S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle pressed the Soviets to depart from their hardened line on the question of on-site inspections and to get down to serious negotiations.

Asked if anything had happened at the three-hour session, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said: "Nothing."

Asian Nations Show Criticism Of U.S. Policies

Notes from the foreign news cables:

Influencing people:

U. S. friends and allies in Asia do not make a hobby of criticizing Uncle Sam but for various reasons many of them are unhappy. The Philippines is unhappy over recent U. S. support for the projected Malaysia Federation which would include North Borneo, to which the Philippines lays claim.

Thailand's foreign minister has said that the Mansfield committee which recommended a gradual reduction in U. S. aid to Southeast Asia, did not spend enough time in the area to get a real grasp of the problems. South Vietnam is yet to react officially to the Mansfield report criticizing its regime—but Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu, President Diem's influential sister-in-law said "cer-

Balloon Probe Confirms Water Vapor on Mars

By PRESTON MCGRAW

PALESTINE, Tex. (UPI)—The Stratoscope II space balloon probe of Mars confirmed the presence of water vapor and carbon dioxide on the planet, scientists reported today. But they could not tell whether there was enough to support any form of life.

During last Friday night's flight of the giant unmanned balloon with an instrument package and a 36-inch telescope, scientists got five "scans" of Mars.

They could not get more views of the red planet because of its position in the sky and the trajectory of the balloon as it sailed from Palestine to land at a point near Pulaski, Tenn.

A preliminary survey issued in advance of a news conference at the balloon launch center in Palestine said the experiment was "highly encouraging" and gave astronomers "useful data" in their search to discover the secrets of the closest planet to earth.

"Infra-red tracings were made by the balloon as it sailed on the fringe of space to altitudes of 77,000 feet. Some of the water vapor and carbon dioxide recorded on instruments would be attributed to earthly origin, the summary said.

The balloon rose to an altitude beyond 96 per cent of earth's atmosphere, and scientists must perform extensive research before they can determine how much water vapor and carbon dioxide can be attributed to Mars itself.

Scientists already know, the summary said, that "because of

Mongolia Cuts Airline to Peking

MOSCOW (AP)—Mongolia discontinued its airline to Peking about two months ago, Gabriel Reiner, New York travel agent, reported Sunday.

Reiner recently returned from the Mongolian capital of Ulan Bator where he arranged for touring parties to visit the country, famed for its Gobi Desert and as the home of Genghis Khan.

Mongolia has been steadily slanting its politics in the direction of the Soviet Union and away from Peking.

Reporter Claims Increase In Soviet Consumer Goods

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Joseph Stalin died here 10 years ago, an event that brought a revolution in the lives of 220 million people.

A decade after the demise of the old dictator, great changes have taken place in this vast land, covering one-sixth of the earth's surface.

First and foremost, the unspeakable sufferings of people in every section of Soviet life—at the hands of the dreaded secret police—have been relieved. Stalin's successors, more especially Premier Khrushchev, have choked off the near absolute power of the Red cops.

There has been a remarkable upswing in the standard of living. By Western standards, many things are extremely costly, but that is not the point.

The point is that 10 years ago they just couldn't be bought.

In the early days of the first Soviet Sputniks, an unusually naive Western diplomat said to a woman member of the ruling heirarchy: "Yes, you can make Sputniks, but you can't make refrigerators or nylon panties."

The woman replied: "True, Mr. Ambassador, but I think it's going to be a lot easier to go from Sputniks to nylon panties than it will be to go from nylon panties to sputniks."

Today in Moscow, you can buy all the frilly nylon panties you want at prices ranging from $2.75 to $16.50 for a super pair of panties and a matching slip.

As for refrigerators: Ten years ago they were almost as rare as Kentucky bourbon in the Kremlin and those that existed refused to work in hot weather. Still not easy to get, there are, nevertheless, plenty of them in Soviet apartments.

Returning here for the first time in 10 years, my wife and I went to an apartment we knew very well. It was a two-room flat with a communal kitchen and bathroom. A decade ago it was occupied by four adults.

Today one person occupies the apartment and as she went about preparing our dinner she said to my wife: "Will you please go in the kitchen, look in the refrigerator and get out the caviar?"

Ten years ago these things would have existed only in this woman's wildest dreams.

Housing still is desperately short of the clamoring demand. The government admits it. House-building is going forward at a great pace. It began on a big scale in 1956. What seems to be an overly ambitious goal is that everyone shall have a private room or apartment by 1965.

Ten years ago I'd seen toilet tissue in the Kremlin—but nowhere else. Today it's on sale from Leningrad to Rostov-on-Don at the equivalent of 25 cents a roll.

Here are some current Moscow prices:

One lemon — (best grade) 35 cents, (second grade) 28 cents.

Man's shirt—$6.75 to $12.

Man's suit—$77 to $141. A Communist party official proudly said his cost the equivalent of $44. But a long search of Moscow stores failed to reveal any at that price.

Good grade overcoat—$265.

Socks—$2.75.

Toothpaste—33 cents for a small tube.

Toothbrush (small)—11 cents.

Mens shoes—from $28 to $46.

The waiter on my hotel floor disappeared for two hours one morning. I asked him where he had been.

"I heard some new shoes, made in Czechoslovakia, were on sale at a store not far from here. I went and got in line."

"Did you get a pair?"

"No," he said, "my basic salary is 48 rubles (about $53) a month. The shoes cost 46 rubles. But that wasn't the point. By the time I got to the counter only big sizes were left."

I asked him how he could afford shoes on his salary.

"I get good tips. My wife works and I don't pay much rent."

This is one of the secrets behind Soviet family budgets.

With 99 per cent of the apartments nationalized, a two-room apartment often rents for as little as $7 a month.

Food prices are high, too.

Butter—$1.80 a pound.

Steak with bone included—$2.20 a pound.

Ham—$1.87 a pound.

Cheese—$1.85 a pound.

Bread—15 cents for a good-sized tasty loaf.

Potatoes—19 cents a pound.

Yet I saw long lines of buyers and I watched one man buy 30 lemons at the equivalent of 35 cents each.

Most of these items are high by Western standards, but the point is that 10 years ago they were as much as 5 to 10 times as high—when they were available at all.

This does not mean that were Stalin alive today, these items at the current prices would not be available. They probably would be availale. But millions of people now buying them wouldn't be consumers. They'd be inmates of prison camps.

In October 1961, the 22nd congress of the Communist party banished Stalin's body from his resting place beside Lenin in the big red marbled tomb in old Red Square.

Today, Stalin's body lies behind Lenin's tomb, near the Kremlin wall, beneath a plain stone slab that says: "J. Stalin 1879-1953."

The fact that the body hasn't been banished completely, or his corpse burned and the ashes scattered across some frigid lonely steppe, result from recent Soviet reasoning that in his early days—before he became a suspicious megalomaniac—he did service to the party and country.

Khrushchev has said: "Stalin, of course, must be credited with great services to the party and the Communist movement, and we must give him his due."

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—Prof. Gunnar Wilberg, a surgeon at Lund University's Orthopaedic Clinic, said Sunday he had made a 6-foot, 1-inch school girl two inches shorter.

Wilberg said he removed segments from the 18-year-old girl's thigh bones and added she would be completely fit within six months.

Most Letters to Congress Say Taxes Are Too High

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Puritan ethic seems likely to suffer a defeat in this year 1963. The betting on Capitol Hill is that the American people will have to take a tax cut, whether or not they regard it as sinful.

Many of them do so regard it, at a time when the government is using red ink by the bucketful. This is shown by a vox pop survey—a rather extensive peek at letters received by congress members and other officials.

Most of the letters — whether impeccably typed, handwritten on yellow ruled paper or scrawled on postcards—say taxes are too high and need cutting.

However, many of them contain large "buts": Spending should be slashed to offset the revenue loss; reforms that discourage thrift, enterprise, home ownership and charity should be avoided.

In vain, the White House and Treasury say that the reforms President Kennedy has proposed would do no such thing; that nearly everybody would get a tax reduction. There is a deep-seated suspicion on the part of many that once the government begins tampering with their deductions, they will eventually wind up worse off.

This dread, as evidenced in the correspondence, may be a prime reason why Kennedy seems in a compromising mood. Originally, he asked for reductions of $13.6 billion for individuals and corporations, to take effect over three years. Offsetting this in part would be reforms raising an estimated $3.4 billion in revenue.

Lately Kennedy has given first priority to tax cuts, hinting that if need be, reforms could wait for another year. This improved the prospect for a tax cut, even though formidable barriers remain.

Among them are Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., Senate Finance Committee chairman who loathes red ink; and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. They think reforms should accompany tax cuts.

The introduction of the phrase "Puritan ethic" in the great tax discussion did the Kennedy cause no good. Needled by a Congresslady, Walter W. Heller, Kennedy's chief economic adviser, said it was remarkable that the "basic Puritan ethic" prompted the American people to balk at a tax cut in times of big deficits. Heller, though indicating that he admired this ethic, hinted that some economic education was in order; people should understand that more spending money in their pockets would produce a stronger economy and future surpluses.

An example of a letter to Sen. Byrd:

"Who is this Mr. Heller, who thinks the more one spends the richer they are? All the so-called tax reforms are going to do is discourage thrift."

Another letter to the same Senator opposed tax cuts lest "we have a wild stampede like the great Romans had before they hit the bottom, sinking in the swamps of greed and self contentment."

Another: "My household (family of five) would collapse in short order if run by the financial precepts of the federal government."

Sen. Byrd's tax mail is running 200-300 letters a day and so far just six back the Kennedy reduction-reform package.

The scarcity of pro-Kennedy letters in Byrd's files could be discounted by two factors: (1) People enraged by government policy are more likely to write than satisfied citizens; (2) No letter writer could hope to budge Byrd from his pay-as-you-go philosophy.

But the same unease over spending crops up in letters to other legislators. Here's one from a businessman to a Senator who backs the Kennedy program: "The pseudo tax cut, with suggested reforms, would only be further inflationary."

This senator has received many like this, plus some on the other side. For instance, a college freshman writes that he used to be a Republican, but has taken an economics course and is now a "newly emerging liberal." He finds the anti - administration arguments "contrary to economic law."

Many who write appear motivated by their own economic circumstances. Businessmen tend to stress encouragement to free enterprise; spinsters say taxes hit single people unfairly; married folk ask consideration for the needs of the kiddies.

On the house side of the Capitol too, the mail is heavy with anxiety. One letter asks whether the Kennedy program is "the work of the Harvard braintrusters, who are long on theory and short on practice." Another says the writer will "vote for no more politicians who spend more than they have."

It is not all one-sided, however, as shown by this letter to a house member: "Everyone I know seems to be in favor of a tax cut (no matter how small) and all would be more than willing to put the extra money into circulation to boost the economy."

So far there is little evidence of the kind of high-powered, organized letter writing campaign such as helped beat the Kennedy proposal for tax withholding on dividends last year.

But there is a steady, mounting flow of mail, including about 2,000 to President Kennedy. White House aides insist many of these endorse the Kennedy program. Many of them are known, however, to contain criticism similar to the hot blasts in the Congressional mail.

Olive Oil Is Used In Place of Corks

UGLJAN, Yugoslavia (AP) — Corks are too expensive for the wine producers on this Adriatic island, but that hasn't stopped them from finding a way to stop up their bottles.

They pour a few drops of olive oil atop the bottled wine. It floats on top and keeps air from spoiling the wine. All a customer has to do is slowly pour water into the bottle until, brim full, the oil spills over and leaves the wine pure and ready to drink.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND?

HYDE VAD, Denmark (AP) — Hunter Frede Iversen shot a duck. The duck fell into a ditch, and Iversen waded in when his retriever refused to take the plunge. Prancing with excitement on the bank, the dog trod on the trigger of Iversen's gun firing a barrel of buckshot into the hunter's leg. Iversen was taken to the hospital, minus duck, plus dog.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Mongolia Cuts Airline to Peking

MOSCOW (AP)—Mongolia discontinued its airline to Peking about two months ago, Gabriel Reiner, New York travel agent, reported Sunday.

Reiner recently returned from the Mongolian capital of Ulan Bator where he arranged for touring parties to visit the country, famed for its Gobi Desert and as the home of Genghis Khan.

Mongolia has been steadily slanting its politics in the direction of the Soviet Union and away from Peking.

Penrose News

By PEGGY SANDEFUR

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ettleman are the parents of their first child, a boy, born Feb. 23 at St. Thomas More Hospital. Jack Dean Jr. weighed 7 lbs., 6 oz.

A group of 12 women met at the home of Mrs. Charlie Wanns to organize a pinochle club. Those present included Regina Archer, Norma Carrithers, Carolyn Chockley, Jackie Earley, Anna Mae Hambric, Harriet Hinkle, Rose Little, Georgia Oxnam, Verna McCallister, Shirley Ratkovich, and Jackie Wanns. The next meeting will be held at the home of Norma Carrithers March 28.

A pink and blue shower was given in honor of Mrs. Ileta Fields at the Cecil Sandefur home Feb. 22 with Mrs. Dale Little and Mrs. Fred Sandefur as hostesses. Decorations consisted of a large stork holding a baby in its bill and nut cups of miniature diapers. Appropriate games were played after which Mrs. Fields opened the gifts. Refreshments were served buffet style to 27 women and five children.

The eight members of the Gun Safety club met at the home of Albert Molello on Sunday afternoon for target practice. Game Warden Presten Steele and Mrs. Ethyl Lindley are the leaders. The members will be taught the uses, misuses and safety of firearms. This is something new in 4-H projects for Penrose.

The Penrose Home Demonstration Club will meet Wednesday, at the Grange hall with Mrs. Agnes Earley and Mrs. Jackie Earley as hostesses. The pot luck will feature Mexican food as the main dish. Members are asked to bring either a salad or a dessert. Roll call will be answered with household hints.

The new drapes which the PTA purchased are now hanging in the hot lunch room.

The Junior high boys are enjoying their basketball suits which the PTA purchased. The boys are doing quite well this year and are tied with Buena Vista for first place. The playoff will be held at Cotopaxi.

The PTA held its regular meeting at the school Feb. 21 with the first grade, taught by Miss Ada Weichhand, serving refreshments after the meeting. The first grade also won the room count. A representative from the Pueblo YMCA gave a talk and showed some slides of the Pueblo summer camp for the boys and girls near the San Isabel area.

Kirkwood Memorial United Presbyterian Church's Union service last Sunday evening was well attended.

Beaver Park Friend Church Youth night and prayer meeting will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

On Feb. 21, the young people's choir of the Florence Nazarene Church sang special numbers. On Friday evening the choir from the Friends church of Penrose provided the special music.

Mrs. Clyde Williams is confined to St. Mary Corwin hospital. She underwent surgery on Monday morning.

Danny Hinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hinkle, is also a patient at St. Mary Corwin.

Tom Minson was re-admitted to St. Joseph Hospital on Saturday.

Jim Hambric is back on the job after a knee operation a couple of weeks ago.

Gary Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens, returned home on Tuesday, after a bout with bronchial pneumonia. He was at St. Joseph Hospital.

Reporter Claims Increase In Soviet Consumer Goods

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Joseph Stalin died here 10 years ago, an event that brought a revolution in the lives of 220 million people.

A decade after the demise of the old dictator, great changes have taken place in this vast land, covering one-sixth of the earth's surface.

First and foremost, the unspeakable sufferings of people in every section of Soviet life—at the hands of the dreaded secret police—have been relieved. Stalin's successors, more especially Premier Khrushchev, have choked off the near absolute power of the Red cops.

There has been a remarkable upswing in the standard of living. By Western standards, many things are extremely costly, but that is not the point.

The point is that 10 years ago they just couldn't be bought.

In the early days of the first Soviet Sputniks, an unusually naive Western diplomat said to a woman member of the ruling heirarchy: "Yes, you can make Sputniks, but you can't make refrigerators or nylon panties."

The woman replied: "True, Mr. Ambassador, but I think it's going to be a lot easier to go from Sputniks to nylon panties than it will be to go from nylon panties to sputniks."

Today in Moscow, you can buy all the frilly nylon panties you want at prices ranging from $2.75 to $16.50 for a super pair of panties and a matching slip.

As for refrigerators: Ten years ago they were almost as rare as Kentucky bourbon in the Kremlin and those that existed refused to work in hot weather. Still not easy to get, there are, nevertheless, plenty of them in Soviet apartments.

Returning here for the first time in 10 years, my wife and I went to an apartment we knew very well. It was a two-room flat with a communal kitchen and bathroom. A decade ago it was occupied by four adults.

Today one person occupies the apartment and as she went about preparing our dinner she said to my wife: "Will you please go in the kitchen, look in the refrigerator and get out the caviar?"

Ten years ago these things would have existed only in this woman's wildest dreams.

Housing still is desperately short of the clamoring demand. The government admits it. House-building is going forward at a great pace. It began on a big scale in 1956. What seems to be an overly ambitious goal is that everyone shall have a private room or apartment by 1965.

Ten years ago I'd seen toilet tissue in the Kremlin—but nowhere else. Today it's on sale from Leningrad to Rostov-on-Don at the equivalent of 25 cents a roll.

Here are some current Moscow prices:

One lemon — (best grade) 35 cents, (second grade) 28 cents.

Man's shirt—$6.75 to $12.

Man's suit—$77 to $141. A Communist party official proudly said his cost the equivalent of $44. But a long search of Moscow stores failed to reveal any at that price.

Good grade overcoat—$265.

Socks—$2.75.

Toothpaste—33 cents for a small tube.

Toothbrush (small)—11 cents.

Mens shoes—from $28 to $46.

The waiter on my hotel floor disappeared for two hours one morning. I asked him where he had been.

"I heard some new shoes, made in Czechoslovakia, were on sale at a store not far from here. I went and got in line."

"Did you get a pair?"

"No," he said, "my basic salary is 48 rubles (about $53) a month. The shoes cost 46 rubles. But that wasn't the point. By the time I got to the counter only big sizes were left."

I asked him how he could afford shoes on his salary.

"I get good tips. My wife works and I don't pay much rent."

This is one of the secrets behind Soviet family budgets.

With 99 per cent of the apartments nationalized, a two-room apartment often rents for as little as $7 a month.

Food prices are high, too.

Butter—$1.80 a pound.

Steak with bone included—$2.20 a pound.

Ham—$1.87 a pound.

Cheese—$1.85 a pound.

Bread—15 cents for a good-sized tasty loaf.

Potatoes—19 cents a pound.

Yet I saw long lines of buyers and I watched one man buy 30 lemons at the equivalent of 35 cents each.

Most of these items are high by Western standards, but the point is that 10 years ago they were as much as 5 to 10 times as high—when they were available at all.

This does not mean that were Stalin alive today, these items at the current prices would not be available. They probably would be availale. But millions of people now buying them wouldn't be consumers. They'd be inmates of prison camps.

Another letter to the same Senator opposed tax cuts lest "we have a wild stampede like the great Romans had before they hit the bottom, sinking in the swamps of greed and self contentment."

Another: "My household (family of five) would collapse in short order if run by the financial precepts of the federal government."

Sen. Byrd's tax mail is running 200-300 letters a day and so far just six back the Kennedy reduction-reform package.

The scarcity of pro-Kennedy letters in Byrd's files could be discounted by two factors: (1) People enraged by government policy are more likely to write than satisfied citizens; (2) No letter writer could hope to budge Byrd from his pay-as-you-go philosophy.

But the same unease over spending crops up in letters to other legislators. Here's one from a businessman to a Senator who backs the Kennedy program: "The pseudo tax cut, with suggested reforms, would only be further inflationary."

This senator has received many like this, plus some on the other side. For instance, a college freshman writes that he used to be a Republican, but has taken an economics course and is now a "newly emerging liberal." He finds the anti-administration arguments "contrary to economic law."

Many who write appear motivated by their own economic circumstances. Businessmen tend to stress encouragement to free enterprise; spinsters say taxes hit single people unfairly; married folk ask consideration for the needs of the kiddies.

On the house side of the Capitol too, the mail is heavy with anxiety. One letter asks whether the Kennedy program is "the work of the Harvard braintrusters, who are long on theory and short on practice." Another says the writer will "vote for no more politicians who spend more than they have."

It is not all one-sided, however, as shown by this letter to a house member: "Everyone I know seems to be in favor of a tax cut (no matter how small) and all would be more than willing to put the extra money into circulation to boost the economy."

So far there is little evidence of the kind of high-powered, organized letter writing campaign such as helped beat the Kennedy proposal for tax withholding on dividends last year.

But there is a steady, mounting flow of mail, including about 2,000 to President Kennedy. White House aides insist many of these endorse the Kennedy program. Many of them are known, however, to contain criticism similar to the hot blasts in the Congressional mail.

Olive Oil Is Used In Place of Corks

UGLJAN, Yugoslavia (AP) — Corks are too expensive for the wine producers on this Adriatic island, but that hasn't stopped them from finding a way to stop up their bottles.

They pour a few drops of olive oil atop the bottled wine. It floats on top and keeps air from spoiling the wine. All a customer has to do is slowly pour water into the bottle until, brim full, the oil spills over and leaves the wine pure and ready to drink.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND?

HYDE VAD, Denmark (AP) — Hunter Frede Iversen shot a duck. The duck fell into a ditch, and Iversen waded in when his retriever refused to take the plunge. Prancing with excitement on the bank, the dog trod on the trigger of Iversen's gun firing a barrel of buckshot into the hunter's leg. Iversen was taken to the hospital, minus duck, plus dog.

Palmer Lake News

By MARIAN McINTYRE McDONOUGH — GR 5-2323

The Ladies Guild of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Monument changed the date of their covered-dish supper to last Saturday evening, instead of Shrove Tuesday as planned. Following supper there was dancing.

Mayor G. F. McReynolds of Monument fell on Monday and fractured a hip. He is at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Ed Hubbard, who has been seriously ill at St. Francis Hospital, is still on the critical list.

Mrs. Gloria Rueth is ill with the mumps, which she caught from her small daughter, Sharon.

Gilbert Krueger, who has been ill for some weeks, has returned to Colorado Springs and is at Memorial Hospital.

The Financial Committee of the Palmer Lake Town Council met with the mayor on Monday evening at the Town Hall to work on the budget for 1963. They expect to finish the project on March 1.

The Palmer Lake Home Demonstration Club held a successful bake sale Feb. 23. About $48 was taken in at the sale.

Lt. Col. Rogers McDonough attended to town business in Denver on Tuesday last. Mrs. McDonough had lunch with members of her bridge club that day at the Cherry Hills Country Club.

The next meeting of the Palmer Lake Home Demonstration Club will be on Thursday, March 7. Luncheon will be at noon, with Mrs. Eston Royse, Mrs. David Gibbs and Mrs. Claribel Williams serving as hostesses. Following lunch there will be a business session and a short talk with slides by a representative of the Colorado Springs Mountain States Telephone Company on their new instalations in the area.

Mrs. Charles Willhite celebrated her 75th birthday on Sunday, Feb. 24. Mrs. Willhite is slowly recovering from a serious automobile accident she was in last fall. She is at the home of her daughter in Colorado Springs.

If you need windows washed, the senior class of Lewis Palmer High School in Monument will accept Saturday appointments for window washing. The fee is $5 for a regular sized house. Call Marrianne Gonser, 475-2338 if you wish window cleaning service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn, of Cherokee, Okla., are spending a few weeks at the Claude Woolford home while they are in New Mexico.

Mrs. Henry Kendrick underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis Wednesday evening at Denver General Hospital.

The Walter Clausings are planning a vacation trip to the west coast in the near future.

Mrs. Carl F. Duffner, who was operated on Feb. 28 at the U.S.A.F. Academy Hospital is recovering satisfactorily.

Church Treasurer Nabbed as Embezzler

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The treasurer of a church in nearby Broughton was arrested Saturday on a charge of embezzling funds from the church.

Officials of Grace Lutheran church said Harold Clemm, in his late 50s, took between $10,000 and $15,000. He was treasurer of the church for five years.

Clemm, a bookkeeper, was held in Allegheny County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Hammer and Sickle Bought in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — An inhabitant of an allegedly imperialistic power on the other side of the Atlantic asked if it was possible to walk into a Moscow hardware store and buy a hammer and sickle.

Well, it is.

It took a visit to three hardware stores to find one which had any farm implements at all but once the right one was found a sickle could be bought for 40 kopecs, equal to 44 cents, and a hammer for 63 kopecs, about 70 cents.

It can only be added that neither one was a great bargain at the price, low as it is.

Prof Must Pay Off For Perfect Mark

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — Prof. Matthew N. Chappell of Hofstra College treated his entire class of 50 to breakfast after Michael Kerschenbaum, 19, scored 100 per cent in a psychology examination.

The professor has had a standing offer since he began teaching in 1927 that he would pick up the tab for the whole class whenever a student made a perfect mark. He previously had to pay off in 1951 and again in 1957.

The Post, an afternoon tabloid, had a circulation last fall of about 336,000, the smallest of the nine dailies.

tain foreigners" see her country as an "experiment" ground.

Japan is irritated at planned U.S. cuts in textile imports coupled with demands that Japan spend more for defense. The Japanese also feels that the U. S. helped undermine the South Korean military junta, thus endangering attempts to put Japanese-South Korean relations on a normal basis. The Japanese feel that U. S. attempts to discourage China trade only make Peking more isolated and belligerent.

No test ban:

Observers in London and Geneva are ready to write off as a total loss the current Geneva nuclear test ban and disarmament conference. The chances of agreement on a test ban treaty, safeguarded even by a minimum of international controls are rated near zero. Khrushchev has said he will make no concessions. The U.S. has said it cannot go below what it considers the safety margin of nationals which at the moment stands at seven on - site inspections.

There have been suggestions that only direct exchanges between Khrushchev and President Kennedy can break the deadlock. But even these would do no good if Khrushchev maintains his present take-it-or-leave-it attitude.

De Gaulle holds line:

President Charles de Gaulle is said to be confident he can hold the line against a new wage-price spiral, head off a major showdown with organized labor and prevent inflation undermining the Gaullist "hard" franc. He hopes to do it by bearing down on food prices and offering regular periodic consultations between the government and labor unions.

Hope for nuclear NATO:

United States officials in Paris are more optimistic about prospects for a multi-national nuclear force inside the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Preliminary soundings by presidential envoy Livingston T. Merchant have indicated substantial support from about one-half of the NATO member states. This, of course, does not include France.

Man Booked In Jail for Investigation

A Ft. Carson man, Kenneth Paul Young, 22, was booked into City Jail early this morning for investigation of possible obscene telephone calls, the sheriff's office reported.

According Deputy Sheriffs Bob Snuggs and Vincent Denboske Young was arrested following complaints by a young woman who said she had received numerous phone calls from an unknown man who made indecent suggestions to her.

She was advised to make an appointment with him which she did. She with a woman friend went to a local hotel where he was contacted and subsequently arrested by police officer Frank Cap and the deputies.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. McCumber of 436 North Cooper Avenue.

VA Does Not Determine GI Loan Amount

The amount of downpayment on a GI home loan, and the repayment period (or maturity) of the home loan, is not determined by the Veterans Administration, a local spokesman for the VA said today.

The repayment period may run as long as 30 years, and the VA does not require any downpayment on the GI home loans it guarantees, he explained. Both of these are matters to be agreed on by the veteran and the lending institution making the loan.

The VA does require that the closing costs be paid in cash at the time of closing the loan, however.

These closing costs include such items as title search, hazard insuance premiums, prepaid taxes, recording fees, and the one-percent fee permitted lenders in lieu of other costs, he explained.

Minor Injuries In Two-Car Mishap Sunday

One man suffered minor injuries Sunday in a two - car accident on U.S. 85-87 about 5½ miles north of Colorado Springs.

Yoshiko Witt, 24, 1215 Houston Ave., received contusions and abrasions of the face when his head struck the windshield of a car in which he was a passenger. Driver of the car was Jerry Vore, 22, Air Force Academy.

State Patrolmen Kenneth W. Shiflet and Carl Drake said the Vore car struck the rear of a car driven by James W. Lilly, 39, Air Force Academy. Damage was estimated at a total of $250.

Driver Charged After Accident

William Otis Fielder, 40, 1205 N. Cascade Avenue, was charged with careless driving and damage to city property following an accident at 11:35 p.m. Saturday on W. Colorado Avenue.

Fielder and his wife, Gaynelle, 35, suffered minor injuries in the accident but declined treatment. Fielder had a cut nose and his wife received a contusion to the eye.

City police said the Fielder car struck a parked car owned by Robert W. Schoessow, 33, 1643 W. Colorado Ave. The parked car, a 1952 model which was declared a total loss, was driven forward 41 feet by the impact.

The Fielder car continued for 21 feet following the collision and struck a steel guard rail on a pedestrian underpass. Damage to the Fielder car was estimated at $750.

the atmospheric conditions, life on the planet would be marginal at best."

If there is enough water vapor, "some very primitive life forms becomes conceivable."

Previous estimates have set the entire water vapor of the planet, half the size of earth, would fill in an area only four cubic miles in size.

Stratoscope II may put a more precise limit on the amount of water vapor present. It already was known that Mars has more Carbon dioxide than earth. Scientists pointed out that while carbon dioxide is a product of life, it does not prove the existence of life.

The balloon stayed aloft for 12 hours and traveled 700 miles to the northeast from Palestine to Pulaski, Tenn.

Top Court Okays Railroad Junking Of Featherbedding

plans to make working rules changes.

The Supreme Court's action was by an 8-0 vote. Justice Goldberg, a former secretary of labor, disqualified himself from the case.

The Supreme Court's opinion said that there was no bad faith or misconduct on the part of either the railroads or the unions that would justify either side's "unilateral imposition of changes in working rules."

"What is clear, rather, is that both parties, having exhausted all of the statutory procedures are relegated to self-help in adjusting this dispute, subject only to the invocation of the provisions of section 10 (of the Railway Labor Act) providing for the creation of an emergency board. And on this basis the judgment below (by the Circuit Court) must be, and is affirmed," the opinion said.

The Supreme Court decision means that the railroads, having gone through required bargaining procedures of the Railway Labor Act, are now free to put desired manpower economies into effect.

If they do this, a nationwide rail strike would be immediately threatened.

However, the carriers and the unions have an informal agreement with the White House not to make any moves for 72 hours.

This armistice will give President Kennedy time to invoke procedures that will delay any showdown at least for 60 days.

Actually, with legal technicalities cleared away, both sides are expected to start real bargaining for the first time in the more than three years they have been sparring over work force reductions.

The carriers' immediate objective is to discharge some 13,000 firemen, and then gradually eliminate some 27,000 other locomotive firemen in freight and yard service. The carriers claim the firemen are no longer needed on modern diesel locomotives.

The carriers are expected to serve a five-day advance notice that they will put their desired manpower economies into effect.

Both the carriers and unions know that this will not be done without bargaining for an agreement.

Kennedy will take advantage of the three-day armistice to name a national emergency board under terms of the Railway Labor Act with the responsibility of investigating and recommending a settlement formula.

An earlier board—a commission appointed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower — spent a year studying the same dispute.

Reds Challenged To Ideological Public Dispute

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China concluded a massive defense of its "hard line" communism with a challenge to Russia to debate their ideological dispute in public.

Describing the Russians as "cowardly as mice," the Chinese Reds said:

"If you are men enough, step forward. Let each side in the debate publish all the articles in which it is criticized by the other side, and let the people in our own countries and the whole world think and judge who is right and who is wrong."

The challenge was issued Sunday in the fourth and last installment of a 100,000-word defense of Mao Tze-tung's communism as opposed to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's avowed policy of peaceful coexistence. It was the sharpest attack yet on the Soviet leader.

The statement accused "certain people"—meaning Khrushchev—of both "adventurism" and then "capitulationism" in the Cuban crisis last fall. It renewed the Mao thesis that all imperialists and reactionaries are "paper tigers" and that to be afraid of them is "practically nonsensical."

The statement did not attack Khrushchev directly by name, but the references were unmistakable.

It was bitter at the fact the growing Sino-Soviet split has caused Russia to cut off much of its economic aid to Red China, saying these "certain people" continue to undermine Communist unity.

It also expressed bitterness over Khrushchev's decision to pull his missiles out of Cuba in the face of a nuclear war with the capitalistic West.

". . . During the Cuban events certain people first committed the error of adventurism, and then committed the error of capitulationism, wanting the Cuban people to accept humiliating terms which would have meant the sacrifice of the sovereignty of their country," the statement said.

The statement was taken from an article in Red Flag magazine, the Peking regime's leading theoretical journal, and broadcast by Peking Radio.

Two Missionaries Are Executed by Viet Nam Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —An American missionary and one from the Philippines were executed today by a Communist firing squad before the eyes of their wives and children after their car was ambushed north of here.

Injured by Viet Cong shots—though not seriously—were two of the Filipino's young sons. Wives of the two men, an American child and two Philippine children were not injured. The survivors have been brought to Saigon.

The American was identified as Elwood Jacobsen of Foreston, Maine.

U.S. and Philippine authorities said there was no apparent reason for the double slaying.

They reported a Vietnamese driver of another car was stopped by the Viet Cong at the same spot and shot to death outside his vehicle.

The two executed missionaries had been working in South Viet Nam for an organization called the Summer Linguistic Institute, studying tribal languages. Jacobsen had been in Viet Nam about six months.

The two families, nine persons in all, were driving north to visit a friend. Their car was reported carrying medical supplies.

Cigaret Tax Revenue Shows Increase

The 1 cent hike in the city cigaret tax has increased revenue for the first two months of the year from $16,507.80 last year to $20,810.15 this year.

Jim O'Leary, deputy city treasurer, said revenue from the tax in February brought in $10,712.41. Revenue for February of last year was $8,998.

City Council last fall increased the cigaret tax from 1 to 2 cents per package in order to keep the mill levy at its present rate.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field as of 5:30 a.m. today!)

A storm center over the Great Plains of the type which usually occurs every year in early March is causing a large area of precipitation across the southern Rockies and central Plains northeastward into the Great Lakes region.

Snow was falling from northern New Mexico and Colorado across most of Nebraska and northern Iowa into central Wisconsin and northern lower Michigan with rain falling farther south.

Thunderstorms were numerous in a broad belt from the Texas Panhandle across southeastern Kansas into Missouri and Illinois.

Outside the main precipitation area, light rain and drizzle were scattered in the humid and warm air mass covering Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Early morning temperatures were mild over the Southland with 60s reported across the Gulf Coast states and low 70s in southern Florida.

Mild 50s were recorded as far north as southern Missouri and Illinois.

Seasonally cold temperatures covered New England with readings near zero recorded in northern Maine. Cloudy weather with light snow and freezing rain and temperatures just below freezing was the picture in up-state New York.

Out west, temperatures were seasonally cool with below freezing temperatures covering regions except along the Pacific coast and in the southern deserts.

Readings slightly below zero in North Dakota and the low 50s in the Los Angeles area were the extreme cold and extreme warm readings west of the Mississippi.

Parking Meter Revenue Shows Drop

City parking meter receipts so far this year are running behind collections a year ago, according to Jim O'Leary, deputy city treasurer.

The February collection was $11,730.07 to bring the two-month total for this year to $23,922.78.

This compares with $11,341.28 collected in February of last year and a two - month total for 1962 of $21,299.65.

Break-in Reported At Gas Company

The sheriff's department reported Sunday that thieves broke into the Plateau Natural Gas Co., 522 Arapoe Dr., over the weekend and took $72.42.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Orivs said entry was made by breaking a window in the rear of the premises. Two large desks were pried open and a filing cabinet which contained the money was badly damaged.

Parts Reported Taken From Truck

Frank Sanborn of Cascade informed the sheriff's office Sunday that a 12-volt battery, siren, tachometer and two red lights were stolen from a panel truck belonging to the City of Colorado Springs.

Sheriff's Detective Woodrow Littrell said the truck was parked by the Pikes Peak tollgate at the time and that the theft happened Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Biery Issues Public Works Directive to City Staffs

City Manager John M. Biery today issued a directive clarifying the lines of authority on projects which were under the supervision of the late James J. Murry, city public works director who died Feb. 23.

Biery said he was making the clarification because it would "require some time and a great amount of thought before a replacement can be employed" for Murray.

He said it would possibly be more than a month before the position can be filled and as a result issued the directive.

The directive has been sent to members of the City Council, all city department heads and to various firms and persons who had frequent business with the city.

Responsibility of the engineering department and its various functions will be under the direct supervision of DeWitt Miller, who will report directly to the city manager for policy determination and guidance. Official linen plats of subdivisions will be signed by Perry C. Tyree, superintendent of the city building department.

All operations of the street department will continue to be the responsibility of Don Lawrie, street superintendent. Expenditures, program and policy determinations will be worked out with Biery.

Normal operations of the equipment pool will continue under the supervision of Lawrie. Determinations of equipment purchases, accounting, additions of departments to the pool and general policy determinations will be the responsibility of Wayne Jackson, city purchasing officer. The city manager will give final determinations where necessary.

Full responsibility for traffic engineering will rest with Don Smith, city traffic engineer. Major policies concerning downtown traffic problems will be cleared thru the downtown traffic committee. Day to day problems can be cleared with the city manager.

Responsibility for public buildings and grounds will continue to be assumed by Ted Conklin. C. L. Heitman Jr., assistant to the city manager, will make policy determinations, take care of personnel problems and purchase authorization and will give day to day assistance to Conklin when necessary.

Jack Sullivan, Pikes Peak Highway superintendent, will continue in charge of highway maintenance and operation under the immediate supervision of Heitman. A special committee headed by Harold Heyse will oversee construction of the proposed new summit house and until all indebtedness is paid. Summit house bids will be opened Tuesday.

Tyree will continue to operate the city building inspection department, and will report to the city manager on any problems connected with the operation. Walter Kuenning, former building superintendent and now building consultant for School District No. 11, has offered his assistance when necessary.

Special projects such as the 1963 improvement district, sidewalk replacements and arterial streets will be under the direct supervision of Miller. The amount budget for the 26th Street bridge will be an expenditure to be worked out directly with the city manager.

Ray D. Nixon, director of the Department of Pueblic Utilities, will take responsibility for coordination and completion of work on the Fontanero Street underpass; Fred Wiley, chief engineer for utilities, will be given the job of direct supervision.

The city manager will assume direct responsibility for completing the Conover drainage project under Union Boulevard.

The city manager will be responsible for project financing and coordination on the work at Peterson Field. Stuart Wandell, airport manager, will be responsible for accounting and general supervision of the work. All contracts relative to the work will be made thru Biery or Wandell.

All future contracts and supervision of the City Hall remodeling will be made thru either Biery or Heitman. Architect Gordin Sweet will have charge of bidding and direct supervision.

Keith Hook, private engineer, has offered his assistance in drainage problems. It is expected that City Council will appoint a drainage board at its next meeting. Hook has assisted in all phases of the development of the new drainage ordinance.

George Morris, consulting engineer, will probably be employed to assist in an upcoming storm drainage damage suit involving property east of the city. City Attorney Frederick T. Henry and Mr. Murray were preparing this case, but Morris had been asked to give technical assistance.

The city manager and city attorney will take over work relative to the east-west expressway until other arrangements are made.

The city manager will make recommendations to council concerning the Lelaray Street storm from the city attorney and city engineering department.

In his directive to department heads, the city manager said he would "appreciate verbal or written notice of any unusual decisions."

No test ban:

Observers in London and Geneva are ready to write off as a total loss the current Geneva nuclear test ban and disarmament conference. The chances of agreement on a test ban treaty, safeguarded even by a minimum of international controls are rated near zero. Khrushchev has said he will make no concessions. The U.S. has said it cannot go below what it considers the safety margin of nationals which at the moment stands at seven on - site inspections.

There have been suggestions that only direct exchanges between Khrushchev and President Kennedy can break the deadlock. But even these would do no good if Khrushchev maintains his present take-it-or-leave-it attitude.

De Gaulle holds line:

President Charles de Gaulle is said to be confident he can hold the line against a new wage-price spiral, head off a major showdown with organized labor and prevent inflation undermining the Gaullist "hard" franc. He hopes to do it by bearing down on food prices and offering regular periodic consultations between the government and labor unions.

Hope for nuclear NATO:

United States officials in Paris are more optimistic about prospects for a multi-national nuclear force inside the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Preliminary soundings by presidential envoy Livingston T. Merchant have indicated substantial support from about one-half of the NATO member states. This, of course, does not include France.

Man Booked In Jail for Investigation

A Ft. Carson man, Kenneth Paul Young, 22, was booked into City Jail early this morning for investigation of possible obscene telephone calls, the sheriff's office reported.

According Deputy Sheriffs Bob Snuggs and Vincent Denboske Young was arrested following complaints by a young woman who said she had received numerous phone calls from an unknown man who made indecent suggestions to her.

She was advised to make an appointment with him which she did. She with a woman friend went to a local hotel where he was contacted and subsequently arrested by police officer Frank Cap and the deputies.

VA Does Not Determine GI Loan Amount

The amount of downpayment on a GI home loan, and the repayment period (or maturity) of the home loan, is not determined by the Veterans Administration, a local spokesman for the VA said today.

The repayment period may run as long as 30 years, and the VA does not require any downpayment on the GI home loans it guarantees, he explained. Both of these are matters to be agreed on by the veteran and the lending institution making the loan.

The VA does require that the closing costs be paid in cash at the time of closing the loan, however.

These closing costs include such items as title search, hazard insuance premiums, prepaid taxes, recording fees, and the one-percent fee permitted lenders in lieu of other costs, he explained.

Minor Injuries In Two-Car Mishap Sunday

One man suffered minor injuries Sunday in a two - car accident on U.S. 85-87 about 5½ miles north of Colorado Springs.

Yoshiko Witt, 24, 1215 Houston Ave., received contusions and abrasions of the face when his head struck the windshield of a car in which he was a passenger. Driver of the car was Jerry Vore, 22, Air Force Academy.

State Patrolmen Kenneth W. Shiflet and Carl Drake said the Vore car struck the rear of a car driven by James W. Lilly, 39, Air Force Academy. Damage was estimated at a total of $250.

Driver Charged After Accident

William Otis Fielder, 40, 1205 N. Cascade Avenue, was charged with careless driving and damage to city property following an accident at 11:35 p.m. Saturday on W. Colorado Avenue.

Fielder and his wife, Gaynelle, 35, suffered minor injuries in the accident but declined treatment. Fielder had a cut nose and his wife received a contusion to the eye.

City police said the Fielder car struck a parked car owned by Robert W. Schoessow, 33, 1643 W. Colorado Ave. The parked car, a 1952 model which was declared a total loss, was driven forward 41 feet by the impact.

The Fielder car continued for 21 feet following the collision and struck a steel guard rail on a pedestrian underpass. Damage to the Fielder car was estimated at $750.

the atmospheric conditions, life on the planet would be marginal at best."

If there is enough water vapor "some very primitive life forms becomes conceivable."

Previous estimates have set the entire water vapor of the planet, half the size of earth, would fill in an area only four cubic miles in size.

Stratoscope II may put a more precise limit on the amount of water vapor present. It already was known that Mars has more Carbon dioxide than earth. Scientists pointed out that while carbon dioxide is a product of life, it does not prove the existence of life.

The balloon stayed aloft for 12 hours and traveled 700 miles to the northeast from Palestine to Pulaski, Tenn.

Top Court Okays Railroad Junking Of Featherbedding

plans to make working rules changes.

The Supreme Court's action was by an 8-0 vote. Justice Goldberg, a former secretary of labor, disqualified himself from the case.

The Supreme Court's opinion said that there was no bad faith or misconduct on the part of either the railroads or the unions that would justify either side's "unilateral imposition of changes in working rules."

"What is clear, rather, is that both parties, having exhausted all of the statutory procedures are relegated to self-help in adjusting this dispute, subject only to the invocation of the provisions of section 10 (of the Railway Labor Act) providing for the creation of an emergency board. And on this basis the judgment below (by the Circuit Court) must be, and is affirmed," the opinion said.

The Supreme Court decision means that the railroads, having gone through required bargaining procedures of the Railway Labor Act, are now free to put desired manpower economies into effect.

If they do this, a nationwide rail strike would be immediately threatened.

However, the carriers and the unions have an informal agreement with the White House not to make any moves for 72 hours.

This armistice will give President Kennedy time to invoke procedures that will delay any showdown at least for 60 days.

Actually, with legal technicalities cleared away, both sides are expected to start real bargaining for the first time in the more than three years they have been sparring over work force reductions.

The carriers' immediate objective is to discharge some 13,000 firemen, and then gradually eliminate some 27,000 other locomotive firemen in freight and yard service. The carriers claim the firemen are no longer needed on modern diesel locomotives.

The carriers are expected to serve a five-day advance notice that they will put their desired manpower economies into effect.

Both the carriers and unions know that this will not be done without bargaining for an agreement.

Kennedy will take advantage of the three-day armistice to name a national emergency board under terms of the Railway Labor Act with the responsibility of investigating and recommending a settlement formula.

An earlier board—a commission appointed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower — spent a year studying the same dispute.

Reds Challenged To Ideological Public Dispute

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China concluded a massive defense of its "hard line" communism with a challenge to Russia to debate their ideological dispute in public.

Describing the Russians as "cowardly as mice," the Chinese Reds said.

"If you are men enough, step forward. Let each side in the debate publish all the articles in which it is criticized by the other side, and let the people in our own countries and the whole world think and judge who is right and who is wrong."

The challenge was issued Sunday in the fourth and last installment of a 100,000-word defense of Mao Tze-tung's communism as opposed to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's avowed policy of peaceful coexistence. It was the sharpest attack yet on the Soviet leader.

The statement accused "certain people"—meaning Khrushchev—of both "adventurism" and then "capitulationism" in the Cuban crisis last fall. It renewed the Mao thesis that all imperialists and reactionaries are "paper tigers" and that to be afraid of them is "practically nonsensical."

The statement did not attack Khrushchev directly by name, but the references were unmistakable.

It was bitter at the fact the growing Sino-Soviet split has caused Russia to cut off much of its economic aid to Red China, saying these "certain people" continue to undermine Communist unity.

It also expressed bitterness over Khrushchev's decision to pull his missiles out of Cuba in the face of a nuclear war with the capitalistic West.

". . . During the Cuban events certain people first committed the error of adventurism, and then committed the error of capitulationism, wanting the Cuban people to accept humiliating terms which would have meant the sacrifice of the sovereignty of their country," the statement said.

The statement was taken from an article in Red Flag magazine, the Peking regime's leading theoretical journal, and broadcast by Peking Radio.

Two Missionaries Are Executed by Viet Nam Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —An American missionary and one from the Philippines were executed today by a Communist firing squad before the eyes of their wives and children after their car was ambushed north of here.

Injured by Viet Cong shots—though not seriously—were two of the Filipino's young sons. Wives of the two men, an American child and two Philippine children were not injured. The survivors have been brought to Saigon.

The American was identified as Elwood Jacobsen of Foreston, Maine.

U.S. and Philippine authorities said there was no apparent reason for the double slaying.

They reported a Vietnamese driver of another car was stopped by the Viet Cong at the same spot and shot to death outside his vehicle.

The two executed missionaries had been working in South Viet Nam for an organization called the Summer Linguistic Institute, studying tribal languages. Jacobsen had been in Viet Nam about six months.

The two families, nine persons in all, were driving north to visit a friend. Their car was reported carrying medical supplies.

Cigaret Tax Revenue Shows Increase

The 1 cent hike in the city cigaret tax has increased revenue for the first two months of the year from $16,507.80 last year to $20,810.15 this year.

Jim O'Leary, deputy city treasurer, said revenue from the tax in February brought in $10,712.41. Revenue for February of last year was $6,998.

City Council last fall increased the cigaret tax from 1 to 3 cents per package in order to keep the mill levy at its present rate.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field as of 5:30 a.m. today!)

A storm center over the Great Plains of the type which usually occurs every year in early March is causing a large area of precipitation across the southern Rockies and central Plains northeastward into the Great Lakes region.

Snow was falling from northern New Mexico and Colorado across most of Nebraska and northern Iowa into central Wisconsin and northern lower Michigan with rain falling farther south.

Thunderstorms were numerous in a broad belt from the Texas Panhandle across southeastern Kansas into Missouri and Illinois.

Outside the main precipitation area, light rain and drizzle were scattered in the humid and warm air mass covering Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Early morning temperatures were mild over the Southland with 60s reported across the Gulf Coast states and low 70s in southern Florida.

Mild 50s were recorded as far north as southern Missouri and Illinois.

Seasonally cold temperatures covered New England with readings near zero recorded in northern Maine. Cloudy weather with light snow and freezing rain and temperatures just below freezing was the picture in up-state New York.

Out west, temperatures were seasonally cool with below freezing temperatures covering regions except along the Pacific coast and in the southern deserts.

Readings slightly below zero in North Dakota and the low 50s in the Los Angeles area were the extreme cold and extreme warm readings west of the Mississippi.

Parking Meter Revenue Shows Drop

City parking meter receipts so far this year are running behind collections a year ago, according to Jim O'Leary, deputy city treasurer.

The February collection was $11,730.07 to bring the two-month total for this year to $23,922.78.

This compares with $11,341.28 collected in February of last year and a two - month total for 1962 of $21,299.65.

Break-in Reported At Gas Company

The sheriff's department reported Sunday that thieves broke into the Plateau Natural Gas Co., 522 Arapoe Dr., over the weekend and took $72.42.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Orivs said entry was made by breaking a window in the rear of the premises. Two large desks were pried open and a filing cabinet which contained the money was badly damaged.

Parts Reported Taken From Truck

Frank Sanborn of Cascade informed the sheriff's office Sunday that a 12-volt battery, siren, tachometer and two red lights were stolen from a panel truck belonging to the City of Colorado Springs.

Sheriff's Detective Woodrow Littrell said the truck was parked by the Pikes Peak tollgate at the time and that the theft happened Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

STAMP BOOM

NEW YORK (UPI) — Retail establishments spent $780 million for trading stamps during 1962 and are expected to spend about $820 million in 1963, according to Sperry - Hutchinson Co., makers of SH Green Stamps.

Biery Issues Public Works Directive to City Staffs

City Manager John M. Biery today issued a directive clarifying the lines of authority on projects which were under the supervision of the late James J. Murry, city public works director who died Feb. 23.

Biery said he was making the clarification because it would "require some time and a great amount of thought before a replacement can be employed" for Murray.

He said it would possibly be more than a month before the position can be filled and as a result issued the directive.

The directive has been sent to members of the City Council, all city department heads and to various firms and persons who had frequent business with the city.

Responsibility of the engineering department and its various functions will be under the direct supervision of DeWitt Miller, who will report directly to the city manager for policy determination and guidance. Official linen plats of subdivisions will be signed by Perry C. Tyree, superintendent of the city building department.

All operations of the street department will continue to be the responsibility of Don Lawrie, street superintendent. Expenditures, program and policy determinations will be worked out with Biery.

Normal operations of the equipment pool will continue under the supervision of Lawrie. Determinations of equipment purchases, accounting, additions of departments to the pool and general policy determinations will be the responsibility of Wayne Jackson, city purchasing officer. The city manager will give final determinations where necessary.

Full responsibility for traffic engineering will rest with Don Smith, city traffic engineer. Major policies concerning downtown traffic problems will be cleared thru the downtown traffic committee. Day to day problems can be cleared with the city manager.

Responsibility for public buildings and grounds will continue to be assumed by Ted Conklin. C. L. Heitman Jr., assistant to the city manager, will make policy determinations, take care of personnel problems and purchase authorization and will give day to day assistance to Conklin when necessary.

Jack Sullivan, Pikes Peak Highway superintendent, will continue in charge of highway maintenance and operation under the immediate supervision of Heitman. A special committee headed by Harold Heyse will oversee construction of the proposed new summit house and until all indebtedness is paid. Summit house bids will be opened Tuesday.

Tyree will continue to operate the city building inspection department, and will report to the city manager on any problems connected with the operation. Walter Kuenning, former building superintendent and now building consultant for School District No. 11, has offered his assistance when necessary.

Special projects such as the 1963 improvement district, sidewalk replacements and arterial streets will be under the direct supervision of Miller. The amount budget for the 26th Street bridge will be an expenditure to be worked out directly with the city manager.

Ray D. Nixon, director of the Department of Pueblic Utilities, will take responsibility for coordination and completion of work on the Fontanero Street underpass; Fred Wiley, chief engineer for utilities, will be given the job of direct supervision.

The city manager will assume direct responsibility for completing the Conover drainage project under Union Boulevard.

The city manager will be responsible for project financing and coordination on the work at Peterson Field. Stuart Wandell, airport manager, will be responsible for accounting and general supervision of the work. All contracts relative to the work will be made thru Biery or Wandell.

All future contracts and supervision of the City Hall remodeling will be made thru either Biery or Heitman. Architect Gordin Sweet will have charge of bidding and direct supervision.

Keith Hook, private engineer, has offered his assistance in drainage problems. It is expected that City Council will appoint a drainage board at its next meeting. Hook has assisted in all phases of the development of the new drainage ordinance.

George Morris, consulting engineer, will probably be employed to assist in an upcoming storm drainage damage suit involving property east of the city. City Attorney Frederick T. Henry and Mr. Murray were preparing this case, but Morris had been asked to give technical assistance.

The city manager and city attorney will take over work relative to the east-west expressway until other arrangements are made.

The city manager will make recommendations to council concerning the Lelaray Street storm [illegible] from the city attorney and city engineering department.

In his directive to department heads, the city manager said he would "appreciate verbal or written notice of any unusual decisions."

Early Smart Recovery Marks Market Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a smart recovery early this afternoon from last week's heavy losses. Trading was brisk.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 at 253.0 with industrials up 1.9, rails up 3.4, and utilities unchanged.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Rails rallied on news that the Supreme Court had upheld a lower court ruling that the nation's railroads have the right to make sweeping work rules changes.

Upholding of the carriers' right to halt "featherbedding" brought substantial advances to a number of rail issues. The news came at a time when a mixed market was already showing some technical strength in a rebound from declines of last week.

Most analysts saw the general business news as fairly encouraging and the recent market declines as mainly a correction of the big advance in stocks from late October to mid February.

Steels, motors, electrical equipments, oils, building materials, and drugs joined in the upturn.

The market had the additional spur of reports that there was mounting demand for steel and that auto production for the first quarter is expected to be the third highest for such a period.

Chrysler spurted about 3 points while General Motors, Ford, and American Motors gained fractions.

Gains of a point or so were scored by such steelmakers as Jones & Laughlin, Republic Steel, and U.S. Steel.

Gains of a point or more by some leading carriers were the more impressive percentagewise because of relatively low prices. Up about 2 points were Northern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Illinois Central. New York Central and Atlantic Coast Line advanced more than a point. Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe rose around a point each.

Among wider-moving issues, IBM gained close to 7 points and Xerox more than 2.

Gains of around a point were also scored by Merck, General Electric, Radio Corp., CBS, Du Pont, American Telephone, and Westinghouse Electric.

Houston Lighting sank more than a point. General Mills rose ¼ to 34¼ on a block of 23,700 shares. Cosden Petroleum was unchanged at 22⅜ on 10,000 shares. Gabriel was off ⅛ at 22 on 7,800 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.15 at 665.87.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in quiet trading. Syntex rose about a point. Up fractionally were Reinsurance Investment, Chromalloy Aerojet-General, Kratter, and Berkey Photo. Simca and Dialight dropped about a point each. Among fractional losers were Scurry-Rainbow Oil, Catalin, Alsco, and Technical Materiel.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were selectively higher. Trading was fairly quiet.

Americans Down Aces, 8-2

By United Press International

Bronco Horvath, who has been a member of all six teams in the National Hockey League, is keeping pace with the youngsters in the American Hockey League.

Obtained by Rochester from the Toronto Maple Leafs recently, Horvath paced the Americans to a 8-2 win over the Quebec Aces Sunday night. He had two goals and three assists while teammate Jim Mikol contributed five assists for the Americans.

Fred Hilts, with a "hat trick," led the Cleveland Barons to a 11-3 breeze over the Pittsburgh Hornets, the Providence Reds downed the Baltimore Clippers, 2-1 and the Buffalo Bisons handed the Hershey for first place in the Eastern Division.

Search for Missing Flier Is Launched

DENVER (AP)—The Colorado Civil Air Patrol said it would begin a search today for R. H Bonham of Los Angeles, unreported on a flight from Grand Junction to Denver Sunday.

Bonham, using a single engine Cessna 170 borrowed from Elford Bruce of Los Angeles, left Grand Junction at 2:37 p.m. He was due in Denver at 5:37 p.m., but did not arrive.

His flight plan indicated he would fly via Montrose, Gunnison and Salida. The entire route was swept by severe snow storms.

Change in State Truck Tax Law To Be Proposed

DENVER (AP) — Wholesale changes in Colorado's method of taxing its more than 200,000 trucks, with a goal of getting more revenue with less work, are expected to be proposed in the State House of Representatives this week.

Depending upon which of several plans is used, the state could collect anywhere from $55,000 to $2.8 million more each year in truck taxes.

Lawmakers and aides to Gov. John Love have been working on the legislation for more than two months—an indication of the problems involved. More problems are assured when debate starts on the bill.

In any event, the new truck tax program is destined to provide the state with more revenue than the $8 million a year yeilded by the ton-mile system inaugurated by former Gov. Steve McNichols.

Administration spokesmen say they hope eventually to return the surplus in some way to hard-pressed cities and counties, or to truckers who will continue to absorb the ton-mile tax, or both.

Cities and counties this year will lose about $1.5 million in highway funds because a special 1.50 fee on all vehicles was allowed to expire in 1962, apparently by accident.

The key provisions of the administration's new truck tax program touch on these facts:

1. About 20 per cent of the trucks on Colorado highways account for 80 per cent of ton-mile revenues. Hardest hit are the long-line haulers, one of whose objections is that big farm and metropolitan trucks are excluded from the ton-mile classification but abuse their privilege both in weight and travel distance.

2. The smaller truck lines, especially those operators with only one or two big trucks, complain that their administrative costs under the ton-mile system are prohibitive. The state, incidentally, makes this same complaint.

The administration's apparent solution will be to set 30,000 pounds as the dividing line for trucks to be continued on a simplified ton-mile system in which a single millage would be imposed. The ton-mile system now inflicts an .8 mill-a-mile charge on empty weight and 2 mills on cargo weight.

This simplified system would reduce by three-fourths the number of trucks subject to ton-mile taxes, while ton-mile revenue would decline by an estimated 16 per cent.

Lighter trucks would then be taxes on a graduated license fee basis ranging perhaps from $10 to $150. These vehicles actually would pay more in license fees than under the ton-mile system, but would be free of burdensome bookkeeping and administrative costs.

Discounts would be allowed farm trucks, while the metro classiication would be eliminated.

Love's advisers say Colorado's present truck taxes are the second highest (next to Oregon) in the nation, and infinitely more complex both for truck line operators and the state from an administrative standpoint.

"Our goals," said one spokesman, "are to simplify the entire program so as to provide more money for our roads with less bookkeeping expense, and to make it as fair and equitable as possible for all segments of the industry."

Discrimination Is Banned by Archbishop

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan, spiritual leader of430,000 Roman Catholics in Maryland, officially banned and condemned Friday all racial discrimination and prejudice in his archdiocese.

The 65-year-old prelate also urged his flock to make integration part of their personal relationships. He specifically mentioned public accommodations, housing and crime.

In a 3,000-word pastoral letter published in the diocesar weekly newspaper, the Catholic Review, Archbishop Shehan banned discrimination based on racial or social origin from all Catholic schools, churches, social organizations and charitable institutions.

A similar edict by Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans, in September 1961, desegregated Catholic schools of his archdiocese. Catholic schools in the Baltimore archdiocese already are integrated.

Archbishop Shehan said the Christian faith imposes a special duty of justice and charity toward all men and "within this household of the faith, there can be no room for racial discrimination."

"We Catholics must acknowledge," he wrote, "that we have been all too slow in the correction of our shortcomings, although in the light of the experience of many of our forefathers, we should have been particularly sensitive to the unjust inequalities suffered by other groups.

"For this reason, we have a special obligation to place ourselves in the forefront of movements to remove the injustices and discriminations which still remain."

Prominent Catholic laymen praised the archbishop for his stand.

Hub Caps Valued At $80 Stolen

Four hubcaps worth $80 were stolen from Bell Air Motors, 1331 S. Tejon St., the sheriff's department reported Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff Bernard Barry said they were the three - prong type with a center cone and were taken from a 1962 model late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Capital Market Major Factor in Economic Growth

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The capital market—both the amount of money available and the amount borrowed—has hit a high. At least that essential for economic growth is on tap as needed.

And there are signs that several sectors of the economy will be increasing their visits to the capital market. Various levels of government will be spending more, and borrowing to do it. Some industries are stepping up their plans for investment over the sedate pace of 1962. Consumer intention polls indicate Americans plan to buy more big ticket items on time.

The sum of money raised for investment and credit needs in 1962 by personal and corporate savings, by the banking system and other thrift institutions, and by the federal, state and local governments reached a peacetime record of $63.1 billion. This was $14 billion more than in 1961. The Life Insurance Association of America says the previous high since World War II was $57 billion in 1959.

Borrowings for mortgages, other consumer debt, for business needs and government use rose to $62.9 billion, a gain of $14.3 billion over 1961.

Many corporations have announced plans for more expansion this year. For example, the metalworking industry, in the final three months of 1962, hiked its appropriations for new plants and equipment 70 per cent over the funds set aside in the previous quarter. The total of $1.4 billion is the largest since the first quarter of 1957. Iron Age magazine says most of this sum will be spent in 1963.

The metalworking industry includes primary metals, fabricated metal products, both electrical a nonelectrical machinery, transportation equipment, including autos, and instruments.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reports today that the largest net increase in credit in 1962 was in the mortgage field. It says much was due to increase in new construction. But lending was stimulated "apparently also by an increase in borrowing against existing buildings."

The insurance group's breakdown of use of funds in the capital market says that a record $24.4 billion went into mortgages, largely on one to four family nonfarm housing. Some $5.5 billion went into consumer credit.

Business raised $15 billions by corporate bond and stock issues and business credit. The Federal Reserve Board says outstanding business loans by banks rose by more than $4 billion, or 9 per cent—twice the rate of the previous year, with demand strongest in the second half of 1962.

Where did all the funds for investment and credit come from?

Individuals put up most of it through their savings. Thrift institutions added $22.9 billion to the capital market. This included growing sums in life insurance, savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks and corporate pension funds. The gain over 1961 was $3 billion.

The commercial banking system added $20.7 billion, also up $3 billion. This reflected both the Federal Reserve policy of credit ease, giving the banks more funds to lend, and a spurt in time and savings deposits after interest rates were raised.

The three levels of government offered $5 billion for credit needs from federal, state and local government investment funds.

Corporations, fire and casualty companies and foreign investors contributed $14.5 billion to the U.S. capital market, against $8.8 billion the previous year.

Economic growth depends on many factors. But a major force is the health of the capital market. It seems to be very good.

Kaman Sales Hit New High But Earnings Drop

In a talk to company employees, Charles H. Kaman, president of Kaman Aircraft Corp., Bloomfield, Conn., announced that sales for the year 1962 peaked at a new high of over $75 million, that net earnings at $802,500 were down from the previous year and that adjustments of manpower levels and executive salaries in line with existing contract commitments are necessary to help the company maintain its competitive position.

The reduction in employment amounts to 8.5 per cent on a company-wide basis. Executive salaries will be reduced by 10 per cent-15 per cent.

Financial information released by Kaman shows the Bloomfield helicopter manufacturer's sales for the year ending Dec. 31, 1962, were $75,279,500. Sales for 1961 totaled $59,744,617. Net earnings for 1962 decreased by $122,597 from the 1961 figure of $925,087. This decrease in earnings is largely attributable to substantial helicopter development costs in the past year.

Net income per share in 1962 was $1.58 on 506,912 shares outstanding compared to net earnings of $1.82 per share in 1961 based on the same number of shares. On the 482,894 shares outstanding at the end of 1961, earnings per share were $1.92.

The personnel moves, effective March 1, are tied to other company programs all aimed at reducing Kaman's operating costs. Officers' salaries will be cut by 15 per cent and other executives on the treasury payroll will have their salaries reduced by 10 per cent.

The employment reduction will affect approximately 400 of Kaman Aircraft's 4,700 employees in all of the company's Connecticut plants. Kaman emphasized that in line with company policy, laying off and rehiring of production personnel is strictly on a seniority basis. Approximately 250 company employees in the Hartford area incorporating plants in Hartford, Bloomfield, and Windsor Locks and 150 employees in the Moosup plant will be affected.

Major contracts on which work progressed during 1962 were the United States Navy UH-2 Seasprite helicopter and the United States Air Force HH-43B Huskie helicopter. Fleet deliveries of the high speed, all - weather Seasprite to units on both coasts were begun in late December and will continue thru the year 1964. Deliveries of the HH-43B to the Air Force and to foreign governments continued and are scheduled well into 1964.

The company's divisions and subsidiaries expanded their efforts. Kaman Nuclear in Colorado Springs, added to its staff and facilities to match growth of ctu business. AirKaman, Inc., whose business is sales and service of aircraft at Bradley Field, moved into new facilities adjacent to the main terminal and successfully completed its first full year of operation.

The company extended its diversification program during 1962. Acquired for cash and stock was Power Transmission Ssytems, Inc. of North Caldwell, N. J., manufacturers of precision gears and transmissions for the aircraft industry. Also added as a division was Kaman Instruments, formerly known as Texas Bio-Nuclear, in Austing, Tex., which specializes in nuclear devices, instrumentation and biomedical engineering.

Personal Debts, Economic Growth Both Slow Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Personal debts have been rising much faster than the national debt. But the rate has slowed down in the last year or so—just as has the rate of economic growth.

And many advocates of a big federal tax cut now hold that this would lead both consumers and business to spend more and incline them to borrow more. Together spending and borrowing would act as a tonic to the rate of general economic growth.

All of this is conjecture. No one can be sure what people will do with any federal tax saving. They may spend it all. Or they may increase their rate of savings which has been going up of late. Or they may use the federal income tax saving to pay all the various other forms of taxation which have been going up and seem likely to continue on that path.

Total private indebtedness was $140 billion in 1945. In five years it jumped 79 per cent, in the next five 60 per cent, and from 1955 to 1960 it went up 45 per cent. In the last two years it has risen 15 per cent to $672 billion.

Chief reasons given for the slowing of the rate were smaller gains in home building, in business spending for new plant and equipment and in going in hock for consumer durables.

The federal debt has risen since 1945 at a comparatively slow rate from $259 billion to around $304 billion. State and local government debts have risen much faster.

The U.S. Treasury is now running a deficit and expects this to increase. But the debt rise will still be moderate if compared with the growth of the economy as a whole. Output of goods and services is now running at around $563 billion a year.

And while consumers have been busy running up a huge total of debts, they also have been building a huge total of savings in various forms.

Commercial bank savings deposits have soared, partly because of the inducement of higher interest rates. So have funds in mutual savings banks. Savings and loan associations report the trend is continuing this year. Life insurance companies are taking in more premiums. Credit unions report gains. Even the total invested in U.S. savings bonds climbs in spite of the competition with other forms of saving that pay more.

But beyond the generally accepted forms of savings, the public has been putting increasingly large sums into various forms of personal security, some private and some public.

Together these are now taking in about a billion dollars a week, the Institute of Life Insurance figures. It notes a steady increase in the amount flowing into life insurance and annuities, into health insurance and into corporate pension funds. These private forms of personal protection took in $11 billion in 1950 and more than $27 billion last year.

So while debts of all forms have risen over the years, so have savings and the programs to secure against future needs.

Early Smart Recovery Marks Market Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a smart recovery early this afternoon from last week's heavy losses. Trading was brisk.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 at 253.0 with industrials up 1.9, rails up 3.4, and utilities unchanged.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Rails rallied on news that the Supreme Court had upheld a lower court ruling that the nation's railroads have the right to make sweeping work rules changes.

Upholding of the carriers' right to halt "featherbedding" brought substantial advances to a number of rail issues. The news came at a time when a mixed market was already showing some technical strength in a rebound from declines of last week.

Most analysts saw the general business news as fairly encouraging and the recent market declines as mainly a correction of the big advance in stocks from late October to mid February.

Steels, motors, electrical equipments, oils, building materials, and drugs joined in the upturn.

The market had the additional spur of reports that there was mounting demand for steel and that auto production for the first quarter is expected to be the third highest for such a period.

Chrysler spurted about 3 points while General Motors, Ford, and American Motors gained fractions.

Gains of a point or so were scored by such steelmakers as Jones & Laughlin, Republic Steel, and U.S. Steel.

Gains of a point or more by some leading carriers were the more impressive percentagewise because of relatively low prices. Up about 2 points were Northern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Illinois Central. New York Central and Atlantic Coast Line advanced more than a point. Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe rose around a point each.

Among wider-moving issues, IBM gained close to 7 points and Xerox more than 2.

Gains of around a point were also scored by Merck, General Electric, Radio Corp., CBS, Du Pont, American Telephone, and Westinghouse Electric.

Houston Lighting sank more than a point. General Mills rose ¼ to 34¼ on a block of 23,700 shares. Cosden Petroleum was unchanged at 22⅜ on 10,000 shares. Gabriel was off ⅛ at 22 on 7,800 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.15 at 665.87.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in quiet trading. Syntex rose about a point. Up fractionally were Reinsurance Investment, Chromalloy Aerojet-General, Kratter, and Berkey Photo. Simca and Dialight dropped about a point each. Among fractional losers were Scurry-Rainbow Oil, Catalin, Alsco, and Technical Materiel.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were selectively higher. Trading was fairly quiet.

Americans Down Aces, 8-2

By United Press International

Bronco Horvath, who has been a member of all six teams in the National Hockey League, is keeping pace with the youngsters in the American Hockey League.

Obtained by Rochester from the Toronto Maple Leafs recently, Horvath paced the Americans to a 8-2 win over the Quebec Aces Sunday night. He had two goals and three assists while teammate Jim Mikol contributed five assists for the Americans.

Fred Hilts, with a "hat trick," led the Cleveland Barons to a 11-3 breeze over the Pittsburgh Hornets, the Providence Reds downed the Baltimore Clippers, 2-1 and the Buffalo Bisons handed the Hershey for first place in the Eastern Division.

Search for Missing Flier Is Launched

DENVER (AP)—The Colorado Civil Air Patrol said it would begin a search today for R. H Bonham of Los Angeles, unreported on a flight from Grand Junction to Denver Sunday.

Bonham, using a single engine Cessna 170 borrowed from Elford Bruce of Los Angeles, left Grand Junction at 3:37 p.m. He was due in Denver at 5:37 p.m., but did not arrive.

His flight plan indicated he would fly via Montrose, Gunnison and Salida. The entire route was swept by severe snow storms.

Change in State Truck Tax Law To Be Proposed

DENVER (AP) — Wholesale changes in Colorado's method of taxing its more than 200,000 trucks, with a goal of getting more revenue with less work, are expected to be proposed in the State House of Representatives this week.

Depending upon which of several plans is used, the state could collect anywhere from $55,000 to $2.8 million more each year in truck taxes.

Lawmakers and aides to Gov. John Love have been working on the legislation for more than two months—an indication of the problems involved. More problems are assured when debate starts on the bill.

In any event, the new truck tax program is destined to provide the state with more revenue than the $8 million a year yeilded by the ton-mile system inaugurated by former Gov. Steve McNichols.

Administration spokesmen say they hope eventually to return the surplus in some way to hard-pressed cities and counties, or to truckers who will continue to absorb the ton-mile tax, or both.

Cities and counties this year will lose about $1.5 million in highway funds because a special 1.50 fee on all vehicles was allowed to expire in 1962, apparently by accident.

The key provisions of the administration's new truck tax program touch on these facts:

1. About 20 per cent of the trucks on Colorado highways account for 80 per cent of ton-mile revenues. Hardest hit are the long-line haulers, one of whose objections is that big farm and metropolitan trucks are excluded from the ton-mile classification but abuse their privilege both in weight and travel distance.

2. The smaller truck lines, especially those operators with only one or two big trucks, complain that their administrative costs under the ton-mile system are prohibitive. The state, incidentally, makes this same complaint.

The administration's apparent solution will be to set 30,000 pounds as the dividing line for trucks to be continued on a simplified ton-mile system in which a single millage would be imposed. The ton-mile system now inflicts an .8 mill-a-mile charge on empty weight and 2 mills on cargo weight.

This simplified system would reduce by three-fourths the number of trucks subject to ton-mile taxes, while ton-mile revenue would decline by an estimated 16 per cent.

Lighter trucks would then be taxes on a graduated license fee basis ranging perhaps from $10 to $150. These vehicles actually would pay more in license fees than under the ton-mile system, but would be free of burdensome bookkeeping and administrative costs.

Discounts would be allowed farm trucks, while the metro classiication would be eliminated.

Love's advisers say Colorado's present truck taxes are the second highest (next to Oregon) in the nation, and infinitely more complex both for truck line operators and the state from an administrative standpoint.

"Our goals," said one spokesman, "are to simplify the entire program so as to provide more money for our roads with less bookkeeping expense, and to make it as fair and equitable as possible for all segments of the industry."

Discrimination Is Banned by Archbishop

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan, spiritual leader of430,000 Roman Catholics in Maryland, officially banned and condemned Friday all racial discrimination and prejudice in his archdiocese.

The 65-year-old prelate also urged his flock to make integration part of their personal relationships. He specifically mentioned public accommodations, housing and crime.

In a 3,000-word pastoral letter published in the diocesar weekly newspaper, the Catholic Review, Archbishop Shehan banned discrimination based on racial or social origin from all Catholic schools, churches, social organizations and charitable institutions.

A similar edict by Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans, in September 1961, desegregated Catholic schools of his archdiocese. Catholic schools in the Baltimore archdiocese already are integrated.

Archbishop Shehan said the Christian faith imposes a special duty of justice and charity toward all men and "within this household of the faith, there can be no room for racial discrimination."

"We Catholics must acknowledge," he wrote, "that we have been all too slow in the correction of our shortcomings, although in the light of the experience of many of our forefathers, we should have been particularly sensitive to the unjust inequalities suffered by other groups.

"For this reason, we have a special obligation to place ourselves in the forefront of movements to remove the injustices and discriminations which still remain."

Prominent Catholic laymen praised the archbishop for his stand.

Hub Caps Valued At $80 Stolen

Four hubcaps worth $80 were stolen from Bell Air Motors, 1331 S. Tejon St., the sheriff's department reported Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff Bernard Barry said they were the three - prong type with a center cone and were taken from a 1962 model late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Capital Market Major Factor in Economic Growth

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The capital market—both the amount of money available and the amount borrowed—has hit a high. At least that essential for economic growth is on tap as needed.

And there are signs that several sectors of the economy will be increasing their visits to the capital market. Various levels of government will be spending more, and borrowing to do it. Some industries are stepping up their plans for investment over the sedate pace of 1962. Consumer intention polls indicate Americans plan to buy more big ticket items on time.

The sum of money raised for investment and credit needs in 1962 by personal and corporate savings, by the banking system and other thrift institutions, and by the federal, state and local governments reached a peacetime record of $63.1 billion. This was $14 billion more than in 1961. The Life Insurance Association of America says the previous high since World War II was $57 billion in 1959.

Borrowings for mortgages, other consumer debt, for business needs and government use rose to $62.9 billion, a gain of $14.3 billion over 1961.

Many corporations have announced plans for more expansion this year. For example, the metal-working industry, in the final three months of 1962, hiked its appropriations for new plants and equipment 70 per cent over the funds set aside in the previous quarter. The total of $1.4 billion is the largest since the first quarter of 1957. Iron Age magazine says most of this sum will be spent in 1963.

The metalworking industry includes primary metals, fabricated metal products, both electrical a nonelectrical machinery, transportation equipment, including autos, and instruments.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York reports today that the largest net increase in credit in 1962 was in the mortgage field. It says much was due to increase in new construction. But lending was stimulated "apparently also by an increase in borrowing against existing buildings."

The insurance group's breakdown of use of funds in the capital market says that a record $24.4 billion went into mortgages, largely on one to four family nonfarm housing. Some $5.5 billion went into consumer credit.

Business raised $15 billions by corporate bond and stock issues and business credit. The Federal Reserve Board says outstanding business loans by banks rose by more than $4 billion, or 9 per cent—twice the rate of the previous year, with demand strongest in the second half of 1962.

Where did all the funds for investment and credit come from?

Individuals put up most of it through their savings. Thrift institutions added $22.9 billion to the capital market. This included growing sums in life insurance, savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks and corporate pension funds. The gain over 1961 was $3 billion.

The commercial banking system added $20.7 billion, also up $3 billion. This reflected both the Federal Reserve policy of credit ease, giving the banks more funds to lend, and a spurt in time and savings deposits after interest rates were raised.

The three levels of government offered $5 billion for credit needs from federal, state and local government investment funds.

Corporations, fire and casualty companies and foreign investors contributed $14.5 billion to the U.S. capital market, against $8.8 billion the previous year.

Economic growth depends on many factors. But a major force is the health of the capital market. It seems to be very good.

Kaman Sales Hit New High But Earnings Drop

In a talk to company employees, Charles H. Kaman, president of Kaman Aircraft Corp., Bloomfield, Conn., announced that sales for the year 1962 peaked at a new high of over $75 million, that net earnings at $802,500 were down from the previous year and that adjustments of manpower levels and executive salaries in line with existing contract commitments are necessary to help the company maintain its competitive position.

The reduction in employment amounts to 8.5 per cent on a company-wide basis. Executive salaries will be reduced by 10 per cent-15 per cent.

Financial information released by Kaman shows the Bloomfield helicopter manufacturer's sales for the year ending Dec. 31, 1962, were $75,279,500. Sales for 1961 totaled $59,744,617. Net earnings for 1962 decreased by $122,597 from the 1961 figure of $925,087. This decrease in earnings is largely attributable to substantial helicopter development costs in the past year.

Net income per share in 1962 was $1.58 on 506,912 shares outstanding compared to net earnings of $1.82 per share in 1961 based on the same number of shares. On the 482,894 shares outstanding at the end of 1961, earnings per share were $1.92.

The personnel moves, effective March 1, are tied to other company programs all aimed at reducing Kaman's operating costs. Officers' salaries will be cut by 15 per cent and other executives on the treasury payroll will have their salaries reduced by 10 per cent.

The employment reduction will affect approximately 400 of Kaman Aircraft's 4,700 employees in all of the company's Connecticut plants. Kaman emphasized that in line with company policy, laying off and rehiring of production personnel is strictly on a seniority basis. Approximately 250 company employees in the Hartford area incorporating plants in Hartford, Bloomfield, and Windsor Locks and 150 employees in the Moosup plant will be affected.

Major contracts on which work progressed during 1962 were the United States Navy UH-2 Seasprite helicopter and the United States Air Force HH-43B Huskie helicopter. Fleet deliveries of the high speed, all-weather Seasprite to units on both coasts were begun in late December and will continue thru the year 1964. Deliveries of the HH-43B to the Air Force and to foreign governments continued and are scheduled well into 1964.

The company's divisions and subsidiaries expanded their efforts. Kaman Nuclear in Colorado Springs, added to its staff and facilities to match growth of ctu business. AirKaman, Inc., whose business is sales and service of aircraft at Bradley Field, moved into new facilities adjacent to the main terminal and successfully completed its first full year of operation.

The company extended its diversification program during 1962. Acquired for cash and stock was Power Transmission Systems, Inc. of North Caldwell, N. J., manufacturers of precision gears and transmissions for the aircraft industry. Also added as a division was Kaman Instruments, formerly known as Texas Bio-Nuclear, in Austing, Tex., which specializes in nuclear devices, instrumentation and biomedical engineering.

Personal Debts, Economic Growth Both Slow Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Personal debts have been rising much faster than the national debt. But the rate has slowed down in the last year or so—just as has the rate of economic growth.

And many advocates of a big federal tax cut now hold that this would lead both consumers and business to spend more and incline them to borrow more. Together spending and borrowing would act as a tonic to the rate of general economic growth.

All of this is conjecture. No one can be sure what people will do with any federal tax saving. They may spend it all. Or they may increase their rate of savings which has been going up of late. Or they may use the federal income tax saving to pay all the various other forms of taxation which have been going up and seem likely to continue on that path.

Total private indebtedness was $140 billion in 1945. In five years it jumped 79 per cent, in the next five 60 per cent, and from 1955 to 1960 it went up 45 per cent. In the last two years it has risen 15 per cent to $672 billion.

Chief reasons given for the slowing of the rate were smaller gains in home building, in business spending for new plant and equipment and in going in hock for consumer durables.

The federal debt has risen since 1945 at a comparatively slow rate from $259 billion to around $304 billion. State and local government debts have risen much faster.

The U.S. Treasury is now running a deficit and expects this to increase. But the debt rise will still be moderate if compared with the growth of the economy as a whole. Output of goods and services is now running at around $563 billion a year.

And while consumers have been busy running up a huge total of debts, they also have been building a huge total of savings in various forms.

Commercial bank savings deposits have soared, partly because of the inducement of higher interest rates. So have funds in mutual savings banks. Savings and loan associations report the trend is continuing this year. Life insurance companies are taking in more premiums. Credit unions report gains. Even the total invested in U.S. savings bonds climbs in spite of the competition with other forms of saving that pay more.

But beyond the generally accepted forms of savings, the public has been putting increasingly large sums into various forms of personal security, some private and some public.

Together these are now taking in about a billion dollars a week, the Institute of Life Insurance figures. It notes a steady increase in the amount flowing into life insurance and annuities, into health insurance and into corporate pension funds. These private forms of personal protection took in $11 billion in 1950 and more than $27 billion last year.

So while debts of all forms have risen over the years, so have savings and the programs to secure against future needs.

'Profit Sharing'

Would the idea of profit sharing provide a cure for strikes? Some people think so. We don't think so because we believe that the cause of strikes is more deep seated than the simple matter of a wage adjustment.

The reason for labor unrest and the successful agitation of the labor bosses derives not from some particular low wage in a given case, but from a widespread ignorance of the economic system. This is illustrated painfully each year when, after obtaining an increase in wages which appears to be satisfactory all around, the union brings pressure to bear and in succeeding years tries to get still higher wages.

There is no end to the process. Nor would there be if a profit-sharing scheme were relied upon to solve the problem.

But let's see if we can make the point crystal clear.

There are a number of factors that go into the production of any good or the providing of any service. To simplify, we can say that there are three basic factors: 1) Management, 2) Labor, 3) Investment. Of course each of these can be subdivided repeatedly, but in the main these three factors must always exist.

Then, of course, there is the customer, who is the final arbiter in a free market. It is the customer who actually selects the management, pays the labor and makes possible a return to the investor.

If the customer does not appear to buy the goods or services furnished, then all managemen, labor and investment is in vain.

In a sense, management and labor are both labor. And investment, in a real sense, is merely the result of prior labor carefully nurtured and preserved so that investment can take place. In other words, the human element in all production and distribution is the element with which we must be concerned.

There are, in fact, just two ways to earn money. One way, the most prevalent, is to exchange one's time, energy or skills for so many dollars and cents. When persons on the management team do this, they are paid what is called a salary. When persons on the labor team do this, they are paid what is called a wage.

This is terminology, only. Both management and labor exchange their respective talents, skills and time for a stipulated fee in money.

Now, there are two kinds of investors. One kind of investor is a lender. He takes his savings and he loans them out at a specified rate of interest. Within a stated period of time he will be paid a return on his loan, and at the end of that period of time the sum that he loaned will also be returned. Such an investor earns, what is called interest.

The second kind of an investor does not lend his money, he buys an interest in a business, an industry or what have you. He may buy it all, in which case he is called the owner. Or he may buy a small piece of the business, in which case he is sometimes a partner and sometimes a stock owner. Owner, partners in ownership, or stock owners are paid what is, in the last case, called a dividend. But whatever it is called, the payment to the owner, the partner or the stockholder, comes from profits.

Now, wages and salaries are not paid out of profits. They are an expense of doing business. Interest payments on borrowed money are likewise figured as an expense of doing business.

When ALL expenses of doing business are paid, IF there is anything left it goes to the owner, is divided among the partners, or is divided among the stockholders.

The suggestion that either management or labor be paid in a "profit-sharing" way is to confuse the terminology and also to create more problems than the idea solves.

One of the reasons for this confusion is caused by the fact that so few people understand the difference between an owner and a manager. And this confusion is enhanced because many times the owner is also a manager, or the manager may be a partner or an owner of stock. But it is also true of those on the labor team. Many an hourly rated workers buys stock and thus becomes an owner. As a worker, he would still be paid wages in exchange for his time and skills. But as a stock owner he would also be paid dividends, which derive from profits which accrue after all expenses are paid, including his wages.

Chance or Custom

In dealing with others one should always discriminate between the accidental and habitual.

Tell Workers the Truth

If we have been successful in the foregoing, in setting forth both the different ways of earning money and the different chores performed in industry, then we have laid the foundation of our objection to the concept of "profit sharing."

The ability to become an owner resides in the ability of the person, whether employed, whether a manager, whether an hourly rated worker or whatever, to save a portion of his money. If he can save money and wishes to risk it by lending it, by buying stock, or by becoming a partner in a business, the doors of industry are always open to him.

And when he saves and invests, one way or another, his investment is predicated upon an expectation in a share of the profits or in a payment of interest. If he is not going to receive a dividend or if he doubts that interest due him could be paid then, surely, there is no reason for him to risk his savings.

In order for investments to be made, then, it is essential that sound financial practices be a normal part of any business venture. If a member of the management team or of the worker team was to begin receiving a cut in the profits WITHOUT either of them having made an investment, this would be unfair and a disservice to those who have made an investment. They would be receiving money they had not earned. And this would only mean that those who had earnd that money by having made an investment, would be robbed of what they were entitled to receive.

This is, essentially, what the term "profit sharing" entails. It means that members of the labor team are going to get a cut in the profits without their having to make an investment.

Since the door is almost always open to them to make an investment (if not in the company where they are employed, in thousands of other companies), there is no condition which warrants a plundering action of investors so that non-investors can be paid.

The history of companies which have adopted a "profit sharing" program bears this out. In a few cases, "profit sharing" has apparently been very successful. But in most cases, the same unrest and the same union agitation resumes after a brief truce.

To be precise, the term "profit sharing" is a misnomer. For when a worker or a manager is permitted to take home a certain amount of "profit," the fact is that that profit constitutes a deferred wage or a bonus and is not really a share in profits after all.

By definition, money given to workers whether managers or hourly rated workers, constitutes a part of their wage and is NOT a part of profits. If the money so given them is in excess of the agreed or contracted for wage, then it is a bonus or a commission or a delayed raise, or something else relating to wages.

In companies where success has apparently followed the introduction of a "profit - sharing" plan, what has happened usually is the introduction of a kind of commission payment for labor based upon the overall sales of the company. And where the company has had a few successful years, this payment can often be quite high and, of course, can make the workers very happy.

But if a bad year comes when business declines, and when there are few if any profits, the large commissions or bonuses are dispensed with to the accompaniment of much grumbling and job changing.

We would contend that a businessman would be on firmer footing if he attempted to educate his workers as to the economic facts of life, rather than to deceive them into thinking that they can share in the profits without making an investment. Such deception may appear to be successful for awhile. But in the long run the workers will discover the truth and apparent gains will be wiped out in a new round of misunderstanding and increased resentment that management did not tell them the truth in the beginning.

School Board Can't Read

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Altho I do not approve of state or municipal censorship of the products of writers (for one thing, it always defeats itself by calling attention to the objectionable book or article), I realize that school boards must concern themselves with the sort of literary fare that is assigned in class to immature boys and girls. No responsible school board could afford to sit idly by if the senior class in high school should be required by a teacher to read the more flagrantly physiological passages in D. H. Lawrence's unexpurgated "Lady Chatterly's Lover," for one example, or such recent obscenities as "Naked Lunch," for another. The high school teacher who lacks plain, ordinary horse sense in the matter of prescribing a reading list for students is not fit to hold his job, and in the last analysis it is the duty of the school board to render judgments on arguable cases.

Sometimes, however, it is the school board itself that proves itself unfit to oversee the education of the young. This seems to have been the case in Wrenshall, Minn., where a teacher, Richard Wyman, has been forced to resign by the board for making his English students in the college preparatory class read George Orwell's magnificent satire, "1984." (Mr. Wyman is now a hod carrier.) This is the weirdest instance of suppression by a school board that has come to this columnist's attention in many, many years.

INDICTMENT

Just what a soundly patriotic school board could find objectionable in the Orwell novel is utterly beyond my comprehension. The story of "1984" is, as every good American Republican or Democrat should know, a fierce indictment of the sort of dictatorship in countries like Castro's Cuba and Mao Tse - Tung's China, where regimentation and ideological murder have been carried to extremes that haven't been witnessed since Hitler and Stalin were liquidating Jews and Kulaks by the thousands. No teacher who wishes to instill in his students a hatred for communism or fascism could do better than assign "1984" for reading and discussion. Indeed, if our patriotic societies were really on their toes, they would be busy crusading to make this particular Orwell novel compulsory reading in all the high schools of the land. No better warning against communism is to be found in print.

When I heard of the astonishing dismissal of Mr. Wyman, I went out and bought a paperback edition of "1984" to make sure my memories of it were correct. I hadn't read it for 13 years. It was just as forceful and shivery as I had recalled. The figure of big brother, Mr. Orwell's scathing portrait of the ultimate in a totalitarian dictator, made me tremble all over again lest we lost our grip on ourselves and capitulate in the Cold War.

True enough, it is an "obscene and immoral" society of the future that Mr. Orwell fears may come into being everywhere on this poor, benighted globe. Thus the Wrenshall school board may be technically correct when it uses the word "obscene" to describe some of the happenings in "1984." But to label the book itself "immoral" or to think of its lesson as "obscene" is to indulge in the same sort of deplorable "newspeak" and "doubletalk" that Mr. Orwell has satirized as the anti-human language of the 1984 Communist "thought police."

'TRUTH'

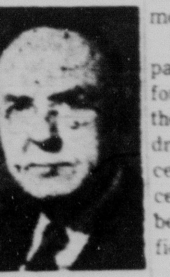
In "1984" Orwell warns against the perversion of meaning that comes about when Communist "ministries of truth" take over the job of brainwashing the inhabitants of a country. In the "newspeak" era of "1984" the Ministry of Truth — or "Minitrue" has succeeded in forcing all English Socialists — or "Ingsocs" — to believe without blinking in such slogans as "War Is Peace" and "Freedom Is Slavery" and "Ignorance Is Strength." "Big brother is watching you" is the warning blared from every wall and from every television screen thruout the unfortunate "Ingsoc" land.

Well, what in the world can be "immoral" or "obscene" about putting high school students on guard against the possibility that communism must create such a horrible society? Come to think of it, the school board of Wrenshall, Minn., had better go back to school itself. Its action against teacher Richard Wyman is proof positive that a majority of its members have not yet learned how to read.

It's Up to You

On Welfare and Princess Phones

By H. E. KERSHNER, L.H.D.



Writing in the well-known Washington newsletter Human Events of September 29th, Ken Tomilson reveals that "a sampling of families receiving Aid to Dependent Children showed 57 per cent were actually ineligible to receive the money."

The federal government pays to such children about $850 million annually. Subcommittee Chairman Robert Byrd who headed the investigation, declared that such relief handouts to ineligibles are "not helping the child. The money goes to the whiskey needs of the mother and her paramours." Congressman Byrd declared that the children would be better off out of the homes where "they are kicked around by the paramour, hear vile language and dirty jokes, and aren't given the care the mother should give them."

Many mothers receiving such payments for their children were found to be living with the father of at least some of the children. Some recipients of aid received thousands of dollars in excess of the amounts that would be legal were the cases bona fide.

In one sampling of 21 "general welfare" cases, only one was found meriting aid. Many of these so-called "clients" had long police records.

One investigator turned up the fact that there were 167 television sets in 155 homes receiving child welfare payments. Many had pastel-shaded telephones costing an extra $7.50 and others had "Princess" models costing an extra $5 to install plus a $1.50 rental charge monthly. Some "relief homes" had two telephones and two of them had three each.

Besides the enormous waste of the taxpayers' money, what about the waste of human resources of the large number of people being taught to live by stealing money from the public?

During the past 100 years our population has increased 22-fold, but our bureaucracy has increased 500-fold. With our bureaucracy increasing more than 20 times as fast as our population, how long will it be until we are all working for government?

In 1950, per capita federal taxation amounted to just over $250. During the past 12 years, it has more than doubled and stands today at $524 for every person in our country.

FIRST LOYALTY

Only so long as Americans remember that it is possible for loyalty to government to be treason to country, obedience to government can be disobedience to God, can they remain Americans, can the United States remain America and can we insure that our government will remain loyal to country and obedient to God.

URGENT PROBLEMS

To the Editor:

Because of my very deep concern for our nation, I respectfully submit some of the more immediate problems which so many of us feel are urgent.

First, disarmament, which is being implemented at this very moment, should never be considered as long as we have an enemy who is dedicated to the task of burying us.

Secondly, we have the Monroe Doctrine to keep the Communists out of our hemisphere. President Kennedy has had the complete support of the people, for many months, to use any "force" necessary to rid us of this menace. Communist Cuba remains.

Thirdly, we have adequate laws to keep strict control of the communist party in our own country. Why are they free to subvert, thru lectures, at large universities thruout the nation? Tons of "red" propaganda every day at our expense, is resulting in huge deficits in the postal department even after increasing the rates. And they're still defying the Justice Department when they refuse to register.

Fourth, deficit spending is one certain way to bankrupt all of us. I'm sure President Kennedy will agree that his father used no such scheme to amass his fortune. I am positive that he would not take suggestions from any of the president's present advisors — Walter Heller, Walt Rostow or Arthur Schlesinger. The majority of Americans desire to live in freedom as opposed to the "wefare state."

Last, but certainly not least, it has been 17 years since we started the unconstitutional program of giving aid and comfort to the enemy thru foreign aid. It is a well known fallacy to assume that any huge sums of money will change the political ideas of the Khrushchevs, Titos, Sukarnos or any of the other numerous "red" dictators. On the contrary, we have made it possible for them to remain in power as "solvent dictators." They have been invited to our country and given the red carpet treatment, to the terrible embarrassment of all thinking Americans.

Please reconsider Romulo Betancourt's proposed official visit this month. Must we give the air of respectability to these murdering dictators? Many of us are completely convinced that we cannot do business with these evil forces, either thru our United States government or the Godless United Nations.

WORLD PLAN

To the Editor:

Our God-given freedoms and sovereignty are treading extremely dangerous grounds these days, and I hope that all Americans are now aware and on guard. The plan to surrender our nation is in full swing, and is rapidly taking strides in this direction via the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Dr. Robert Morris recently warned us that the Washington traitors plan to merge our nation with that of the enemy. (Read that last sentence again.)

This treasonous plan to eliminate our armed forces and dismantle our military establishments, thereby creating an overpowering World Army (U.N. Police Force), will place us all at the mercy of the Communist conspirators.

Remember the "mercy" which Katanga recently received from this monstrous organization? The same will happen right here in the U.S.A. once we have been disarmed, and "merged" with the enemy. Make no mistake about it, this is the plan of the New Frontier, and more and more of the conspirators in Washington are revealing by word and deed that merger with the Soviets is our policy today.

As these foreboding shadows fall across our beloved land, one wonders what madness reigns today, and what variety of "shrunken heads" are now in control of our nation? There is nothing in our Constitution which allows the president, or anyone else, to disarm and merge our nation with our avowed enemy. This is the highest treason against America, and must be stopped now, if we are to survive the clenched fist of the international conspirators.

There is something you can do to help. Congressman James Utt (Calif.) has introduced a bill — HR 428 — which would abolish the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. We must give him all the help we can, for the hour is growing alarmingly late. Write in support of this legislation, and continue to write. Send your letters to Thomas E. Morgan, chairman, House Foreign Affairs Committee, House Office Bldg., Washington D. C., and demand that this bill be released for vote immediately. A note or copy of your letter to Congressman Utt would also be appreciated, so that he will know many are supporting his valiant efforts in this last-ditch fight for our country.

Abraham Lincoln said: "To sin by silence when they should be protesting, makes cowards of men." All cowards, move over, and let only Americans stand guard tonight!

New York Strike Takes Right To Know Away From Readers

From Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., News

There are people who agree with this newspaper, editorially, most of the time. There are others who disagree with our opinion violently, all the time. And there still is another school that wouldn't give a tinker's dam about what we think, anytime. All of this is as it should be.

But there is a common strand among these three segments. They all have a right to read The News, to appraise it for themselves, or to arrive at no conclusion.

These are the inherent rights of every newspaper reader. Nobody can take an individual by the scruff of the neck and make him read and - or analyze. We subscribe to these prerogatives, just as we abide by the separation of news columns from editorial policy.

These are among the things in which we believe, plus the reader's right to have his newspaper, come hell or high water. Production - wise we are committed to that concept. On a matter of principle, we are dedicated to that obligation.

For these reasons, we look in horror at what is transpiring in New York City with the newspaper strike. Essentially, the some 5 million newspaper readers there are being denied one of their four freedoms: the freedom of the press.

To be sure, the day's events are reported in some degree by television and radio newscasts. Neither medium, however, can give a full accounting for the simple reason that there is not enough time in a broadcasting day for complete reporting, especially when regularly scheduled programs and sight and sound commercials consume an appreciable amount of the time.

Nor can these media express the wide range of opinion and background, non - hard news analyses, that are made available to the reader by the columnists. There are many other inadequacies.

But the purpose here is not to point up the short-comings of one news medium in contrast with another. What is at issue is the very basic point that New York's newspaper readers have a right to the unimpeded access to the news, and no one segment of the economy has the authority to abrogate that constitutional guarantee.

This attitude on our part is not new, of course. Nor is it singular. What is interesting, though, is that a most articulate and knowledgeable columnist of the liberal school concurs in this line of reasoning. We think that the passing events are compelling an agonizing reappraisal among that school.

What brings all this into purview is a column written by James A. (Scotty) Reston, chief of Washington bureau for the New York Times which, for apparent reasons, was speared by a mandatory "kill" order. Only one newspaper in the Times Service syndicate published the account. It was the Houston Chronicle, which had already gone to press.

The gist of Reston's column was a complaint that might be expected from a newsman. He complained of the prolonged New York newspaper shutdown resulting from what basically is an intramural battle in a union power struggle.

Reston very accurately noted that the New York printing union had succeeded in doing what the President is prohibited from doing by the Constitution — censoring the press. (This is, of course, apart from a policy of managed news, not governed directly by the Constitution.)

The columnist views the New York news blackout under the generalship of New York's printing union president as "anarchy" and he contends that if newspapers cannot be produced in a union shop, they should be produced in a non - union plant, because "the present situation cannot be accepted in a democratic society." He continued:

"This may be an acceptable situation in a meat factory or steel mill, but newspapers are not pork chops or iron fences. Unless everybody from Jefferson to Mencken and Gerald Johnson has been kidding us, our job is to print the news and raise hell, with the kind permission of Bert Powers (New York printers' union president) if possible, but without it if necessary.

"I know this view is not shared by all publishers, but reporters are part of this profession, too, and if, failing to make an honorable peace, we acquiesce in the proposition that news is a dispensable commodity like soap, then we shall be treated like soap peddlers and deserve it. Values and duties have become so confused that even the suggestion of publishing without the consent of the unions is now regarded as a declaration of war. How the old editors who founded our press would have hooted at that!"

That, we think, is a succinct appraisal of the fundamentals of the New York newspaper strike, which finally is coming to the serious attention of President Kennedy.

We will go Reston one step further: This is a basic right of all Americans — to have the freedom to perform their daily chores and earn their livelihood when they so desire. In this pursuit, the newspaperman is no privileged character because of the association with freedom of the press.

The freedom of choice is the right of every American; journalist or printer, journeyman or professional.

Personality Differences

By DR. DAVID ELKIND
Director, Child Study Center
University of Denver

Last fall, when I was doing some research in a public school, a teacher commented on one of the boys I was to test. "He's not at all like his older brother," she said, "his brother was quiet and well behaved but this one, he's a devil!" The teacher felt somehow that because the two boys came from the same family, they should have the same personality. She was, like many parents, puzzled about how these personality differences arise and how to handle them when they occur in children of the same family.

By personality we usually mean a person's individual, habitual ways of acting towards other people. Some of these ways of acting are the result of heredity. Temperament, for example, is a person's tendency to be moody or cheerful, fast or slow moving. While temperament can be learned it is more frequently inborn. Even during the first few days of life there are noticeable differences among infants in their activity and emotional responsiveness.

Heredity also determines our appearance and therefore the way people react to us. The way people react to us in turn affects the way we think about ourselves and the picture we have of ourselves. It is not surprising that attractive people tend on the whole to be more happy than those who are less attractive.

Because no two children — except identical twins — have the same heredity, there is much leeway for differences in temperament and appearance and therefore in personality among children in the same family.

Personality differences are also produced by the setting in which the child develops. Even tho two children grow up in the same home, they do not grow up in the same environment. Those parents who have once gone thru the experience of handling an infant are much more at ease and skillfull the second time around. Also, by the time second and third children arrive the family is more financially secure and the parents are more adjusted to one another as mates. For all these reasons the first child in the family does not have the same parents as his younger brothers or sisters.

The relative skill, self-confidence and maturity of parents have important effects upon their children's personality. First children tend to be less aggressive and more conservative than youngsters who come later. Middle children who are sometimes neglected also tend to be less aggressive and outgoing than younger brothers or sisters. The youngest child was never displaced from the center of his parents' attention and therefore never experienced the loss of security which comes with such displacement. Often the youngest child is the most aggressive and self-confident child in the family.

The above remarks about the effects of temperament, appearance and birth order on personality are, of course, only generalizations based on limited investigations. Generalizations, like ready-made clothes, never fit everybody, but do fit a sufficiently large number of people to be useful. These generalizations help explain why children in the same home can have such different personalities.

For parents, differences in personality mean that techniques which worked with their first youngster may be complete flops with their second and third. New strategies have to be mapped out for each child. This is a hard, painful and time-consuming activity to go thru, but benefits both child and parents.

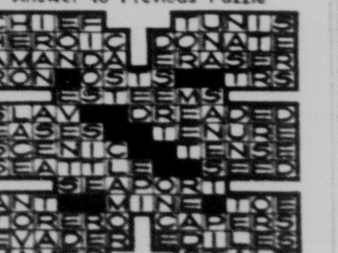
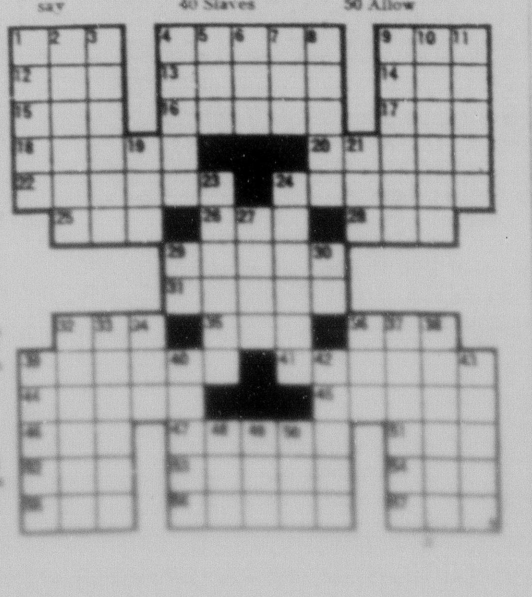
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 156: "Would I receive any metal (such as gold, silver, etc.) for the redemption of the paper money that I have in my billfold? How can I get it?"

Answer: If you were a foreigner in a foreign land, you could demand and receive gold in payment for your paper money, but not if you are a citizen of the United States.

In the United States, gold certificates no longer are redeemable in gold. Silver certificates are, and one may take a silver certificate to the bank and demand payment in silver dollars.

Federal Reserve notes bear the notation that they are "redeemable in lawful money at the United States Treasury, or at any Federal Reserve bank." This means they are redeemable in whatever Congress says is money, whether it is paper, metal or brass.

'Profit Sharing'

Would the idea of profit sharing provide a cure for strikes? Some people think so. We don't think so because we believe that the cause of strikes is more deep seated than the simple matter of a wage adjustment.

The reason for labor unrest and the successful agitation of the labor bosses derives not from some particular low wage in a given case, but from a widespread ignorance of the economic system. This is illustrated painfully each year when, after obtaining an increase in wages which appears to be satisfactory all around, the union brings pressure to bear and in succeeding years tries to get still higher wages.

There is no end to the process. Nor would there be if a profit-sharing scheme were relied upon to solve the problem.

But let's see if we can make the point crystal clear.

There are a number of factors that go into the production of any good or the providing of any service. To simplify, we can say that there are three basic factors: 1) Management, 2) Labor, 3) Investment. Of course each of these can be subdivided repeatedly, but in the main these three factors must always exist.

Then, of course, there is the customer, who is the final arbiter in a free market. It is the customer who actually selects the management, pays the labor and makes possible a return to the investor.

If the customer does not appear to buy the goods or services furnished, then all managemen, labor and investment is in vain.

In a sense, management and labor are both labor. And investment, in a real sense, is merely the result of prior labor carefully nurtured and preserved so that investment can take place. In other words, the human element in all production and distribution is the element with which we must be concerned.

There are, in fact, just two ways to earn money. One way, the most prevalent, is to exchange one's time, energy or skills for so many dollars and cents. When persons on the management team do this, they are paid what is called a salary. When persons on the labor team do this, they are paid what is called a wage.

This is terminology, only. Both management and labor exchange their respective talents, skills and time for a stipulated fee in money.

Now, there are two kinds of investors. One kind of investor is a lender. He takes his savings and he loans them out at a specified rate of interest. Within a stated period of time he will be paid a return on his loan, and at the end of that period of time the sum that he loaned will also be returned. Such an investor earns, what is called interest.

The second kind of an investor does not lend his money, he buys an interest in a business, an industry or what have you. He may buy it all, in which case he is called the owner. Or he may buy a small piece of the business, in which case he is sometimes a partner and sometimes a stock owner. Owner, partners in ownership, or stock owners are paid what is, in the last case, called a dividend. But whatever it is called, the payment to the owner, the partner or the stockholder, comes from profits.

Now, wages and salaries are not paid out of profits. They are an expense of doing business. Interest payments on borrowed money are likewise figured as an expense of doing business.

When ALL expenses of doing business are paid, IF there is anything left it goes to the owner, is divided among the partners, or is divided among the stockholders.

The suggestion that either management or labor be paid in a "profit-sharing" way is to confuse the terminology and also to create more problems than the idea solves.

One of the reasons for this confusion is caused by the fact that so few people understand the difference between an owner and a manager. And this confusion is enhanced because many times the owner is also a manager, or the manager may be a partner or an owner of stock. But it is also true of those on the labor team. Many an hourly rated workers buys stock and thus becomes an owner. As a worker, he would still be paid wages in exchange for his time and skills. But as a stock owner he would also be paid dividends, which derive from profits which accrue after all expenses are paid, including his wages.

Chance or Custom

In dealing with others one should always discriminate between the accidental and habitual.

Tell Workers the Truth

If we have been successful in the foregoing, in setting forth both the different ways of earning money and the different chores performed in industry, then we have laid the foundation of our objection to the concept of "profit sharing."

The ability to become an owner resides in the ability of the person, whether employed, whether a manager, whether an hourly rated worker or whatever, to save a portion of his money. If he can save money and wishes to risk it by lending it, by buying stock, or by becoming a partner in a business, the doors of industry are always open to him.

And when he saves and invests, one way or another, his investment is predicated upon an expectation in a share of the profits or in a payment of interest. If he is not going to receive a dividend or if he doubts that interest due him could be paid then, surely, there is no reason for him to risk his savings.

In order for investments to be made, then, it is essential that sound financial practices be a normal part of any business venture. If a member of the management team or of the worker team was to begin receiving a cut in the profits WITHOUT either of them having made an investment, this would be unfair and a disservice to those who have made an investment. They would be receiving money they had not earned. And this would only mean that those who had earned that money by having made an investment, would be robbed of what they were entitled to receive.

This is, essentially, what the term "profit sharing" entails. It means that members of the labor team are going to get a cut in the profits without their having to make an investment.

Since the door is almost always open to them to make an investment if not in the company where they are employed, in thousands of other companies), there is no condition which warrants a plundering action of investors so that non-investors can be paid.

The history of companies which have adopted a "profit sharing" program bears this out. In a few cases, "profit sharing" has apparently been very successful. But in most cases, the same unrest and the same union agitation resumes after a brief truce.

To be precise, the term "profit sharing" is a misnomer. For when a worker or a manager is permitted to take home a certain amount of "profit," the fact is that that profit constitutes a deferred wage or a bonus and is not really a share in profits after all.

By definition, money given to workers whether managers or hourly rated workers, constitutes a part of their wage and is NOT a part of profits. If the money so given them is in excess of the agreed or contracted for wage, then it is a bonus or a commission or a delayed raise, or something else relating to wages.

In companies where success has apparently followed the introduction of a "profit - sharing" plan, what has happened usually is the introduction of a kind of commission payment for labor based upon the overall sales of the company. And where the company has had a few successful years, this payment can often be quite high and, of course, can make the workers very happy.

But if a bad year comes when business declines, and when there are few if any profits, the large commissions or bonuses are dispensed with to the accompaniment of much grumbling and job changing.

We would contend that a businessman would be on firmer footing if he attempted to educate his workers as to the economic facts of life, rather than to deceive them into thinking that they can share in the profits without making an investment. Such deception may appear to be successful for awhile. But in the long run the workers will discover the truth and apparent gains will be wiped out in a new round of misunderstanding and increased resentment that management did not tell them the truth in the beginning.

School Board Can't Read

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Altho I do not approve of state or municipal censorship of the products of writers (for one thing, it always defeats itself by calling attention to the objectionable book or article), I realize that school boards must concern themselves with the sort of literary fare that is assigned in class to immature boys and girls. No responsible school board could afford to sit idly by if the senior class in high school should be required by a teacher to read the more flagrantly physiological passages in D. H. Lawrence's unexpurgated "Lady Chatterly's Lover," for one example, or such recent obscenities as "Naked Lunch," for another. The high school teacher who lacks plain, ordinary horse sense in the matter of prescribing a reading list for students is not fit to hold his job, and in the last analysis it is the duty of the school board to render judgments on arguable cases.

Sometimes, however, it is the school board itself that proves itself unfit to oversee the education of the young. This seems to have been the case in Wrenshall, Minn., where a teacher, Richard Wyman, has been forced to resign by the board for making his English students in the college preparatory class read George Orwell's magnificent satire, "1984." (Mr. Wyman is now a hod carrier.) This is the weirdest instance of suppression by a school board that has come to this columnist's attention in many, many years.

INDICTMENT

Just what a soundly patriotic school board could find objectionable in the Orwell novel is utterly beyond my comprehension. The story of "1984" is, as every good American Republican or Democrat should know, a fierce indictment of the sort of dictatorship in countries like Castro's Cuba and Mao Tse - Tung's China, where regimentation and ideological murder have been carried to extremes that haven't been witnessed since Hitler and Stalin were liquidating Jews and Kulaks by the thousands. No teacher who wishes to instill in his students a hatred for communism or fascism could do better than assign "1984" for reading and discussion. Indeed, if our patriotic societies were really on their toes, they would be busy crusading to make this particular Orwell novel compulsory reading in all the high schools of the land. No better warning against communism is to be found in print.

When I heard of the astonishing dismissal of Mr. Wyman, I went out and bought a paperback edition of "1984" to make sure my memories of it were correct. I hadn't read it for 13 years. It was just as forceful and shivery as I had recalled. The figure of big brother, Mr. Orwell's scathing portrait of the ultimate in a totalitarian dictator, made me tremble all over again lest we lost our grip on ourselves and capitulate in the Cold War.

True enough, it is an "obscene and immoral" society of the future that Mr. Orwell fears may come into being everywhere on this poor, benighted globe. Thus the Wrenshall school board may be technically correct when it uses the word "obscene" to describe some of the happenings in "1984." But to label the book itself "immoral" or to think of its lesson as "obscene" is to indulge in the same sort of deplorable "newspeak" and "doubletalk" that Mr. Orwell has satirized as the anti-human language of the 1984 Communist "thought police."

'TRUTH'

In "1984" Orwell warns against the perversion of meaning that comes about when Communist "ministries of truth" take over the job of brainwashing the inhabitants of a country. In the "newspeak" era of "1984" the Ministry of Truth — or "Minitrue" has succeeded in forcing all English Socialists — or "Ingsocs" — to believe without blinking in such slogans as "War Is Peace" and "Freedom Is Slavery" and "Ignorance Is Strength." "Big brother is watching you" is the warning blared from every wall and from every television screen thruout the unfortunate "Ingsoc" land.

Well, what in the world can be "immoral" or "obscene" about putting high school students on guard against the possibility that communism must create such a horrible society? Come to think of it, the school board of Wrenshall, Minn., had better go back to school itself. Its action against teacher Richard Wyman is proof positive that a majority of its members have not yet learned how to read.

It's Up to You

On Welfare and Princess Phones

By H. E. KERSHNER, L.H.D.

Writing in the well-known Washington newsletter Human Events of September 29th, Ken Tomilson reveals that "a sampling of families receiving Aid to Dependent Children showed 57 per cent were actually ineligible to receive the money."

The federal government pays to such children about $850 million annually. Subcommittee Chairman Robert Byrd who headed the investigation, declared that such relief handouts to ineligibles are "not helping the child. The money goes to the whiskey needs of the mother and her paramours." Congressman Byrd declared that the children would be better off out of the homes where "they are kicked around by the paramour, hear vile language and dirty jokes, and aren't given the care the mother should give them."

Many mothers receiving such payments for their children were found to be living with the father of at least some of the children. Some recipients of aid received thousands of dollars in excess of the amounts that would be legal were the cases bona fide.

In one sampling of 21 "general welfare" cases, only one was found meriting aid. Many of these so-called "clients" had long police records.

One investigator turned up the fact that there were 167 television sets in 155 homes receiving child welfare payments. Many had pastel-shaded telephones costing an extra $7.50 and others had "Princess" models costing an extra $5 to install plus a $1.50 rental charge monthly. Some "relief homes" had two telephones and two of them had three each.

Besides the enormous waste of the taxpayers' money, what about the waste of human resources of the large number of people being taught to live by stealing money from the public?

During the past 100 years our population has increased 22-fold, but our bureaucracy has increased 500-fold. With our bureaucracy increasing more than 20 times as fast as our population, how long will it be until we are all working for government?

In 1950, per capita federal taxation amounted to just over $250. During the past 12 years, it has more than doubled and stands today at $524 for every person in our country.

FIRST LOYALTY

To the Editor:

Only so long as Americans remember that it is possible for loyalty to government to be treason to country, obedience to government can be disobedience to God, can they remain Americans, can the United States remain America and can we insure that our government will remain loyal to country and obedient to God.

URGENT PROBLEMS

To the Editor:

Because of my very deep concern for our nation, I respectfully submit some of the more immediate problems which so many of us feel are urgent.

First, disarmament, which is being implemented at this very moment, should never be considered as long as we have an enemy who is dedicated to the task of burying us.

Secondly, we have the Monroe Doctrine to keep the Communists out of our hemisphere. President Kennedy has had the complete support of the people, for many months, to use any "force" necessary to rid us of this menace. Communist Cuba remains.

Thirdly, we have adequate laws to keep strict control of the communist party in our own country. Why are they free to subvert, thru lectures, at large universities thruout the nation? Tons of "red" propaganda every day at our expense, is resulting in huge deficits in the postal department even after increasing the rates. And they're still defying the Justice Department when they refuse to register.

Fourth, deficit spending is one certain way to bankrupt all of us. I'm sure President Kennedy will agree that his father used no such scheme to amass his fortune. I am positive that he would not take suggestions from any of the president's present advisors — Walter Heller, Walt Rostow or Arthur Schlesinger. The majority of Americans desire to live in freedom as opposed to the "wefare state."

Last, but certainly not least, it has been 17 years since we started the unconstitutional program of giving aid and comfort to the enemy thru foreign aid. It is a well known fallacy to assume that any huge sums of money will change the political ideas of the Khrushchevs, Titos, Sukarnos or any of the other numerous "red" dictators. On the contrary, we have made it possible for them to remain in power as "solvent dictators." They have been invited to our country and given the red carpet treatment, to the terrible embarrassment of all thinking Americans.

Please reconsider Romulo Betancourt's proposed official visit this month. Must we give the air of respectability to these murdering dictators? Many of us are completely convinced that we cannot do business with these evil forces, either thru our United States government or the Godless United Nations.

WORLD PLAN

To the Editor:

Our God-given freedoms and sovereignty are treading extremely dangerous grounds these days, and I hope that all Americans are now aware and on guard. The plan to surrender our nation is in full swing, and is rapidly taking strides in this direction via the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Dr. Robert Morris recently warned us that the Washington traitors plan to merge our nation with that of the enemy. (Read that last sentence again.)

This treasonous plan to eliminate our armed forces and dismantle our military establishments, thereby creating an overpowering World Army (U.N. Police Force), will place us all at the mercy of the Communist conspirators.

Remember the "mercy" which Katanga recently received from this monstrous organization? The same will happen right here in the U.S.A. once we have been disarmed, and "merged" with the enemy. Make no mistake about it, this is the plan of the New Frontier, and more and more of the conspirators in Washington are revealing by word and deed that merger with the Soviets is our policy today.

As these foreboding shadows fall across our beloved land, one wonders what madness reigns today, and what variety of "shrunken heads" are now in control of our nation? There is nothing in our Constitution which allows the president, or anyone else, to disarm and merge our nation with our avowed enemy. This is the highest treason against America, and must be stopped now, if we are to survive the clenched fist of the international conspirators.

There is something you can do to help. Congressman James Utt (Calif.) has introduced a bill — HR 428 — which would abolish the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. We must give him all the help we can, for the hour is growing alarmingly late. Write in support of this legislation, and continue to write. Send your letters to Thomas E. Morgan, chairman, House Foreign Affairs Committee, House Office Bldg., Washington D. C., and demand that this bill be released for vote immediately. A note, or copy of your letter, to Congressman Utt would also be appreciated, so that he will know many are supporting his valiant efforts in this last-ditch fight for our country.

Abraham Lincoln said: "To sin by silence when they should be protesting, makes cowards of men." All cowards, move over, and let only Americans stand guard tonight!

Personality Differences

By DR. DAVID ELKIND
Director, Child Study Center
University of Denver

Last fall, when I was doing some research in a public school, a teacher commented on one of the boys I was to test. "He's not at all like his older brother," she said, "his brother was quiet and well behaved but this one, he's a devil!" The teacher felt somehow that because the two boys came from the same family, they should have the same personality. She was, like many parents, puzzled about how these personality differences arise and how to handle them when they occur in children of the same family.

By personality we usually mean a person's individual, habitual ways of acting towards other people. Some of these ways of acting are the result of heredity. Temperament, for example, is a person's tendency to be moody or cheerful, fast or slow moving. While temperament can be learned it is more frequently inborn. Even during the first few days of life there are noticeable differences among infants in their activity and emotional responsiveness.

Heredity also determines our appearance and therefore the way people react to us. The way people react to us in turn affects the way we think about ourselves and the picture we have of ourselves. It is not surprising that attractive people tend on the whole to be more happy than those who are less attractive.

Because no two children — except identical twins — have the same heredity, there is much leeway for differences in temperament and appearance and therefore in personality among children in the same family.

Personality differences are also produced by the setting in which the child develops. Even tho two children grow up in the same home, they do not grow up in the same environment. Those parents who have once gone thru the experience of handling an infant are much more at ease and skillfull the second time around. Also, by the time second and third children arrive the family is more financially secure and the parents are more adjusted to one another as mates. For all these reasons the first child in the family does not have the same parents as his younger brothers or sisters.

The relative skill, self-confidence and maturity of parents have important effects upon their children's personality. First children tend to be less aggressive and more conservative than youngsters who come later. Middle children who are sometimes neglected also tend to be less aggressive and outgoing than younger brothers or sisters. The youngest child was never displaced from the center of his parents' attention and therefore never experienced the loss of security which comes with such displacement. Often the youngest child is the most aggressive and self-confident child in the family.

The above remarks about the effects of temperament, appearance and birth order on personality are, of course, only generalizations based on limited investigations. Generalizations, like ready-made clothes, never fit everybody, but do fit a sufficiently large number of people to be useful. These generalizations help explain why children in the same home can have such different personalities.

For parents, differences in personality mean that techniques which worked with their first youngster may be complete flops with their second and third. New strategies have to be mapped out for each child. This is a hard, painful and time-consuming activity to go thru, but benefits both child and parents.

New York Strike Takes Right To Know Away From Readers

From Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., News

There are people who agree with this newspaper, editorially, most of the time. There are others who disagree with our opinion violently, all the time. And there still is another school that wouldn't give a tinker's dam about what we think, anytime. All of this is as it should be.

But there is a common strand among these three segments. They all have a right to read The News, to appraise it for themselves, or to arrive at no conclusion.

These are the inherent rights of every newspaper reader. Nobody can take an individual by the scruff of the neck and make him read and - or analyze. We subscribe to these prerogatives, just as we abide by the separation of news columns from editorial policy.

These are among the things in which we believe, plus the reader's right to have his newspaper, come hell or high water. Production - wise we are committed to that concept. On a matter of principle, we are dedicated to that obligation.

For these reasons, we look in horror at what is transpiring in New York City with the newspaper strike. Essentially, the some 5 million newspaper readers there are being denied one of their four freedoms: the freedom of the press.

To be sure, the day's events are reported in some degree by television and radio newscasts. Neither medium, however, can give a full accounting for the simple reason that there is not enough time in a broadcasting day for complete reporting, especially when regularly scheduled programs and sight and sound commercials consume an appreciable amount of the time.

Nor can these media express the wide range of opinion and background, non - hard news analyses, that are made available to the reader by the columnists. There are many other inadequacies.

But the purpose here is not to point up the short-comings of one news medium in contrast with another. What is at issue is the very basic point that New York's newspaper readers have a right to the unimpeded access to the news, and no one segment of the economy has the authority to abrogate that constitutional guarantee.

This attitude on our part is not new, of course. Nor is it singular. What is interesting, though, is that a most articulate and knowledgeable columnist of the liberal school concurs in this line of reasoning. We think that the passing events are compelling an agonizing reappraisal among that school.

What brings all this into purview is a column written by James A. (Scotty) Reston, chief of Washington bureau for the New York Times which, for apparent reasons, was speared by a mandatory "kill" order. Only one newspaper in the Times Service syndicate published the account. It was the Houston Chronicle, which had already gone to press.

The gist of Reston's column was a complaint that might be expected from a newsman. He complained of the prolonged New York newspaper shutdown resulting from what basically is an intramural battle in a union power struggle.

Reston very accurately noted that the New York printing union had succeeded in doing what the President is prohibited from doing by the Constitution — censoring the press. (This is, of course, apart from a policy of managed news, not governed directly by the Constitution.)

The columnist views the New York news blackout under the generalship of New York's printing union president as "anarchy" and he contends that if newspapers cannot be produced in a union shop, they should be produced in a non - union plant, because "the present situation cannot be accepted in a democratic society." He continued:

"This may be an acceptable situation in a meat factory or steel mill, but newspapers are not pork chops or iron fences. Unless everybody from Jefferson to Mencken and Gerald Johnson has been kidding us, our job is to print the news and raise hell, with the kind permission of Bert Powers (New York printers' union president) if possible, but without it if necessary.

"I know this view is not shared by all publishers, but reporters are part of this profession, too, and if, failing to make an honorable peace, we acquiesce in the proposition that news is a dispensable commodity like soap, then we shall be treated like soap peddlers and deserve it. Values and duties have become so confused that even the suggestion of publishing without the consent of the unions is now regarded as a declaration of war. How the old editors who founded our press would have hooted at that!"

That, we think, is a succinct appraisal of the fundamentals of the New York newspaper strike, which finally is coming to the serious attention of President Kennedy.

We will go Reston one step further: This is a basic right of all Americans — to have the freedom to perform their daily chores and earn their livelihood when they so desire. In this pursuit, the newspaperman is no privileged character because of the association with freedom of the press.

The freedom of choice is the right of every American; journalist or printer, journeyman or professional.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 156: "Would I receive any metal (such as gold, silver, etc.) for the redemption of the paper money that I have in my billfold? How can I get it?"

Answer: If you were a foreigner in a foreign land, you could demand and receive gold in payment for your paper money, but not if you are a citizen of the United States.

In the United States, gold certificates no longer are redeemable in gold. Silver certificates are, and one may take a silver certificate to the bank and demand payment in silver dollars.

Federal Reserve notes bear the notation that they are "redeemable in lawful money at the United States Treasury, or at any Federal Reserve bank." This means they are redeemable in whatever Congress says is money, whether it is paper, metal or dross.

Looking At Hollywood

METRO SETS BUSY PACE . . . FOR TV'S DR. KILDARE

HOLLYWOOD, — Metro will cash in on the popularity of their boy Richard Chamberlain and keep him working into summer. As soon as Dr. Kildare is finished in April, he'll lay aside his scalpel and dust off the law books to play a dynamic young legal eagle in "Twilight of Honor," his his first starring role on screen, for Perlberg and Seaton. Henry Denker is scripting and Boris Sagal, who did many of the series segments, will direct. It was only two years ago that Chamberlain, a total unknown, won out over 50 well-known actors for the Kildare role.

Since resuming her career in '61, Eleanor Powell's had a yen to play our Cocoanut Grove, but couldn't get to first base. Those visits with Perry Como did the trick. She's been signed for two weeks at the Grove beginning April 16—her first appearance in Los Angles.

Susan Kohner expects Serge Bouguignon, young French director of "Sundays and Cybele," out from New York next week to escort her to the foreign press awards. Susan tackles "St. Joan" at the Vancouver festival in June; will spend six weeks rehearsing.

A lot of eyebrows were raised at Christopher Plummer's getting a quarter of a million for "Fall of the Roman Empire." It doesn't surprise me—he's a fine actor. When he finishes the film, he'll make his first, a comedy, in Hollywood; then return to Spain to play Ferdinand to Sophia Loren's Isabella the end of '64.

One Hollywood character, home from his first trip to Spain, had hoped to soak up a lot of Spanish culture. "So what happens? Sipping cocktails in the lobby of the hotel as I arrived were Steve Boyd, Frank Capra, Laurence Harvey, Joan Cohn, John Ireland, Tony Mann, Marty Rackin, Christopher Plummer, Dimitri Tiomkin and James Edward Grant. Don't you hate to go to a strange place—and not know anybody?"

Sam Bronston runs his Madrid studio in the grand manner. A uniformed doorman stands at the entrance, opens your car door and welcomes you with a flair.

One Oscar and Rita Moreno's giving us the boot. Says she's moving to Europe because "Hollywood's been slumping for years." Now, come on, Rita!

Since the academy nominations are in, I might as well stick my neck out and pick the winners: "Lawrence of Arabia" will be the lucky film, with its star Peter O'Toole and supporting actor Omar Sharif getting Oscars, too. Bette Davis will pick up her third award as best actress, and Thelma Ritter—or Patty Duke—will win as best lady supporter. I didn't say those were my selections, but I think they'll get the votes.

Orry-Kelly was nominated for the stripper's wardrobe he designed for "Gypsy," but he's long been a foe of the strapless evening gown off screen: "It does nothing but reveal a lot of crepe armpits and chicken-wing elbows." A Los Angles reader concurs with Kelly. "If anything makes me ill," she writes, "it's the ugly off-the-shoulder, strapless style that fat women, skinny women, women with horrible shoulder joints or falling upper arms all took up. And I can't forgive Jackie Kennedy for the sleeveless style. I'm sure you remember Vesta Victoria, first of English music hall characters who came to America. Her stage costume was a black, one-piece shapeless garment with bare arms sticking out and short white gloves on her hands! It was a comic's outfit—and it always got a laugh."

Michiko has a son, Prince Hiro, 3 years old.

Looking At Hollywood

By HEDDA HOPPER

(© 1963: By the Chicago Tribune)

METRO SETS BUSY PACE . . . FOR TV'S DR. KILDARE

HOLLYWOOD, — Metro will cash in on the popularity of their boy Richard Chamberlain and keep him working into summer. As soon as Dr. Kildare is finished in April, he'll lay aside his scalpel and dust off the law books to play a dynamic young legal eagle in "Twilight of Honor," his his first starring role on screen, for Perlberg and Seaton. Henry Denker is scripting and Boris Sagal, who did many of the series segments, will direct. It was only two years ago that Chamberlain, a total unknown, won out over 50 well-known actors for the Kildare role.

Since resuming her career in '61, Eleanor Powell's had a yen to play our Cocoanut Grove, but couldn't get to first base. Those visits with Perry Como did the trick. She's been signed for two weeks at the Grove beginning April 16—her first appearance in Los Angles.

Susan Kohner expects Serge Bouguignon, young French director of "Sundays and Cybele," out from New York next week to escort her to the foreign press awards. Susan tackles "St. Joan" at the Vancouver festival in June, will spend six weeks rehearsing.

A lot of eyebrows were raised at Christopher Plummer's getting a quarter of a million for "Fall of the Roman Empire." It doesn't surprise me—he's a fine actor. When he finishes the film, he'll make his first, a comedy, in Hollywood, then return to Spain to play Ferdinand to Sophia Loren's Isabella the end of '64.

One Hollywood character, home from his first trip to Spain, had hoped to soak up a lot of Spanish culture. "So what happens? Sipping cocktails in the lobby of the hotel as I arrived were Steve Boyd, Frank Capra, Laurence Harvey, Joan Cohn, John Ireland, Tony Mann, Marty Rackin, Christopher Plummer, Dimitri Tiomkin and James Edward Grant. Don't you hate to go to a strange place—and not know anybody?"

Sam Bronston runs his Madrid studio in the grand manner. A uniformed doorman stands at the entrance, opens your car door and welcomes you with a flair.

One Oscar and Rita Moreno's giving us the boot. Says she's moving to Europe because "Hollywood's been slumping for years." Now, come on, Rita!

Since the academy nominations are in, I might as well stick my neck out and pick the winners: "Lawrence of Arabia" will be the lucky film, with its star Peter O'Toole and supporting actor Omar Sharif getting Oscars, too. Bette Davis will pick up her third award as best actress, and Thelma Ritter—or Patty Duke—will win as best lady supporter. I didn't say those were my selections, but I think they'll get the votes.

Orry-Kelly was nominated for the stripper's wardrobe he designed for "Gypsy," but he's long been a foe of the strapless evening gown off screen. "It does nothing but reveal a lot of crepe armpits and chicken-wing elbows." A Los Angles reader concurs with Kelly. "If anything makes me ill," she writes, "it's the ugly off-the-shoulder, strapless style that fat women, skinny women, women with horrible shoulder joints or falling upper arms all took up. And I can't forgive Jackie Kennedy for the sleeveless style. I'm sure you remember Vesta Victoria, first of English music hall characters who came to America. Her stage costume was a black, one-piece shapeless garment with bare arms sticking out and short white gloves on her hands! It was a comic's outfit—and it always got a laugh."

Crown Princess Is Expecting Child

TOKYO (AP)—Crown Princess Michiko is expecting her second child in September or early October, a spokesman for Crown Prince Akihito's household said today.

Yasuhide Toda, Akihito's personal chamberlain, told newsmen a report from the 28-year-old princess' doctors indicated she was pregnant.

Michiko has a son, Prince Hiro, 3 years old.

HAVANA (AP)—More than 1.2 million children are registered to attend elementary schools in Cuba this year, press reports said Sunday. The reports said the figure tops by more than 43,000 last year's enrollment and doubles the figure for 1958.

Mrs. Ruby Shearer Taylor Designated 'Woman of Year'

The annual birthday dinner of Quota Club, a classified womens service club, was held Feb. 28 at Dot's Chicken Shack. The award to the "Woman of the Year," which each year is given to an outstanding woman in the community, was given to a "Quotarian of the Year", Mrs. Ruby Shearer Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor has been a devoted and active member of Quota Club for four years, and two years ago developed the idea of offering a course in phonetic spelling as a service to the community and a money-raising project for Quota Club as well. She prepared the text for the course and taught the classes, which were held weekly during the months of October both years.

Mrs. Taylor is well acquainted with teaching, having been active in the educational field most of her life. She was Primary Supervisor in the Portland, Ore. schools as well as Dean of Education of Taylor Educational Institution. She is also an author in collaboration with her late husband, William Marcus Taylor.

Guest speaker of the evening was Bernice Rogers. Her topic was on the fascinating "Tabors." Mrs. Rogers is a member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, a business and professional women's sorority.

Other guest of the evening were: Mrs. Bryan Thady, president of Altrusa; Winifred Cobb of pilot Club; Mrs. Ivan Sperry, president of Soroptomists and Carrie Lee Schwartz, a past Woman of the Year.

Camp Fire Girls Report Activities

Several Camp Fire Girls and Blue Bird groups have had special activities recently.

The Happiness Blue Birds, third graders at Jefferson School, attended the Pops Concert Feb. 24 presented by the Colorado Springs Symphony. Members present were Sharon Baker, Mary Jo Joyce, Michelle Liester, Lisa Mallgren, Julia Smith, Lynn Wallace and Mrs. Arvin Liester, leader.

A family skating party at the Broadmoor Ice Palace was held recently by the Singing Blue Birds of Jefferson School. Members attending were Patricia Donegon, Carolyn Fager, Nancy Johnson, Ruth Milner, Sharon Rohlinger, Sue Terrell and Mary Zinn, all third graders.

Parents included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Donegon, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Fager, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mrs. J. L. Milner, Mrs. Rohlinger, Mrs. N. E. Terrell and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Zinn. Mrs. Zinn is group leader.

George Washington tray favors were made for Penrose Hospital by the Wa-di-cin-ka Camp Fire Girls of Edison, Taylor and Corpus Christi Schools.

Kim Johnson and Becky Walker presented the favors to Sister Jean Raymond, head of the pediatric ward, who accepted them on behalf of the hospital. Mrs. Milton Walker is group guardian.

Mrs. Tomasina Butler, Garfield School teacher, and her daughter Janet, a Blue Bird, were guests of the Da-Ki-Ya Camp Fire Girls at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ken Kolstad, guardian. The girls, all fourth graders, described activities and some of the symbolism of the Camp Fire program.

Navy Mothers Will Meet at Reserve Center

Navy Mothers Club will meet at 7:45 Wednesday in the recreation room of the Naval Reserve Center for the regular monthly business session.

Hostess for the month will be Mrs. Annie Hager and Mrs. Harriet Heyse. Cookies for the USO club for the month of February were furnished by Mrs. Ellen Hilbert, Mrs. Annie Hager and Mrs. Gladys Dugan.

The Club welcomes new members. Any mother of members of the Navy, Coast Guard or Marine personnel are welcome to visit the meetings or for information, call Mrs. Alice Smith 633-2751.

For added attractiveness in a newly wallpapered room, use leftover paper to make matching drawer liners and shelf covers.

What's New

United Press International

New way to draw water in the home: push button controlled valves provide hot, cold, or automatically blend hot and cold water to any pre-set temperature. (Tappan Co., Mansfield, Ohio).

Night lights especially designed for children's bedrooms come with colorful illustrations of animal characters. (Sylvania, 730 Third Ave., New York, N.Y.).

Now no need to throw away old batteries. The old ones can be revived with a new electronic device. It plugs into any ordinary house socket. (Dynamic Instrument Corp., East Bethpage Road, Plainview, N.Y.).

Bottle within a bottle: A new baby feeder with a pre-sterilized, disposable "inner bottle" which collapses as the formula is withdrawn—allowing no air to enter the bottle. (International Latex, 350 5th Ave., New York, N.Y.).

Greatest invention since the T-Square? So claims the manufacturer of a new rolling ruler that glides up and down the paper. (Thomas Edlyn Co., P.O. Box 362, Collingdale, Pa.).

The auto industry's highway safety committee estimates that by 1965 between 13 and 15 million cars will be equipped with seat belts—some 20 per cent of the passenger cars then expected to be on the road.

Leftover Meat Pointers

Cooked meat will keep better if left in larger pieces and not cut until ready to use. Covering prevents drying of the meat which has lost some moisture during cooking.

Mrs. Taylor has been a devoted and active member of Quota Club for four years, and two years ago developed the idea of offering a course in phonetic spelling as a service to the community and a money-raising project for Quota Club as well. She prepared the text for the course and taught the classes, which were held weekly during the months of October both years.

Mrs. Taylor is well acquainted with teaching, having been active in the educational field most of her life. She was Primary Supervisor in the Portland, Ore. schools as well as Dean of Education of Taylor Educational Institution. She is also an author in collaboration with her late husband, William Marcus Taylor.

Guest speaker of the evening was Bernice Rogers. Her topic was on the fascinating "Tabors." Mrs. Rogers is a member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, a business and professional women's sorority.

Other guest of the evening were: Mrs. Bryan Thady, president of Altrusa; Winifred Cobb of pilot Club; Mrs. Ivan Sperry, president of Soroptomists and Carrie Lee Schwartz, a past Woman of the Year.

The auto industry's highway safety committee estimates that by 1965 between 13 and 15 million cars will be equipped with seat belts—some 20 per cent of the passenger cars then expected to be on the road.

Leftover Meat Pointers

Cooked meat will keep better if left in larger pieces and not cut until ready to use. Covering prevents drying of the meat which has lost some moisture during cooking.

Camp Fire Girls Report Activities

Several Camp Fire Girls and Blue Bird groups have had special activities recently.

The Happiness Blue Birds, third graders at Jefferson School, attended the Pops Concert Feb. 24 presented by the Colorado Springs Symphony. Members present were Sharon Baker, Mary Jo Joyce, Michelle Liester, Lisa Mallgren, Julia Smith, Lynn Wallace and Mrs. Arvin Liester, leader.

A family skating party at the Broadmoor Ice Palace was held recently by the Singing Blue Birds of Jefferson School. Members attending were Patricia Donegon, Carolyn Fager, Nancy Johnson, Ruth Milner, Sharon Rohlinger, Sue Terrell and Mary Zinn, all third graders.

Parents included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Donegon, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Fager, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mrs. J. L. Milner, Mrs. Rohlinger, Mrs. N. E. Terrell and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Zinn. Mrs. Zinn is group leader.

George Washington tray favors were made for Penrose Hospital by the Wa - di - cin - ka Camp Fire Girls of Edison, Taylor and Corpus Christi Schools.

Kim Johnson and Becky Walker presented the favors to Sister Jean Raymond, head of the pediatric ward, who accepted them on behalf of the hospital. Mrs. Milton Walker is group guardian.

Mrs. Tomasina Butler, Garfield School teacher, and her daughter Janet, a Blue Bird, were guests of the Da - Ki - Ya Camp Fire Girls at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ken Kolstad, guardian. The girls, all fourth graders, described activities and some of the symbolism of the Camp Fire program.

Navy Mothers Will Meet at Reserve Center

Navy Mothers Club will meet at 7:45 Wednesday in the recreation room of the Naval Reserve Center for the regular monthly business session.

Hostess for the month will be Mrs. Annie Hager and Mrs. Harriet Heyse. Cookies for the USO club for the month of February were furnished by Mrs. Ellen Hilbert, Mrs. Annie Hager and Mrs. Gladys Dugan.

The Club welcomes new members. Any mother of members of the Navy, Coast Guard or Marine personnel are welcome to visit the meetings or for information, call Mrs. Alice Smith 633-2751.

For added attractiveness in a newly wallpapered room, use leftover paper to make matching drawer liners and shelf covers.

What's New

United Press International

New way to draw water in the home: push button controlled valves provide hot, cold, or automatically blend hot and cold water to any pre-set temperature. (Tappan Co., Mansfield, Ohio).

Night lights especially designed for children's bedrooms come with colorful illustrations of animal characters. (Sylvania, 730 Third Ave., New York, N.Y.).

Now no need to throw away old batteries. The old ones can be revived with a new electronic device. It plugs into any ordinary house socket. (Dynamic Instrument Corp., East Bethpage Road, Plainview, N.Y.).

Bottle within a bottle: A new baby feeder with a pre-sterilized, disposable "inner bottle" which collapses as the formula is withdrawn—allowing no air to enter the bottle. (International Latex, 350 5th Ave., New York, N.Y.).

Greatest invention since the T-Square? So claims the manufacturer of a new rolling ruler that glides up and down the paper. (Thomas Edlyn Co., P.O. Box 362, Collingdale, Pa.).

KRETSCHMER wheat germ Nutritious Breakfast Food

Remarkable food helps people over 40 enjoy vibrant living

AFTER 40 your body begins to feel the years and, chances are, you lack the pep and energy you had when you were younger.

- You can't roll back the calendar, but you can help build up your energy and endurance by fortifying your diet with the vital nutrients found in Kretschmer Wheat Germ.
- Nature has stored an abundance of nutritional wealth in wheat germ, which supplies 30 elements essential to health and energy. Wheat germ gives you more natural vitamins, minerals and protein than any other single food.
- Calorie for calorie, Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually offers you more all-around nutrition than meat, eggs, milk, bread, fruits, or vegetables.
- In addition to providing an abundance of natural nutrition, Kretschmer Wheat Germ boosts your energy and endurance by acting like a spark plug to help your body use other high-energy foods more fully.
- Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the "growth" part, or germinating heart, of the wheat made into tiny toasted flakes. It can be added to cereal or fruit, used in baking and breadings, served in many interesting ways.
- Why not help build up your pep and energy by adding Kretschmer Wheat Germ to your meals? It's economical, costing only about 3¢ a day. You'll find Kretschmer Wheat Germ, plain or with Sugar 'n Honey, in vacuum-sealed jars in the cereal section of your food store.

Dr. Presti Will Address Nurses Association

District 3 of the Colorado Nurses Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the doctors' assembly room of Penrose Hospital at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Presti will speak on Neuro-Surgery and the nursing aspects involved. All members as well as non - members are urged to attend.

After washing plastic shower curtains or tablecloths, add a few drops of mineral oil to the rinse water. It will help make the plastic soft.

Candystripers Receive Recognition

Many Candystripers, Junior Hospital Volunteers, recently received recognition for service they have given to St. Francis Hospital.

Honored were: Cornelia Hanes, for more than 1000 hurs of service; Annabelle Young and Margaret Gaughan for 500 hours; Nancy Abrahams, Penny Sue Berry, Adele Collins, Jeanne Guy, Leslie Nielsen, Marie Hall, Diane Holmes, Judy Jones, Beverly LaCasse, and Carol Miller who have all given at least 100 hours.

Sharon Lee, Georgia Peet, and Kathy Yates have served 50 hours or more.

About one hundred local teenagers attended a Mardi Gras Carnival Saturday given by the Catholic Youth Organization of Divine Redeemer Parish, to benefit the building fund of St. Francis Hospital.

Girls of the club sold candy they had made themselves and donated cakes which they had baked. Boys presided over games of skill and chance. This was followed by dancing.

A committee headed by Steve Rome decorated the Divine Redeemer Parish Hall in a gay, carnival theme. The work done by the members of other committees also helped to make the evening a big success. Committee chairmen included Joan Grindinger, Sue Cook, Becky LeBaron, David Grantz, Jim White, and Pat Faricy.

Fiberglas reinforced plastics, used in rocket boosters, now help lift milady's bosom. The material in new brassiere supports features design flexibility, light weight and high strength. (Airlon Bra Support).

To help swell a grass roots movement for the tax cut, one hair products firm has come out with the "tax cut" coiffure. The tax cut itself is indicative of the good times to follow. According to the company's research, it means more free money and more free money nurtures more elegant, intricate hair styles. The new haircut allows women to wear more feminine, highly sculptured coiffures without use of false hair pieces. The cut itself—like the income tax—is based on angles. (Helene Curtis.)

Fashion is adapting the shock absorber to sheer seamless stockings. The stockings with the shock absorbing qualities have action panels that absorb the strain on the nylon as the knee is flexed or bent. The manufacturer says lycra fiber in the panel allows it to expand vertically with the bend and helps it to return neatly to place when the leg is straightened. (Belle Sharmeer).

Softness and slender shaping are bywords of dress, suit and coat collections for spring. There are overblouses of all lengths: riding the midriff, extending into long tunics.

Bag watchers looking for harbingers of spring will see the box shape in purses. This is a strictly molded silhouette, a contrasting look to spring apparel with its easy softness.

Rice Casserole

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 small onion (finely diced)
1 cup long-grain rice
2 cups boiling water

Melt the butter in a 9- or 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat; add the rice and mix well so all the grains are coated with the butter. Add the boiling water. Turn into a 1½ quart casserole; cover; bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 30 minutes or until rice is tender and water has evaporated. For dry rice, remove cover at end of baking time and allow to stand in turned-off oven for a brief period, mixing carefully with a fork once or twice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Dr. Presti Will Address Nurses Association

District 3 of the Colorado Nurses Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the doctors' assembly room of Penrose Hospital at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Presti will speak on Neuro-Surgery and the nursing aspects involved. All members as well as non - members are urged to attend.

After washing plastic shower curtains or tablecloths, add a few drops of mineral oil to the rinse water. It will help make the plastic soft.

Candystripers Receive Recognition

Many Candystripers, Junior Hospital Volunteers, recently received recognition for service they have given to St. Francis Hospital.

Honored were: Cornelia Hanes, for more than 1000 hurs of service; Annabelle Young and Margaret Gaughan for 500 hours, Nancy Abrahams, Penny Sue Berry, Adele Collins, Jeanne Guy, Leslie Nielsen, Marie Hall, Diane Holmes, Judy Jones, Beverly LaCasse, and Carol Miller who have all given at least 100 hours.

Sharon Lee, Georgia Peet, and Kathy Yates have served 50 hours or more.

About one hundred local teenagers attended a Mardi Gras Carnival Saturday given by the Catholic Youth Organization of Divine Redeemer Parish, to benefit the building fund of St. Francis Hospital.

Girls of the club sold candy they had made themselves and donated cakes which they had baked. Boys presided over games of skill and chance. This was followed by dancing.

A committee headed by Steve Rome decorated the Divine Redeemer Parish Hall in a gay, carnival theme. The work done by the members of other committees also helped to make the evening a big success. Committee chairmen included Joan Grindinger, Sue Cook, Becky LeBaron, David Grantz, Jim White, and Pat Faricy.

KRETSCHMER wheat germ
Nutritious Breakfast Food
Remarkable food helps people over 40 enjoy vibrant living

AFTER 40 your body begins to feel the years and, chances are, you lack the pep and energy you had when you were younger.

• You can't roll back the calendar, but you can help build up your energy and endurance by fortifying your diet with the vital nutrients found in Kretschmer Wheat Germ.

• Nature has stored an abundance of nutritional wealth in wheat germ, which supplies 30 elements essential to health and energy. Wheat germ gives you more natural vitamins, minerals and protein than any other single food.

• Calorie for calorie, Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually offers you more all-around nutrition than meat, eggs, milk, bread, fruits, or vegetables.

• In addition to providing an abundance of natural nutrition, Kretschmer Wheat Germ boosts your energy and endurance by acting like a spark plug to help your body use other high-energy foods more fully.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the "growth" part, or germinating heart, of the wheat made into tiny toasted flakes. It can be added to cereal or fruit, used in baking and breadings, served in many interesting ways.

• Why not help build up your pep and energy by adding Kretschmer Wheat Germ to your meals? It's economical, costing only about 3¢ a day. You'll find Kretschmer Wheat Germ, plain or with Sugar 'n Honey, in vacuum-sealed jars in the cereal section of your food store.

To help swell a grass roots movement for the tax cut, one hair products firm has come out with the "tax cut" coiffure. The tax cut itself is indicative of the good times to follow. According to the company's research, it means more free money and more free money nurtures more elegant, intricate hair styles. The new haircut allows women to wear more feminine, highly sculptured coiffures without use of false hair pieces. The cut itself—like the income tax—is based on angles. (Helene Curtis.)

Fashion is adapting the shock absorber to sheer seamless stockings. The stockings with the shock absorbing qualities have action panels that absorb the strain on the nylon as the knee is flexed or bent. The manufacturer says lycra fiber in the panel allows it to expand vertically with the bend and helps it to return neatly to place when the leg is straightened. (Belle Sharmeer).

Rice Casserole

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 small onion (finely diced)
1 cup long-grain rice
2 cups boiling water

Melt the butter in a 9- or 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat; add the rice and mix well so all the grains are coated with the butter. Add the boiling water. Turn into a 1½ quart casserole; cover; bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 30 minutes or until rice is tender and water has evaporated. For dry rice, remove cover at end of baking time and allow to stand in turned-off oven for a brief period, mixing carefully with a fork once or twice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives only a new tablet called COLONAID gives you this special combination for 3-way overnight relief.

(1) COLONAID stimulates colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONAID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONAID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONAID even relieves chronic constipation overnight; yet it is clinically-proved gentle even for expectant mothers. Get COLONAID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢.

Village Is Built Thru Lutheran Contributions

HONG KONG (AP)—With funds contributed by Swedish church women through Lutheran World Federation, houses have been built for 60 farmers and their families to form the "Ma Tso Lung Lutheran New Village," a community made up of persons formerly living in a repeatedly flooded Sham Chun River area. The houses are "the first solid homes that many of these villagers have ever known," an LWF spokesman said.

Longevity Studied In American Bishops

BAKER, Ore (AP)—A study by Roman Catholic Bishop Francis P. Leipzig discloses that only two Catholic bishops in United States history have lived to celebrate the 59th anniversary of their consecrations. They were the late Archbishop Peter Richard Kenrick of St. Louis, and the late James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore. The 425 U. S. bishops have lived an average of only 21 years each after consecration, the study found.

Sea Isle City Stages Comeback Following Storm

By CHARLES K. SERGIS

SEA ISLE CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sea Isle City today is serene under a soft blue sky, a clean pleasant town snuggled against five miles of the Atlantic shore.

Walking along Landis Avenue, a stranger might not know he was one city block from a mighty ocean.

Even if he walked over to the beach, he would get no inkling that one year ago Wednesday the place where he stood was a maelstrom of water and debris, a vast swamp of destroyed homes and shocked grieving people. The storm left 12 dead along the Jersey coast.

The beach was wider then, but a stranger wouldn't know that. It is smooth and unmarked now.

A four-block row of concrete cradles at the edge of the shore is the only discordant sight. The staunchions look out of place now because the boardwalk that rested on them was ripped off by the ocean that rose in wrath, March 6 and 7, 1962, against the New Jersey shore towns that draw their life from it.

A visitor today would walk onto a wide, 14-foot-high sand dune, built by the Army Corps of Engineers, to look at the Sea Isle City beach. He would be standing on the graves of 285 homes.

"Generally, in these storms, the first tide is it," said Horace J. Haffert, who has lived in Sea Isle City all his life.

Tuesday morning, March 6, the ocean lashed out. At high tide, waves slammed with sledgehammer thuds against the homefronts.

At high tide that night, Haffert's parents and brother, flooded out of their homes, were in the living room of his three-floor guest house on the beach. The bulkhead of the next-door property collapsed under the furious waves. The ocean rolled over Haffert's bulkhead and smashed in the front door. Upstairs in the living room, Haffert realized what was happening.

"I told my wife to take the kids—we have six—and get out the back stairway. At that moment, just as I said it, the house cracked. The living room tilted up like this," he said, raising his palm to a 30-degree angle.

They all got out safely but the next morning, Wednesday, March 7, their home, lying askew on its foundations, began to break up. By night, it was a pile of rubble. The entire beach-front row of Sea Isle City looked like a flooded lumber yard.

Up and down the Jersey coast, the scene was repeated in town after town.

"This made the hurricane of 1944 look like an April shower," said Reynold Thomas, mayor of little Harvey Cedars Borough on Long Beach Island.

In his community, which has only 126 year-round residents, but a few thousand in the summer, the storm's havoc is still starkly visible. Behind Long Beach Boulevard, the skeletons of houses swept hundreds of yards from the beach lurch in all directions.

Besides a few trades people, carpenters working on new homes are the only people to be seen now in this community, where 141 out of 500 houses were destroyed.

The number of homes destroyed and damaged in New Jersey was appalling—more than 17,000. Sea Isle City lost $2.8 million in real estate ratables, more than 10 per cent of its total. Tiny Harvey Cedars suffered a crushing $1.7 million blow. Brigantine, just north of Atlantic City which lost the end of the steel pier, saw half a million in ratables shatter in the surf or float in across Brigantine Boulevard.

One year after the storm inflicted these devastating losses on the shore, the best word to describe the attitudes in the hardest-hit towns is optimism. Officials are hard put to name a resident who has moved away. Most summer people are rebuilding their homes.

"A man who has spent 35 summers here and lost homes in 1944 and again last year, was here two weeks ago to buy another house," said Mayor Vincent L. Lamanna of Sea Isle City.

Most of the businessmen hurt by the storm will be back all the way this year.

A good example is Sam Kartman of Brigantine, who operated a cabin colony on the beach.

"Everything we had in the world was right here, and it all went in those two days," Kartman said. "Three cabins out of 56 were still standing."

He scraped together some of the pieces, and opened last season with 13 cabins. This summer, thanks to a $200,000 loan—at 3 per cent over 20 years — from the Small Business Administration, Kartman will open a 37-unit motel at the opposite end of the island.

Sea Isle is building a sea wall and asphalt promenade along its new protective dune. It will celebrate its addition on Memorial Day. In 1964, Memorial Day will mark the opening of a fine new bridge connecting the city with the mainland to replace the antiquated little span it has now.

The south Jersey boom so long predicted is coming full force to Brigantine this year. Private financiers will begin a $165-million development of Brigantine's barren south end with motels, high-rise apartment buildings, stores and a marina.

Eyes of Nuns Are Pledged to Eye Bank

NAUVOO, Ill. (AP) — All 105 Benedictine nuns at St. Mary's Pirory here have pledged their eyes after death to an eye bank at the University of Iowa, to be used to help living persons with impaired vision or in medical research.

"This was a real charity we could easily offer our fellow human beings," said Mother Clarisse, superior of the community.

Stigmatics Cases Reported by Doctor

NEW YORK (AP) — Cases of more than 300 "stigmatics," persons with unexplained bleeding wounds similar to those of Christ at the crucifixion, are recorded by a French physician, Rene Biot, in a new book, "Enigma of Stigmata," published by Hawthorn Books Inc. He explores the possibilities that the phenomena either result from neurosis or from some extraordinary spiritual effects.

POTATO NEWS

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—If you have wondered why mashed potatoes prepared for a group don't taste as good as those fixed for a few persons, University of Wisconsin home economists offer this explanation.

Peeling potatoes and keeping them in water for about 24 hours—as is done for larger quantities—affects both color and flavor.

The home economists, basing their findings on 15 experienced tasters, also reported dehydrated potatoes have poorer texture and consistency than fresh or frozen spuds.

Billy Graham Cancels Far Eastern Crusade

HONOLULU (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, ill in a Honolulu hospital, has cancelled a revival tour for the first time in his career.

His Far Eastern crusade will go on without him, making its first stop in Manila on March 10, Graham said from his hospital bed.

He is in St. Francis Hospital in Honolulu, suffering from what doctors called "an acute undetermined infection."

TRUMAN GRANDCHILD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman's daughter, Margaret, had her third son Sunday at Doctor's Hospital.

The boy, who was delivered by caesarian section, weighed four pounds, 12 ounces. The father is Clifton Daniel, assistant managing editor of the New York Times.

The Daniels' other children are Clifton Truman, 5, and William Wallace, 3. Their new brother has not yet been named.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives only a new tablet called COLONAID gives you this special combination for 3-way overnight relief:

(1) COLONAID stimulates colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONAID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONAID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONAID even relieves chronic constipation overnight; yet it is clinically-proved gentle even for expectant mothers. Get COLONAID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢.

Village Is Built Thru Lutheran Contributions

HONG KONG (AP)—With funds contributed by Swedish church women through Lutheran World Federation, houses have been built for 60 farmers and their families to form the "Ma Tso Lung Lutheran New Village," a community made up of persons formerly living in a repeatedly flooded Sham Chun River area. The houses are "the first solid homes that many of these villagers have ever known," an LWF spokesman said.

Longevity Studied In American Bishops

BAKER, Ore. (AP)—A study by Roman Catholic Bishop Francis P. Leipzig discloses that only two Catholic bishops in United States history have lived to celebrate the 59th anniversary of their consecrations. They were the late Archbishop Peter Richard Kenrick of St. Louis, and the late James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore. The 425 U. S. bishops have lived an average of only 21 years each after consecration, the study found.

Sea Isle City Stages Comeback Following Storm

By CHARLES K. SERGIS

SEA ISLE CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sea Isle City today is serene under a soft blue sky, a clean pleasant town snuggled against five miles of the Atlantic shore.

Walking along Landis Avenue, a stranger might not know he was one city block from a mighty ocean.

Even if he walked over to the beach, he would get no inkling that one year ago Wednesday the place where he stood was a maelstrom of water and debris, a vast swamp of destroyed homes and shocked grieving people. The storm left 12 dead along the Jersey coast.

The beach was wider then, but a stranger wouldn't know that. It is smooth and unmarked now.

A four-block row of concrete cradles at the edge of the shore is the only discordant sight. The staunchions look out of place now because the boardwalk that rested on them was ripped off by the ocean that rose in wrath, March 6 and 7, 1962, against the New Jersey shore towns that draw their life from it.

A visitor today would walk onto a wide, 14-foot-high sand dune, built by the Army Corps of Engineers, to look at the Sea Isle City beach. He would be standing on the graves of 285 homes.

"Generally, in these storms, the first tide is it," said Horace J. Haffert, who has lived in Sea Isle City all his life.

Tuesday morning, March 6, the ocean lashed out. At high tide, waves slammed with sledgehammer thuds against the homefronts.

At high tide that night, Haffert's parents and brother, flooded out of their homes, were in the living room of his three-floor guest house on the beach. The bulkhead of the next-door property collapsed under the furious waves. The ocean rolled over Haffert's bulkhead and smashed in the front door. Upstairs in the living room, Haffert realized what was happening.

"I told my wife to take the kids—we have six—and get out the back stairway. At that moment, just as I said it, the house cracked. The living room tilted up like this," he said, raising his palm to a 30-degree angle.

They all got out safely but the next morning, Wednesday, March 7, their home, lying askew on its foundations, began to break up. By night, it was a pile of rubble. The entire beach-front row of Sea Isle City looked like a flooded lumber yard.

Up and down the Jersey coast, the scene was repeated in town after town.

"This made the hurricane of 1944 look like an April shower," said Reynold Thomas, mayor of little Harvey Cedars Borough on Long Beach Island.

In his community, which has only 126 year-round residents, but a few thousand in the summer, the storm's havoc is still starkly visible. Behind Long Beach Boulevard, the skeletons of houses swept hundreds of yards from the beach lurch in all directions.

Besides a few trades people, carpenters working on new homes are the only people to be seen now in this community, where 141 out of 500 houses were destroyed.

The number of homes destroyed and damaged in New Jersey was appalling—more than 17,000. Sea Isle City lost $2.8 million in real estate ratables, more than 10 per cent of its total. Tiny Harvey Cedars suffered a crushing $1.7 million blow. Brigantine, just north of Atlantic City which lost the end of the steel pier, saw half a million in ratables shatter in the surf or float in across Brigantine Boulevard.

One year after the storm inflicted these devastating losses on the shore, the best word to describe the attitudes in the hardest-hit towns is optimism. Officials are hard put to name a resident who has moved away. Most summer people are rebuilding their homes.

"A man who has spent 35 summers here and lost homes in 1944 and again last year, was here two weeks ago to buy another house," said Mayor Vincent L. Lamanna of Sea Isle City.

Most of the businessmen hurt by the storm will be back all the way this year.

A good example is Sam Kartman of Brigantine, who operated a cabin colony on the beach.

"Everything we had in the world was right here, and it all went in those two days," Kartman said. "Three cabins out of 56 were still standing."

He scraped together some of the pieces, and opened last season with 13 cabins. This summer, thanks to a $200,000 loan—at 3 per cent over 20 years — from the Small Business Administration, Kartman will open a 37-unit motel at the opposite end of the island.

Sea Isle is building a sea wall and asphalt promenade along its new protective dune. It will celebrate its addition on Memorial Day. In 1964, Memorial Day will mark the opening of a fine new bridge connecting the city with the mainland to replace the antiquated little span it has now.

The south Jersey boom so long predicted is coming full force to Brigantine this year. Private financiers will begin a $165-million development of Brigantine's barren south end with motels, high-rise apartment buildings, stores and a marina.

Billy Graham Cancels Far Eastern Crusade

HONOLULU (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, ill in a Honolulu hospital, has cancelled a revival tour for the first time in his career.

His Far Eastern crusade will go on without him, making its first stop in Manila on March 10, Graham said from his hospital bed.

He is in St. Francis Hospital in Honolulu, suffering from what doctors called "an acute undetermined infection."

TRUMAN GRANDCHILD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman's daughter, Margaret, had her third son Sunday at Doctor's Hospital.

The boy, who was delivered by caesarian section, weighed four pounds, 12 ounces. The father is Clifton Daniel, assistant managing editor of the New York Times.

The Daniels' other children are Clifton Truman, 5, and William Wallace, 3. Their new brother has not yet been named.

Eyes of Nuns Are Pledged to Eye Bank

NAUVOO, Ill. (AP) — All 105 Benedictine nuns at St. Mary's Pirory here have pledged their eyes after death to an eye bank at the University of Iowa, to be used to help living persons with impaired vision or in medical research.

"This was a real charity we could easily offer our fellow human beings," said Mother Clarisse, superior of the community.

Stigmatics Cases Reported by Doctor

NEW YORK (AP) — Cases of more than 300 "stigmatics," persons with unexplained bleeding wounds similar to those of Christ at the crucifixion, are recorded by a French physician, Rene Biot, in a new book, "Enigma of Stigmata," published by Hawthorn Books Inc. He explores the possibilities that the phenomena either result from neurosis or from some extraordinary spiritual effects.

POTATO NEWS

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—If you have wondered why mashed potatoes prepared for a group don't taste as good as those fixed for a few persons, University of Wisconsin home economists offer this explanation.

Peeling potatoes and keeping them in water for about 24 hours—as is done for larger quantities—affects both color and flavor.

The home economists, basing their findings on 15 experienced tasters, also reported dehydrated potatoes have poorer texture and consistency than fresh or frozen spuds.

Prizes Offered for Sale Of Scout-O-Rama Tickets

Prizes in the form of Cub and Scout equipment and camp fees for Boy Scouts can be earned when scouts sell Scout - O - Rama tickets.

Tickets for the huge extravaganza to be held April 3-6 will be distributed to Cubmasters, Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors on March 12 at the Swiss Chalet at 6 p.m. The dinner is being provided complimentary by a Rotarian.

Proceeds from this years event will go largely to individual scouts for securing equipment and materials that cubs and scouts need in the progress thru their Scouting experience. This year Boy Scouts can earn a large share of their fees for summer camp thru their sales of Scout-O-Rama tickets.

Gift certificates will be issued to scouts on the basis of $1.50 for each $5.00 in ticket sales made. The certificates may be used to purchase any item of cub or scout equipment in the entire catalogue.

Paul Hill, Council Camp Committee chairman, stated that the Scout Council is anxious to make it possible for every Boy Scout to have the opportunity to attend summer camp. "Boys who are ambitious can earn their way to camp by selling Scout-O-Rama tickets".

This years Scout-O-Rama will include the largest display of Merit Badge subjects, hobbies, crafts and vocational demonstrations in the history of the Pikes Peak Council. Seventy Booths are being developed by packs, troops and Explorer units. Many of these booths are being sponsored by members of the Colorado Springs Rotary Club. Many of the booth subjects require expert knowledge in order for scouts to be trained in the requirements for display of the hundreds of booth items. Many Rotarians are providing personal instruction to individual scouts for the purpose of presenting to the 15,000 persons who are expected to attend the four Scout-O-Rama performances, a professional display of Merit Badge subjects.

Tickets sold by scouts may be used for any one of the four performances. Adult tickets sell for $1.00, childrens tickets are 50 cents.

In addition to the scores of booths, a stage show will be presented each performance. The theme "Fit for tomorrow" will envolve more than 1,000 Scouts each performance.

The Boy Scout Council is a member service of the United Fund. The bulk of the proceeds from the Scout - O - Rama will go to provide individual equipment for boys and camp fees and for other necessary items not provided from United Fund sources.

Two Receive Eagle Scout Awards Here

Members of Boy Scout Troop 69, sponsored by the Ascension Lutheran Church, participated in a Court of Honor program last week highlighted by a candlelight ceremony in honor of William Hooker and Douglas Nielsen who received their Eagle Scout awards.

Tenderfoot scout awards were presented to John Glasser and John King by Maj. Walter Hooker, institutional representative.

Edward Pompea received the Second Class award and the following boys received Frist Class rank awards:

Charles Donalson, Charles Fish, Louis Angone, Richard Cook and Jerry Zoellenr. These awards were presented by Preston Cunningham.

Scoutmaster Richard Nielsen presented training awards and junior leader warrants to Bill Hooker, Douglas Nielsen, Jerry Zoellner, Rodney Crum, Mike LeClair, Dennis Junge and Knute Sorensen. Sorensen also received the Mole Swim award.

More than 30 merit badges were presented to troop members, including Rodney Crum, Mike LeClair, Pat Lyon, Ron Rogers, Dennis Junge, Jim Cunningham, Knute Sorenson, Charles Fish, Bill Hooker, and Douglas Neilsen.

A Star Scout award was presented by Lt. Col. Joseph LeClair to Knute Sorensen.

NEW EAGLE SCOUTS — William Hooker (left) and Douglas Nielsen, members of Scout Troop 69, received the coveted Eagle Scout rank awards last week at a formal Eagle Court of Honor ceremony. Edward Bishop, neighborhood commissioner, also presented the troop charter to the Rev. Obed Sunde, of the Ascension Lutheran Church which sponsors the troop.

Poor Eyesight Spells America's Greatest Enemy

Waste resulting from vision deficiencies on the production line and in schools represents the greatest enemy America has today, the Colorado Springs Optometric Society says.

The American Optometric Association, which is observing "Save Your Vision Week," March 3-9, reports there is a direct relationship between waste and poor vision.

Dr. John A. Ordahl, president, explains that accidents and production slowdowns are often caused by a worker's vision deficiency. The same applies to homes and schools.

Among senior citizens, many valuable individuals have allowed themselves to become non-productive because no attempt is made to correct vision problems.

In schools, slower learning and a higher cost of education can be attributed to a high percentage of vision problems among students.

Dr. Ordahl says keeping America strong is everyone's job. "We must start from within, and we must start by eliminating waste and inefficiency caused by inadequate vision."

He urges the entire family to make it a regular habit to have their vision thoroly examined by an optometrist at least once a year. "Delays can be dangerous," Dr. Ordahl warns.

Third Seminar Set for City Auditorium

The third of the five Senior Seminars will be held this Wednesday from 3 to 4:15 p.m., in the Little Theater of the City Auditorium. The topic in the final session on Medicine will be "How to Cope With Cancer and other Regressive Diseases.

Three specialists from the El Paso County Medical Society will serve on the panel which will be moderated by A. Earl Bryson, chairman of the Senior Coordinating Council, which sponsors the seminars.

Drs. Robert H. Smith, Robert O. Beadles and George L. Merkert, internist, urologist and surgeon respectively, are the panelists. They will answer questions from the audience at the close of the formal discussion.

The Senior Seminars have been planned for the benefit of those in or near retirement age. The public is invited to attend without charge.

The final two programs in the series on March 13 and 20 will be on the subjects: "How to Stretch a Fixed Income" and "How to Make the Most of Leisure Time."

8 p.m. Tuesday in Colorado College's Olin Lecture Hall.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be given under the auspices of the American Meteorological Society in cooperation with the college's public lecture committee.

Prior to joining the faculty at the University of Colorado in 1961, Dr. London was for 14 years research associate and professor at New York University.

During that time he also served as a consultant and director of a number of scientific enterprises in such areas as climatic factors in environmental analyis, mesopheric dynamics, satellite meteorology, and high altitude observation.

During the summer of 1958 Prof. London was a visiting scientist at the Max Palnck Institute fuer Physik der Strotosphere in Goettingen, Germany.

He also has been a visiting professor at Pennylvania State University and a lecturer in meteorology at Columbia University.

During World War II and the years immediately following, Prof. Landon was a meteorologist with the United States Weather Bureau and the Air Force.

A graduate of Brooklin College, he holds M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in meteorology from New York University.

Prof. London is a member of the American Meteorological Society, Royal Meteorological Society, Sigma Xi and American Geophysical Union.

State Training, Advisory Committee Okays Projects

Colorado's new Manpower Development and Training Advisory Committee has approved seven proposed training projects in three communities within the state, the Department of Employment reported today.

The federally financed projects include five courses for 20 trainees each in Greeley for stenographers, general office clerks, accounting clerks, key punch operators, and typists, and a course for practical nurses in Pueblo and Fort Collins consisting of 20 trainees each for 52 weeks.

The classes for stenographer, general office clerk and accounting clerk will extend for 40 week's 16 weeks for key punch operator, and 20 weeks for typists.

Each trainee will receive a training allowance of $43 a week, plus transportation and subsistence payments if necessary.

Under the law, trainees are selected and referred to training by the Department of Employment. The state Board for Vocational Education has the responsibility of establishing the training curriculum and acquiring facilities.

The courses will begin as soon as the projects are approved by the federal government and training arrangements have been completed, probably within 30 to 60 days.

The seven-member committee, appointed Feb. 12 by Gov. John A. Love, met Tuesday, Feb. 26, in a day-long session at Department of Employment headquarters in Denver.

Committee members are: William L. McDivitt, president of Otero Junior College, La Junta, chairman and official spokesman for the group, representing the public; Leavitt A. Booth, Arvada rancher, public; Iver C. Ranum, Westminster school superintendent, education; Stow L. Witwer, Greeley rancher, agriculture; Thomas A. Van Tries, Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co., Denver, management; Albert C. Wise, Denver photoengraver, labor, and Delfino Mata of Pueblo, training.

Key officials of the state Department of Employment, Department of Vocational Education, and regional officials of the U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Bureau of Employment Security, and U.S. Office of Health, Education and Welfare attended the meeting.

McDivitt said the newly approved projects "do not necessarily represent the most important training needs in Colorado," and added, "the committee recognizes that this is the initial step in providing such training. These projects will make a good starting point."

The chairman said the committee was disappointed that it did not receive training proposals for adult males in the 25 to 40-year-old age bracket, but hopes that subsequent projects will include this important worker group.

The proposals were submitted after a survey of manpower needs was made by local offices of the Department of Employment, as required by MDTA regulations.

"It is the consensus of the committee that a serious study must be made of the unemployment situation in the state, especially those areas with major unemployment problems; the high school dropout, 18 to 21-year-old persons who are unskilled and untrained, and the seasonal farm laborer," McDivitt said.

He said every citizen in the state should be concerned about the state's unemployment problem and need for more jobs and job training. He appealed to all citizens to send ideas and suggestions to the committee or to representatives of the Department of Employment or state Board for Vocational Education.

The committee plans to meet again March 25 at the Department of Employment offices in Denver.

McDivitt advised anyone interested in MDTA training to inquire at the local employment office of the Department of Employment in their area for details.

Since July 1, last year, three MDTA training courses have been approved and are in session at Emily Griffith Opportunity School in Denver. The classes were set up to train 18 turret lathe operators, 18 auto mechanics, and 25 stenographers.

The 10 MDTA courses which have been approved to date will consume most of the money alloted to Colorado for this fiscal year ending June 30, 1963.

MDTA was signed into law March 15, 1962. Persons eligible to apply for training under provisions of the act include unemployed youths 16 thru 21 years old, unemployed heads of families or households who have held jobs for at least three years in the past, and workers in farm families with less than $1,200 a year net family income. Part-time workers who are not adequately trained to get full-time jobs also are eligible, but priority for training will be given to the unemployed.

Five-Year-Old Hopes to Find Missing Dog

A small black male poodle has been missing since Sunday afternoon from the Jim Burnett residence at 2518 E. Buena Ventura St.

The Burnetts' son Todd, 5, let the dog out about 3 p. m. and found it missing later after it was discovered the strong winds had blown the gate open.

The poodle is one year old, stands about 15 inches high and was wearing a yellow collar. It answers to the name of "Beau."

Anyone having any information about the dog is asked to call the Burnetts at 636-3668.

Firemen Called; No Fire, Damper Closed

Company 6 and Battalion Chief Louis Fooshee of the city fire department at 6:27 p.m. Sunday made a run to the home of Edward Pokropus, 2621 Templeton Gap Rd., where the house was fast filling with smoke.

The firemen found that the damper on a fireplace was closed. Opening it stopped the smoke from coming into the house. The firemen fanned out that which had accumulated.

Model Rocket Film to Be Shown on TV

"Model Rocketry, the Space Age Hobby" is the title of a film to be seen on KRDO Channel 13 Monday at 12:45.

The film shows and describes the building and firing of model rockets of all different sizes and shapes. The safety features of model rocketry are shown in detail.

Much of the footage for the film was taken during the past two years on ranges of the National Association of Rocketry located near Colorado Springs and at the Air Force Academy. Some of the pictures were taken during the Boy Scout Jamboree three years ago.

The hobby of model rocketry has just been recognized as an international sport for competition on a world-wide basis among space - minded youngsters and adults.

Such competition on a national basis is governed by the rules of the NAR, an associate of the National Academy of Aeronautics. Many of the rules were first tried out on the local ranges before being incorporated in the national standards.

CC Faculty To Discuss Medical School

The Colorado College faculty pre-medical committee will sponsor a discussion on "Preparing for Medical School" at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Rastall Center on the campus.

Dr. John J. Conger, associate dean of the Medical Center at the University of Colorado, will talk about problems and opportunities in medicine, medical school admission policies, and how to prepare for medical school.

Dr. Eldon T. Hitchcock, assistant professor of chemistry at Colorado College and chairman of the pre-medical committee, said the meeting would be open to all college and high school students interested in a career in medicine.

CC Piano Recital Features Jo Boatright, Sunday

The Colorado College Concert Series will feature the well-known pianist Jo Garner Boatright in a solo recital Sunday, at 4 p.m. in Perkins Hall.

Mrs. Boatright is one of the college's most outstanding alumni-artists. She graduated from the music department in 1957 as a fine concert pianist, having won many competitions and solo appearances with the Pueblo and Colorado Springs Symphonies.

After three years of graduate study she earned the master of music degree from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston in 1959.

Attending the Boston Symphony summer home at Tanglewood in 1958, she was awarded the prize of "Outstanding Pianist" there and performed as soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra in the following June.

During her years in Boston she also appeared as soloist in Jordan Hall, the Isabella Steward Gardner Museum and on educational television shows.

Her numerous chamber music concerts included a public performance with Richard Burgin, the concertmaster of the Boston Symphony.

For the last three years she has lived in Dallas, Tex., where she continued her concert career in solo and joint recitals with her husband, flutist Harvey Boatright. She also holds a teaching position in the Arlington State College which has a student enrollment of over 9,000 and serves the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.

She has participated regularly in the Colorado College summer concert series since 1959, culminating in her most successful appearance last summer in a special "Alumni Concert" together with Herbert Beattie, bass, and her husband.

This will be her first appearance in the college's winter concert series since she left here in 1957. Mrs. Boatright will perform Beethoven's Sonata op. 81a ("Les Adieux"), Chopin's Sonata in B flat minor, op. 35 and the Sonata for Piano op. 26 by Samuel Barber.

These works are a part of the large repertoire she had to present as contestant in the recent Van Cliburn International Piano Competition at Ft. Worth, Tex.

The concert will be free to the public.

Drivers Distracted in Billboard Zone AAA Says

Billboards distract drivers and can cause accidents, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club contended this week on the basis of a survey recently taken on the New York State Thruway.

The survey, reported the AAA club, shoed that accidents caused by "driver inattention" were three times greater per mile in areas with billboards than in sections without signs. The survey included all accidents on the 559-mile freeway that were attribted by the New York State Police to drive inattention.

Motorists, during 1961-62, were exposed to billboards on only one-eighth of the thruway's length. Yet the survey showed that one-third of the 1,500 drive inattention accidents during the period checked were in that relatively small area in which motorists were exposed to the signs.

The AAA club is urging Colorado legislators to consider the New York survey results in determining the fate of pending legislation that would control billboard erection along the state's interstate highway mileage.

The control of billboards along freeways has been promoted in the past as primarily a matter of esthetics, the AAA club commented. Now, however, concrete evidence is available that billboards are a possible serious traffic hazard also.

Regardless whether the General Assembly sustains or overrides Governor John Love's veto of a proposed new right of way law, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club contends that motorists should follow only one rule:

At intersections uncontrolled by either signs or signals, be prepared to yield the right of way to any other approaching vehicle close enough to be a hazard.

The vetoes measure was intended to change the state law to agree with the right of way ordinance in Denver and in several other Colorado cities.

The state law gives the right of way to the first driver to enter an intersection. If, however, two drivers enter at the same time, the driver on the right has the right of way.

The city ordinance always gives the right of way to the driver on the right even tho a driver on the left had entered the intersection first.

From a traffic safety point of view, said the AAA club, it makes little difference whether the governor's veto stands, adding that "any driver who insists on the right of way at an open intersection is just asking for an accident."

The governor gave as his reason for vetoing the measure the fact that the uniform code on this matter is the same as the present Colorado law. A change would have put Colorado out of step with most other states.

Leaving the law as it is puts Colorado out of step with many cities within the state. A motorist, commented the auto club, cannot possibly know as he drives from one jurisdiction to another what the local right of way rule is. Therefore, the only logical thing for a driver to do when approaching an open intersection is to always be prepared to yield the right of way.

Herman Cherry To Teach at CC This Summer

Colorado College today announced the appointment of Herman Cherry, nationally known painter, as a visiting artist and teacher for the summer session, which gets underway June 17.

Summer session art classes, which include both theory and actual studio work, are offered by the independent college of arts and sciences in cooperation with the Fine Arts Center.

Landscape Painting," an introduction to materials and methods, and an advanced "Painting Workshop."

Cherry's works have been exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum and the Modern Museum in New York City, the Denver Art Museum, the University of Illinois, Pennsylvania Academy in Philadelphia, Los Angeles Museum, and at European galleries in Paris and Athens. He has had one-man shows in galleries in New York City, Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena, and Oakland.

His study and painting have taken him to Germany, Mexico, France, Italy, Brazil, and Peru.

Author of articles in a number of art journals, Cherry has had reproductions of his work and articles also in Life Magazine, Arts, Art News, "Mobiles," and Art International.

Details about Cherry's courses and other art classes, including those in interpretation and criticism of art, graphic arts, sculpture, life drawing, modern art, and art teaching methods, may be obtained at the Fine Arts Center, telephone Melrose 4-3381, or from Summer Session Director Fred A. Sondermann, Summer Session Office at Colorado College, Colorado Springs.

Soap Box Derby Winners to Serve As Directors

Winners of the 1961 and 1962 Jaycee Soap Box Derby will serve as junior directors for this year's Junior Chamber of Commerce race, set for June 30. They are Kenneth Schmidt III, son of Ken Schmidt Jr., 322 Woodman Rd., '61 winner, and Scott Lewis, son of Richard Lewis, 1203 Morning Star Dr.

The junior directors will be on hand thruout the derby racer building school at the West Junior High School. The school will be open to all derby entrants, starting March 27 and continuing for 11 weeks. Classes will be held from 7 to 9 Wednesday nights of each week. All boys between the ages of 11 and 15 may register for the race at Daniels Motors, 105 N. Weber St. Registration will close April 10.

Local participants in the '63 derby will compete for a $500 savings bond, a winner's trophy and an expense free trip to the All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron, O., Aug. 3.

A Jaycee committee, under direction of Walt Masel, is at work obtaining sponsors for entrants. Any businessman, organization or other individual desiring to sponsor a boy in this year's race is asked to contact the Junior Chamber of Commerce office, Daniels Motors or KRDO. An effort will be made to have 200 entrants in this year's event.

Salvation Army Needs Children's Articles

The Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center serving this area is in need of children's clothing and children's furniture, as well as chests of drawers and other small furniture items. Of course, all discards can be used, and will be picked up at the housewife's door.

"You help others twice when you give your discards to The Salvation Army," said Major Charles Griffin, manager of The Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center serving this area.

Major Griffin explained that the 50 men who are working their way back to useful places in society by following The Salvation Army program of work, recreation and Spiritual therapy, are actually supported by housewive's discards during this period of rehabilitation.

"You also help others when you donate your discards to The Salvation Army, because your discards are sold at very low prices to many families who can not afford to buy new articles, but wish to remain independent of charity," Griffin said.

A special appeal is being made this month to housewife's to donate children's clothing and furniture. Discarded cribs, play pens and high chairs are needed.

Also desired are small articles of adult furniture, especially chests of drawers. Discards will be picked up at the housewife's door when you call The Salvation Army, ME 3-4697.

Girl Hits Car While Taking Driving Test

A 17-year-old girl attempting to earn a driver's permit failed the crucial test Friday when she drove the family car into the rear of another car parked in front of the Vehicle License Bureau at 518 S. Tejon St.

Christine C. Mulawa, 17, of 466 Loomis Ave., succeeded in backing her car out of its parking space, but became confused when her passenger test officer ordered a right turn at the next corner, according to the report.

Police said the girl drove the car some 15 feet south on Tejon Street and then struck a parked car, occupied by Harold C. Conkling, 50, of 2417 N. Corona St.

Conkling received a sprained back in the accident but declined assistance at the scene. His car was undamaged.

Damage to the Mulawa car was estimated at $50.

Accident Sends Man to Hospital

A spectacular one - car accident early this morning sent a local man to the hospital and demolished the car he was driving.

Elwood Hillops, 20, 2720 N. Main St., is being treated for cuts and abrasions of the face, head and body at Penrose Hospital.

State Patrol reports said Hillops was driving south on U.S. 85-87 about 2:15 a.m. today when he lost control of his car on the icy roads.

The vehicle spun around in the highway and skidded backwards off the road. The car rolled over on to its side and then righted itself coming to rest off the highway.

The 1953 model car Hillops was driving was declared a total loss by investigating officers.

TOPIC: CANCER — Planning the third medical program in the Senior Seminar series are from left: Dr. Robert O. Beadles, urologist; Dr. George L. Merkert, surgeon and Dr. Robert H. Smith, internist. The three doctors will speak on the subject, "Cancer and Other Regressive Diseases" Wednesday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:15 p.m., in the Little Theater of the City Auditorium. The Seminar is open to the public at no charge.

Prizes Offered for Sale Of Scout-O-Rama Tickets

Prizes in the form of Cub and Scout equipment and camp fees for Boy Scouts can be earned when scouts sell Scout - O - Rama tickets.

Tickets for the huge extravaganza to be held April 3-6 will be distributed to Cubmasters, Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors on March 12 at the Swiss Chalet at 6 p.m. The dinner is being provided complimentary by a Rotarian.

Proceeds from this years event will go largely to individual scouts for securing equipment and materials that cubs and scouts need in the progress thru their Scouting experience. This year Boy Scouts can earn a large share of their fees for summer camp thru their sales of Scout-O-Rama tickets.

Gift certificates will be issued to scouts on the basis of $1.50 for each $5.00 in ticket sales made. The certificates may be used to purchase any item of cub or scout equipment in the entire catalogue.

Paul Hill, Council Camp Committee chairman, stated that the Scout Council is anxious to make it possible for every Boy Scout to have the opportunity to attend summer camp. "Boys who are ambitious can earn their way to camp by selling Scout-O-Rama tickets".

This years Scout-O-Rama will include the largest display of Merit Badge subjects, hobbies, crafts and vocational demonstrations in the history of the Pikes Peak Council. Seventy Booths are being developed by packs, troops and Explorer units. Many of these booths are being sponsored by members of the Colorado Springs Rotary Club. Many of the booth subjects require expert knowledge in order for scouts to be trained in the requirements for display of the hundreds of booth items. Many Rotarians are providing personal instruction to individual scouts for the purpose of presenting to the 15,000 persons who are expected to attend the four Scout-O-Rama performances, a professional display of Merit Badge subjects.

Tickets sold by scouts may be used for any one of the four performances. Adult tickets sell for $1.00, childrens tickets are 50 cents.

In addition to the scores of booths, a stage show will be presented each performance. The theme "Fit for tomorrow" will envolve more than 1,000 Scouts each performance.

The Boy Scout Council is a member service of the United Fund. The bulk of the proceeds from the Scout - O - Rama will go to provide individual equipment for boys and camp fees and for other necessary items not provided from United Fund sources.

Two Receive Eagle Scout Awards Here

Members of Boy Scout Troop 69, sponsored by the Ascension Lutheran Church, participated in a Court of Honor program last week highlighted by a candlelight ceremony in honor of William Hooker and Douglas Nielsen who received their Eagle Scout awards.

Tenderfoot scout awards were presented to John Glasser and John King by Maj. Walter Hooker, institutional representative.

Edward Pompea received the Second Class award and the following boys received Frist Class rank awards:

Charles Donalson, Charles Fish, Louis Angone, Richard Cook and Jerry Zoellenr. These awards were presented by Preston Cunningham.

Scoutmaster Richard Nielsen presented training awards and junior leader warrants to Bill Hooker, Douglas Nielsen, Jerry Zoellner, Rodney Crum, Mike LeClair, Dennis Junge and Knute Sorensen. Sorensen also received the Mole Swim award.

More than 30 merit badges were presented to troop members, including Rodney Crum, Mike LeClair, Pat Lyon, Ron Rogers, Dennis Junge, Jim Cunningham, Knute Sorenson, Charles Fish, Bill Hooker, and Douglas Neilsen.

A Star Scout award was presented by Lt. Col. Joseph LeClair to Knute Sorensen.

Poor Eyesight Spells America's Greatest Enemy

Waste resulting from vision deficiencies on the production line and in schools represents the greatest enemy America has today, the Colorado Springs Optometric Society says.

The American Optometric Association, which is observing "Save Your Vision Week," March 3-9, reports there is a direct relationship between waste and poor vision.

Dr. John A. Ordahl, president, explains that accidents and production slowdowns are often caused by a worker's vision deficiency. The same applies to homes and schools.

Among senior citizens, many valuable individuals have allowed themselves to become non-productive because no attempt is made to correct vision problems.

In schools, slower learning and a higher cost of education can be attributed to a high percentage of vision problems among students.

Dr. Ordahl says keeping America strong is everyone's job. "We must start from within, and we must start by eliminating waste and inefficiency caused by inadequate vision."

He urges the entire family to make it a regular habit to have their vision thoroly examined by an optometrist at least once a year. "Delays can be dangerous," Dr. Ordahl warns.

State Training, Advisory Committee Okays Projects

Colorado's new Manpower Development and Training Advisory Committee has approved seven proposed training projects in three communities within the state, the Department of Employment reported today.

The federally financed projects include five courses for 20 trainees each in Greeley for stenographers, general office clerks, accounting clerks, key punch operators, and typists, and a course for practical nurses in Pueblo and Fort Collins consisting of 20 trainees each for 52 weeks.

The classes for stenographer, general office clerk and accounting clerk will extend for 40 week's 16 weeks for key punch operator, and 20 weeks for typists.

Each trainee will receive a training allowance of $43 a week, plus transportation and subsistence payments if necessary.

Under the law, trainees are selected and referred to training by the Department of Employment. The state Board for Vocational Education has the responsibility of establishing the training curriculum and acquiring facilities.

The courses will begin as soon as the projects are approved by the federal government and training arrangements have been completed, probably within 30 to 60 days.

The seven-member committee, appointed Feb. 12 by Gov. John A. Love, met Tuesday, Feb. 26, in a day-long session at Department of Employment headquarters in Denver.

Committee members are: William L. McDivitt, president of Otero Junior College, La Junta, chairman and official spokesman for the group, representing the public; Leavitt A. Booth, Arvada rancher, public; Iver C. Ranum, Westminster school superintendent, education; Stow L. Witwer, Greeley rancher, agriculture; Thomas A. Van Tries, Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co., Denver, management; Albert C. Wise, Denver photoengraver, labor, and Delfino Mata of Pueblo, training.

Key officials of the state Department of Employment, Department of Vocational Education, and regional officials of the U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Bureau of Employment Security, and U.S. Office of Health, Education and Welfare attended the meeting.

McDivitt said the newly approved projects "do not necessarily represent the most important training needs in Colorado," and added, "the committee recognizes that this is the initial step in providing such training. These projects will make a good starting point."

The chairman said the committee was disappointed that it did not receive training proposals for adult males in the 25 to 40-year-old age bracket, but hopes that subsequent projects will include this important worker group.

The proposals were submitted after a survey of manpower needs was made by local offices of the Department of Employment, as required by MDTA regulations.

"It is the consensus of the committee that a serious study must be made of the unemployment situation in the state, especially those areas with major unemployment problems; the high school dropout, 18 to 21-year-old persons who are unskilled and untrained, and the seasonal farm laborer," McDivitt said.

He said every citizen in the state should be concerned about the state's unemployment problem and need for more jobs and job training. He appealed to all citizens to send ideas and suggestions to the committee or to representatives of the Department of Employment or state Board for Vocational Education.

The committee plans to meet again March 25 at the Department of Employment offices in Denver.

McDivitt advised anyone interested in MDTA training to inquire at the local employment office of the Department of Employment in their area for details.

Since July 1, last year, three MDTA training courses have been approved and are in session at Emily Griffith Opportunity School in Denver. The classes were set up to train 18 turret lathe operators, 18 auto mechanics, and 25 stenographers.

The 10 MDTA courses which have been approved to date will consume most of the money alloted to Colorado for this fiscal year ending June 30, 1963.

MDTA was signed into law March 15, 1962. Persons eligible to apply for training under provisions of the act include unemployed youths 16 thru 21 years old, unemployed heads of families or households who have held jobs for at least three years in the past, and workers in farm families with less than $1,200 a year net family income. Part-time workers who are not adequately trained to get full-time jobs also are eligible, but priority for training will be given to the unemployed.

Model Rocket Film to Be Shown on TV

"Model Rocketry, the Space Age Hobby" is the title of a film to be seen on KRDO Channel 13 Monday at 12:45.

The film shows and describes the building and firing of model rockets of all different sizes and shapes. The safety features of model rocketry are shown in detail.

Much of the footage for the film was taken during the past two years on ranges of the National Association of Rocketry located near Colorado Springs and at the Air Force Academy. Some of the pictures were taken during the Boy Scout Jamboree three years ago.

The hobby of model rocketry has just been recognized as an international sport for competition on a world-wide basis among space - minded youngsters and adults.

Such competition on a national basis is governed by the rules of the NAR, an associate of the National Academy of Aeronautics. Many of the rules were first tried out on the local ranges before being incorporated in the national standards.

Five-Year-Old Hopes to Find Missing Dog

A small black male poodle has been missing since Sunday afternoon from the Jim Burnett residence at 2518 E. Buena Ventura St.

The Burnetts' son Todd, 5, let the dog out about 3 p. m. and found it missing later after it was discovered the strong winds had blown the gate open.

The poodle is one year old, stands about 15 inches high and was wearing a yellow collar. It answers to the name of "Beau."

Anyone having any information about the dog is asked to call the Burnetts at 636-3668.

Firemen Called; No Fire, Damper Closed

Company 6 and Battalion Chief Louis Fooshee of the city fire department at 6:27 p.m. Sunday made a run to the home of Edward Pokropus, 2621 Templeton Gap Rd., where the house was fast filling with smoke.

The firemen found that the damper on a fireplace was closed. Opening it stopped the smoke from coming into the house. The firemen fanned out that which had accumulated.

CC Faculty To Discuss Medical School

The Colorado College faculty pre-medical committee will sponsor a discussion on "Preparing for Medical School" at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Rastall Center on the campus.

Dr. John J. Conger, associate dean of the Medical Center at the University of Colorado, will talk about problems and opportunities in medicine, medical school admission policies, and how to prepare for medical school.

Dr. Eldon T. Hitchcock, assistant professor of chemistry at Colorado College and chairman of the pre-medical committee, said the meeting would be open to all college and high school students interested in a career in medicine.

CC Piano Recital Features Jo Boatright, Sunday

The Colorado College Concert Series will feature the well-known pianist Jo Garner Boatright in a solo recital Sunday, at 4 p.m. in Perkins Hall.

Mrs. Boatright is one of the college's most outstanding alumni-artists. She graduated from the music department in 1957 as a fine concert pianist, having won many competitions and solo appearances with the Pueblo and Colorado Springs Symphonies.

After three years of graduate study she earned the master of music degree from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston in 1959.

Attending the Boston Symphony summer home at Tanglewood in 1958, she was awarded the prize of "Outstanding Pianist" there and performed as soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra in the following June.

During her years in Boston she also appeared as soloist in Jordan Hall, the Isabella Steward Gardner Museum and on educational television shows.

Her numerous chamber music concerts included a public performance with Richard Burgin, the concertmaster of the Boston Symphony.

For the last three years she has lived in Dallas, Tex., where she continued her concert career in solo and joint recitals with her husband, flutist Harvey Boatright. She also holds a teaching position in the Arlington State College which has a student enrollment of over 9,000 and serves the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.

She has participated regularly in the Colorado College summer concert series since 1959, culminating in her most successful appearance last summer in a special "Alumni Concert" together with Herbert Beattie, bass, and her husband.

This will be her first appearance in the college's winter concert series since she left here in 1957. Mrs. Boatright will perform Beethoven's Sonata op. 81a ("Les Adieux"), Chopin's Sonata in B flat minor, op. 35 and the Sonata for Piano op. 26 by Samuel Barber.

These works are a part of the large repertoire she had to present as contestant in the recent Van Cliburn International Piano Competition at Ft. Worth, Tex.

The concert will be free to the public.

Drivers Distracted in Billboard Zone AAA Says

Billboards distract drivers and can cause accidents, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club contended this week on the basis of a survey recently taken on the New York State Thruway.

The survey, reported the AAA club, shoed that accidents caused by "driver inattention" were three times greater per mile in areas with billboards than in sections without signs. The survey included all accidents on the 559-mile freeway that were attribted by the New York State Police to drive inattention.

Motorists, during 1961-62, were exposed to billboards on only one-eighth of the thruway's length. Yet the survey showed that one-third of the 1,500 drive inattention accidents during the period checked were in that relatively small area in which motorists were exposed to the signs.

The AAA club is urging Colorado legislators to consider the New York survey results in determining the fate of pending legislation that would control billboard erection along the state's interstate highway mileage.

The control of billboards along freeways has been promoted in the past as primarily a matter of esthetics, the AAA club commented. Now, however, concrete evidence is available that billboards are a possible serious traffic hazard also.

Regardless whether the General Assembly sustains or overrides Governor John Love's veto of a proposed new right of way law, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club contends that motorists should follow only one rule:

At intersections uncontrolled by either signs or signals, be prepared to yield the right of way to any other approaching vehicle close enough to be a hazard.

The vetoes measure was intended to change the state law to agree with the right of way ordinance in Denver and in several other Colorado cities.

The state law gives the right of way to the first driver to enter an intersection. If, however, two drivers enter at the same time, the driver on the right has the right of way.

The city ordinance always gives the right of way to the driver on the right even tho a driver on the left had entered the intersection first.

From a traffic safety point of view, said the AAA club, it makes little difference whether the governor's veto stands, adding that "any driver who insists on the right of way at an open intersection is just asking for an accident."

The governor gave as his reason for vetoing the measure the fact that the uniform code on this matter is the same as the present Colorado law. A change would have put Colorado out of step with most other states.

Leaving the law as it is puts Colorado out of step with many cities within the state. Pirates Draw Bobcats in State; Cathedral Surrenders to Snow

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

St. Mary's Pirates, who have won league titles almost as frequently as they have been "snowed out" this year, commence preparations today for entry into the State Parochial Tournament Friday night at the Regis College Fieldhouse where they will meet St. Anthony's of Sterling in the opening contest at 5 p.m.

The Pirates, unwillingly idle Sunday afternoon while the reminder of the Denver Parochial League wound up scheduled action, were feeling better about things following the draw for state tourney bracketing which was accomplished later in the day.

"With any luck at all we should at least make the finals," Father Leo Kennedy, St. Mary's Athletic Director said this morning. "Whoever was flipping the coin in Denver certainly didn't hurt us."

Kennedy was also concerned, however, over Cathedral's cancellation of Sunday's game with the Pirates which had been scheduled for the St. Mary's Gymnasium. "It's not very good publicity for the league," he said today. "We know the roads weren't the best but after the game was cancelled Coach Murphy went to Denver to scout St. Anthony's. I feel certain our team would have gone had the situation been reversed."

St. Mary's was indeed due some expression of disgust. It was the third time during this school year that a DPL opponent had begged off due to unfavorable conditions. Machebeuf forced postponements in both football and basketball. Cathedral's failure to show Sunday, however, will cause that game to go in the books as a forfeit. The team reportedly was foiled in its attempt to make the trip when the school bus driver refused to venture forth during Sunday's snow showers.

As for the tournament bracketing, St. Mary's DPL champions came up with a bit of "Irish luck". The top - seeded Bucs open with St. Anthony's Friday and if they advance past that round will meet the winner of the Canon City Abbey — St. Joseph's game in Saturday night's second round. Canon City was the runner-up in the tiny four - team Southern Catholic League and St. Joseph's finished in a tie for third in the DPL. St. Mary's soundly thrashed the Bulldogs twice during the regular season.

Tough competition is set up for the lower bracket, however. St. Francis and Annunciation, two of the Bucs' roughest opponents over the regular campaign, meet in the first round and Regis is paired with SPL champ, Pueblo Catholic. The games Friday will not be played in the order of the bracketing. The St. Mary's contest leads off at 5 p.m. with St. Francis and Annunciation following at 6:30; Abbey and St. Joseph's at 8; and Regis and Catholic at 9:30.

One ominous note came out of Sunday's firing. Old - nemisis Regis, a team which seems to invariably play havoc with Pirate hopes, whipped St. Francis 69-55 in a final regular season game and appears to be ready for it's annual strong run for the title. Annunciation clobbered St. Joseph's 85-58, Machebeuf edged Mt. Carmel 55-50, and Mullen downed Holy Family 77-56 in other closers.

Plans Set For Playoff In WCHA

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Plans were completed Sunday for the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs which will largely decide the league's two entry in the NCAA Hockey Tournament at Boston March 14-16.

Minnesota Athletic Director Ike Armstrong said he, Colorado College Athletic Director Jerry Carle and North Dakota Athletic Director L. L. Marti had completed arrangements by telephone following Saturday night's windup of regular season action in the WCHA.

The playoffs will see Denver hosting Minnesota and North Dakota entertaining Michigan Tech in two - game semifinal series Thursday and Friday nights. Teams scoring the most goals will win those series, regardless of whether they are split one game each.

Saturday night the winners will collide on the ice of the team with the best regular season record.

WCHA officials will pick the conference's two entries for the Boston meet following the playoffs. The playoff champion and runnerup are virtually assured of selection, but it is not mandatory.

Denver and North Dakota wound up tied for the championship. Both had .667 percentages, the Pioneers with a 12-6-0 mark and the Sioux 11-5-2. Michigan Tech finished third at 11-7-2 for .600 and Minnesota fourth at 10-7-3 for .500.

North Dakota squeaked by cellar-dwelling Michigan 6-5 Saturday night and slid into a first place tie with Denver in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

Patterson Announces He Has New Confidence

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Floyd Patterson, who sneaked away in disguise after he was knocked out in the first round by Sonny Liston, has set up a training camp for a rematch and at his first press conference announced:

"I've picked up some confidence. I don't know what good it will do me, but I've got it."

Maybe that last sentence was a slip of the tongue, because Patterson seemed in good spirits and showed some humor.

Asked whether he would admit the public to his training sesions, Patterson said:

"I'm going to wait and see if anybody wants to come out here. Charge a dollar for admission? Well, I don't know. After that last fight maybe I'll just charge 25 cents and pass out coupons."

Referring to Liston's prediction that he would again floor Patterson in the first round, the ex-champion said:

"I guess if I stay past the first round, I'll get tremendous applause."

Patterson, explaining that he felt good, said he has no plans to fight Liston any differently this time.

"I won't decide until after the fight starts," Patterson said. "He's the champion. He's out to make the fight. The weight will be on his shoulders."

Top Area Independents Maintain Good Records

By United Press International

Two big independents kept their good seasons intact over the weekend— Colorado State University dumped possible NCAA rival Utah State, 67-60, and Regis picked up the unofficial championship of Denver, beating Denver University, 78-69.

CSU and Aggie big gun Bill Green move to Lubbock, Tex., this week to face regional opponents in the first round NCAA competition. Utah State travels to Eugene, Ore., for a similar task.

The Aggies will take a 18-4 record to Lubbock. Utah State will carry a 20-6 record to Eugene.

Denver and Regis traded the lead and played at a tie at least twice Saturday in an individual scoring contest between Louis Stout of Regis and Dennis Hodge of Denver.

The Rangers garnered 36 from Stout; Hodge racked in 32.

Regis travels to Louisville, Ky., this week for the National Catholic invitational tournament. They open against St. Bonaventure March 8.

Two Top Wyoming Skiers to Compete

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)— Mike Korol and Karen Korfanta will return home to Wyoming next weekend to represent the Intermountain Ski Association in the National Junior meet at Jackson.

Kirol of the Jackson Hole Ski Club, won the expert boys giant slalom Sunday in 1:45.4.

Miss Korfanta, of Pinedale, won the expert girls' in 2:05.2.

Linda Moore Tops Gal Skiers

VAIL, Colo. (UPI)— Linda Moore of Aspen swept the girls' events for junior skiers in the Southern Rocky Mountain Ski Association qualifications Sunday to win a berth in the Junior Nationals at Jackson, Wyo., March 12-16.

Jere Elliott of Steamboat Springs led the boys' events.

Other qualifiers:

Girls—Linda Eames of Denver, Judy Smith of Steamboat, Christie Huidekoper of Jackson, Sanse Neish of Steamboat and Pam Wallis of Los Alamos, N.M.

Boys—Bob Keisel of Ogden, Utah, Bill Yager of Winter Park, Paul Rachetto, Terry Peak, S.D., Dick Sabbatini of Aspen, Ron Barr of Denver, Jim Wilson of Denver, Richard Holmes of Denver, Bill Gerber and Todd Pitcher of Ruidoso, N.M.

CANDIAN GIRL IN CHAMPIONSHIPS —Canada's Wendy Griner is shown in action at Olympic Stadium at Cortina, Italy, during the ladies world figure skating championships over the weekend. Holland's Dijkstra Triumphs In World Skating Tourney

CORTINA, Italy (AP) — Dutch skater Sjoukje Dijkstra, armed with her second world title, looked forward today to one more figure-skating world to conquer.

The 21-year-old blonde retained her ladies' singles crown Sunday in the closing event of the four-day 1963 World Figure Skating Championships.

Miss Dijkstra completely outclassed a field of 24, sweeping both the compulsory school figures and free style skating. She was the unanimous first-place choice of all nine judges.

Few among the fans at Cortina's Olympic Stadium who saw her brilliant triumph doubted that she would take the 1964 Olympic gold medal as well.

In the other events, Donald McPherson of Canada won the men's singles, Marika Kilius and Hans-Juegen Baumler of West Germany took the pairs crown, and Eva and Pavel Roman of Czechoslovakia captured their second title.

The Soviet pair of Ljudmila and Oleg Protopopov, who came in second, remained popular favorites among the skating fraternity despite their loss to Miss Kilius and Baumler.

France's Alain Calmat and West Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer, who each had more first-place votes than McPherson, figured as strong contenders in men's singles along with the potentially great 14-year-old Scott Allen of the United States. Allen placed fifth.

British ice dancers Linda Shearman and Michael Phillips, who upset the Romans last month in the Euopean championships at Budapest, lost to the Czech sister-brother team by only a slender margin.

In the ladies' singles, Austria's Regina Heitzer was second and France's Nicole Hassler third. Canadians Wendy Griner and Petra Burka placed fourth and fifth.

The second half of the top 10 in the ladies event underwent a drastic change in the free-style. Diana Clifton Peach, slipped from fifth place to 11th, and Lorraine Hanlon of Boston dropped from seventh to 10th.

The world championships emphasized the supremacy of Europeans in figure skating, with only McPherson saving the rest of the world from being shut out completely.

The best the United States could do in the championships, which ended Sunday night at the outdoor stadium built for the 1956 Winter Olympics, was a fifth place in the men's division.

That spot was won by one of the world's most promising young figure skaters, Scott Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., who is only 14 years old.

Lorraine Hanlon, a 17-year-old Boston schoolgirl, was the highest placed American woman. She finished 10th. Karen Howland of Seattle, Wash., was 13th and Christine Haigler of Colorado Springs, Colo., wound up 19th among the 24 skaters.

WAC Champion Sun Devils Face Rival Arizona Tonight

By DICK STUART
Associated Press Staff Writer

Arizona State University, winner of the first Western Athletc Conference Basketball Championship, faces arch-rival Arizona tonight in its last test before the NCAA playoffs.

The Sun Devils — 8-1 in WAC play, 23-2 overall and ranked fourth nationally —might be excused if they take Arizona lightly. After all, the Wildcats are 3-6 in WAC action and 13-12 on the season.

But Arizona is after the Sun Devils for three reasons.

1. A victory would give Arizona its first winning season in nine years.

2. A victory would give the Wildcats fifth place in the final WAC standings,, while a loss would drop them into a last place tie with Wyoming at 3-7.

3. A victory would snap an 11-game losing streak to the Sun Devils. No Arizona team has beaten A-State since Ned Wulk began coaching the Sun Devils to national prominence.

Wulk, meanwhile, will be checking two regulars to determine if they've shaken off injuries. Hobbled recently were 6-foot-5 sophomore Dennis Dairman and 6-8 junior Art Becker.

Dairman suffered a dislocated finger on his right hand two weeks ago, while Becker sprained an ankle in a 73-70 victory over Creighton last Monday.

After tonight's action, the Sun Devils meet Utah State in an NCAA playoff game next Monday at Eugene, Ore. The winner goes into the far west regionals at Provo, Utah, March 15-16.

In season-ending WAC games last week, New Mexico took fourth place with a 4-6 record by rapping Utah 84-71 and Brigham Young University 84-59.

BYU gained second with a 6-4 mark by defeating Wyoming 80-76 while the Utes finished third at 5-5 after edging the Cowboys 92-90 in overtime.

Chasing K-State . . .

Buffs Need Huskers Win To Stay in Big 8 Race

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas State stayed in command of the Big Eight basketball race by beating Oklahoma State and the Wildcats can sew up at least a championship tie tonight at Ames, Iowa, where Iowa State hasn't beaten K-State since 1957.

K-State cleared a big hurdle by whipping Oklahoma State 56-54 Saturday night at Stillwater, where their 1962 title chances went down the drain. It was Oklahoma State's first home court defeat this season and eliminated the Cowboys from the race. A jump shot by Jeff Simons with six seconds left won the game after K-State overcame a 16-point reficit.

Coach Tex Winter's team, 10-2, increased its winning streak to eight games and took a full game lead over Colorado's defending champs, 9-3.

Even if they lost at Iowa State, the Wildcats could win the championship outright by defeating Colorado at Manhattan, Kan., Saturday in the final game for both teams.

Colorado is expected to make last-place Nebraska its 25th consecutive home court victim tonight at Boulder and stay in the running.

In event of a tie, the Big Eight will establish a playoff to determine its representative in the NCAA Midwest Regional at Lawrence, Kan., March 15-16.

"We don't want any playoffs for the title," Winter said. The K-State coach named 7-foot Roger Suttner as the key man for the Wildcats down the stretch. At Iowa State, Coach Glen Anderson indicated his club is smarting from eight straight defeats by K-State.

"We'd like to get even for a lot of losses in this series, but we'd like especially to wipe out the memory of the game a week ago," he said.

K-State won that one by 12 points, eliminating the Cyclones.

Since a two-point overtime victory at Ames in 1957, Iowa State has beaten K-State only once in 13 games—that in the Conference Tournament in December, 1959. Six of the past eight defeats were by one or two points.

In the other game Saturday night, Oklahoma wiped out an 11-point Nebraska lead in the last 6½ minutes and won 77-75 behind little Eddie Evans, who had 25 points. Oklahoma now stands 7-6 with a chance to share fourth place with Iowa State, 8-5, and Oklahoma State, 7-5.

Oklahoma State plays at Oklahoma Tuesday, Nebraska at Missouri Wednesday and Kansas at Oklahoma State Saturday in other games this week.

CU's Durley Serves Notice On Thomas

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Colorado's Leander Durley, who just missed the 7-foot mark as Big Eight indoor high jump champion Saturday night, served notice on Boston's John Thomas in future meets.

The 5-foot-11 sophomore cleared 6 feet 10¼ inches on his second jump for a meet record and the best mark ever by a Big Eight athlete in the event, indoors or outdoors.

It was one of the best leaps by an American collegian. Thomas jumped 7 feet 1½ inches on a dirt track while in college.

Durley's best previous effort was 6-10 in a squad meet. The 19-year-old Denver youth claims he cleared 7 feet⅝ of an inch in practice three weeks ago—a feat not witnessed by his coach, Frank Potts.

"I didn't really think I would hit 7 feet tonight," Durley said. "I've never jumped in such a hard pit. I'm sore all over."

Durley, a music major, said he had eliminated the kick from jumping technique. "I'm just rolling and trying to relax."

He barely missed 7 feet on his first attempt after setting the meet record. He was over but his trailing knee brushed the bar. His lead knee hit the standard on his second attempt, and he made only a half-hearted try the third time.

Giant Slalom Races at Vail

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Aspen's Linda Moore and Rob Kiesel of Ogden, Utah, sparked Sunday in the last two giant slalom qualifying races for the Junior National Championships at Jackson Hole, Wyo., March 12-16.

Miss Moore and Kiesel won Sunday's two slalom runs. She also won two runs Saturday when Jere Elliott of Steamboat Springs won the boys' races.

The trio led 10 boys and six girls chosen by the Southern Rocky Mountain Ski Association to compete at Jackson Hole.

Galvez was picked up by a helicopter at the scene of the accident and flown to the city hospital, where he died.

Mines-Eastern New Mexico Tilt Ends RMC Loop Slate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Basketball is all over for Rocky Mountain Conference teams except Colorado Mines which plays Eastern New Mexico at Golden Tuesday.

The winner goes to the NAIA tournament in Kansas City March 11-16. Mines, defending champion which wound up third in the league campaign, earned the NAIA shot with a 16-8 season record, best in the RMC.

Regular season play for the RMC teams ended last weekend with Colorado State College (8-8) and last-place Colorado College (3-13) splitting a pair at Colorado Springs. C-State won Saturday night 108-79 after losing Friday 68-65.

Western State and Adams State shared the championship with 10-6 records.

Mississippi State Bound For NCAA Tournament

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Exuberant Mississippi State, long denied by tradition from a chance at going all the way, finally made it into the NCAA post-season basketball tournament.

The Maroons won the Southeastern Conference title Saturday night just a couple of hours after school president D. W. Colvard announced a break with tradition which prohibited Mississippi State from playing teams with Negro athletes.

"It's great," coach Babe McCarthy said. "I'm happy we can go. The boys deserve it. They won the championship."

The Maroons nailed down the title with a 75-72 victory at Mississippi. It was the third straight time they had won or shared the championship.

Duke, West Virginia and Connecticut also secured NCAA berths with Saturday victories, leaving only six spots still to be filled. Those go to the conference champions in the Ivy, Big Six, West Coast, Big Ten, Big Eight and Ohio Valley, still undecided.

Duke, paced by All-America Art Heyman, came from behind and beat Wake Forest 68-57 in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament at Raleigh, N.C.

Heyman bunched 15 of his 24 points in a 10-minute span that broke the game open in the second half. It was the 18th straight victory for the Blue Devils, ranked second in the nation and 24-3 for the season.

West Virginia had to resort to a game-saving stall in the final minutes to hold off Davidson's ambitious sophomores 79-74 in the finals of the Southern Conference Tournament at Richmond, Va. Rod Thorn's 22 points led the Mountaineers.

Connecticut, West Virginia's first-round NCAA opponent, nailed down the Yankee Conference title with an 88-73 victory over visiting Rhode Island.

Cincinnati, the nation's top-ranked team, winner of the Missouri Valley Conference and shooting for its third straight NCAA title, handed St. Louis its first home court loss of the season, 66-52 with All-America Ron Bonham scoring 32 points.

Four of the other ranked teams were upset victims, however. Chicago Loyola, No. 3, fell before Wichita 73-72 in Chicago; Illinois, No. 6, lost at Michigan 84-81; NCAA-bound New York University, No. 9, was upset at Fordham 71-68 despite a 35-point performance by All-America Barry Kramer, and No. 10 Georgia Tech lost at Vanderbilt 75-74.

Wichita, ranked seventh and bound for the NIT, put on a big last half rally to beat Loyola. Dave Stallworth, who scored 28 points, hit the basket that put Wichita ahead to stay.

The Illinois loss and Ohio State's 96-75 romp at home over Purdue put the Buckeyes in sole control of the Big Ten lead with a 10-3 league record.

Pirates Draw Bobcats in State; Cathedral Surrenders to Snow

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

St. Mary's Pirates, who have won league titles almost as frequently as they have been "snowed out" this year, commence preparations today for entry into the State Parochial Tournament Friday night at the Regis College Fieldhouse where they will meet St. Anthony's of Sterling in the opening contest at 5 p.m.

The Pirates, unwillingly idle Sunday afternoon while the reminder of the Denver Parochial League wound up scheduled action, were feeling better about things following the draw for state tourney bracketing which was accomplished later in the day.

"With any luck at all we should at least make the finals," Father Leo Kennedy, St. Mary's Athletic Director said this morning. "Whoever was flipping the coin in Denver certainly didn't hurt us."

Kennedy was also concerned, however, over Cathedral's cancellation of Sunday's game with the Pirates which had been scheduled for the St. Mary's Gymnasium. "It's not very good publicity for the league," he said today. "We know the roads weren't the best but after the game was cancelled Coach Murphy went to Denver to scout St. Anthony's. I feel certain our team would have gone had the situation been reversed."

St. Mary's was indeed due some expression of disgust. It was the third time during this school year that a DPL opponent had begged off due to unfavorable conditions. Machebeuf forced postponements in both football and basketball. Cathedral's failure to show Sunday, however, will cause that game to go in the books as a forfeit. The team reportedly was foiled in its attempt to make the trip when the school bus driver refused to venture forth during Sunday's snow showers.

As for the tournament bracketing, St. Mary's DPL champions came up with a bit of "Irish luck". The top - seeded Bucs open with St. Anthony's Friday and if they advance past that round will meet the winner of the Canon City Abbey — St. Joseph's game in Saturday night's second round. Canon City was the runner-up in the tiny four - team Southern Catholic League and St. Joseph's finished in a tie for third in the DPL. St. Mary's soundly thrashed the Bulldogs twice during the regular season.

St. Mary's defeated Cathedral by forfeit
Regis 69 St. Francis 55
Annunciation 84 St. Joseph's 58
Machebeuf 55 Mt. Carmel 50
Mullen 77 Holy Family 56

Tough competition is set up for the lower bracket, however. St. Francis and Annunciation, two of the Bucs' roughest opponents over the regular campaign, meet in the first round and Regis is paired with SPL champ, Pueblo Catholic. The games Friday will not be played in the order of the bracketing. The St. Mary's contest leads off at 5 p.m. with St. Francis and Annunciation following at 6:30; Abbey and St. Joseph's at 8; and Regis and Catholic at 9:30.

One ominous note came out of Sunday's firing. Old - nemisis Regis, a team which seems to invariably play havoc with Pirate hopes, whipped St. Francis 69-55 in a final regular season game and appears to be ready for it's annual strong run for the title. Annunciation clobbered St. Joseph's 85-58, Machebeuf edged Mt. Carmel 55-50, and Mullen downed Holy Family 77-56 in other closers.

The University of Houston Cougars have won the National Collegiate AA golf title six of the past seven years.

Plans Set For Playoff In WCHA

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Plans were completed Sunday for the Western Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs which will largely decide the league's two entry in the NCAA Hockey Tournament at Boston March 14-16.

Minnesota Athletic Director Ike Armstrong said he, Colorado College Athletic Director Jerry Carle and North Dakota Athletic Director L. L. Marti had completed arrangements by telephone following Saturday night's windup of regular season action in the WCHA.

The playoffs will see Denver hosting Minnesota and North Dakota entertaining Michigan Tech in two - game semifinal series Thursday and Friday nights. Teams scoring the most goals will win those series, regardless of whether they are split one game each.

Saturday night the winners will collide on the ice of the team with the best regular season record.

WCHA officials will pick the conference's two entries for the Boston meet following the playoffs. The playoff champion and runnerup are virtually assured of selection, but it is not mandatory.

Denver and North Dakota wound up tied for the championship. Both had .667 percentages, the Pioneers with a 12-6-0 mark and the Sioux 11-5-2. Michigan Tech finished third at 11-7-2 for .600 and Minnesota fourth at 10-7-3 for .500.

North Dakota squeaked by cellar-dwelling Michigan 6-5 Saturday night and slid into a first place tie with Denver in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

Patterson Announces He Has New Confidence

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Floyd Patterson, who sneaked away in disguise after he was knocked out in the first round by Sonny Liston, has set up a training camp for a rematch and at his first press conference announced:

"I've picked up some confidence. I don't know what good it will do me, but I've got it."

Maybe that last sentence was a slip of the tongue, because Patterson seemed in good spirits and showed some humor.

Asked whether he would admit the public to his training sesions, Patterson said:

"I'm going to wait and see if anybody wants to come out here. Charge a dollar for admission? Well, I don't know. After that last fight maybe I'll just charge 25 cents and pass out coupons."

Referring to Liston's prediction that he would again floor Patterson in the first round, the ex-champion said:

"I guess if I stay past the first round, I'll get tremendous applause."

Patterson, explaining that he felt good, said he has no plans to fight Liston any differently this time.

"I won't decide until after the fight starts," Patterson said. "He's the champion. He's out to make the fight. The weight will be on his shoulders."

Top Area Independents Maintain Good Records

By United Press International

Two big independents kept their good seasons intact over the weekend— Colorado State University dumped possible NCAA rival Utah State, 67-60, and Regis picked up the unofficial championship of Denver, beating Denver University, 78-69.

CSU and Aggie big gun Bill Green move to Lubbock, Tex., this week to face regional opponents in the first round NCAA competition. Utah State travels to Eugene, Ore., for a similar task.

The Aggies will take a 18-4 record to Lubbock. Utah State will carry a 20-6 record to Eugene.

Denver and Regis traded the lead and played at a tie at least twice Saturday in an individual scoring contest between Louis Stout of Regis and Dennis Hodge of Denver.

The Rangers garnered 36 from Stout; Hodge racked in 32.

Regis travels to Louisville, Ky., this week for the National Catholic invitational tournament. They open against St. Bonaventure March 8.

Two Top Wyoming Skiers to Compete

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI)— Mike Korol and Karen Korfanta will return home to Wyoming next weekend to represent the Intermountain Ski Association in the National Junior meet at Jackson.

Kirol of the Jackson Hole Ski Club, won the expert boys giant slalom Sunday in 1:45.4.

Miss Korfanta, of Pinedale, won the expert girls' in 2:05.2.

Linda Moore Tops Gal Skiers

VAIL, Colo. (UPI)— Linda Moore of Aspen swept the girls' events for junior skiers in the Southern Rocky Mountain Ski Association qualifications Sunday to win a berth in the Junior Nationals at Jackson, Wyo., March 12-16.

Jere Elliott of Steamboat Springs led the boys' events.

Other qualifiers:

Girls—Linda Eames of Denver, Judy Smith of Steamboat, Christie Huidekoper of Jackson, Sanse Neish of Steamboat and Pam Wallis of Los Alamos, N.M.

Boys—Bob Keisel of Ogden, Utah, Bill Yager of Winter Park, Paul Rachetto, Terry Peak, S.D., Dick Sabbatini of Aspen, Ron Barr of Denver, Jim Wilson of Denver, Richard Holmes of Denver, Bill Gerber and Todd Pitcher of Ruidoso, N.M.

Holland's Dijkstra Triumphs In World Skating Tourney

CORTINA, Italy (AP) — Dutch skater Sjoukje Dijkstra, armed with her second world title, looked forward today to one more figure-skating world to conquer.

The 21-year-old blonde retained her ladies' singles crown Sunday in the closing event of the four-day 1963 World Figure Skating Championships.

Miss Dijkstra completely outclassed a field of 24, sweeping both the compulsory school figures and free style skating. She was the unanimous first-place choice of all nine judges.

Few among the fans at Cortina's Olympic Stadium who saw her brilliant triumph doubted that she would take the 1964 Olympic gold medal as well.

In the other events, Donald McPherson of Canada won the men's singles, Marika Kilius and Hans-Juegen Baumler of West Germany took the pairs crown, and Eva and Pavel Roman of Czechoslovakia captured their second title.

The Soviet pair of Ljudmila and Oleg Protopopov, who came in second, remained popular favorites among the skating fraternity despite their loss to Miss Kilius and Baumler.

France's Alain Calmat and West Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer, who each had more first-place votes than McPherson, figured as strong contenders in men's singles along with the potentially great 14-year-old Scott Allen of the United States. Allen placed fifth.

British ice dancers Linda Shearman and Michael Phillips, who upset the Romans last month in the Euopean championships at Budapest, lost to the Czech sister-brother team by only a slender margin.

In the ladies' singles, Austria's Regina Heitzer was second and France's Nicole Hassler third. Canadians Wendy Griner and Petra Burka placed fourth and fifth.

The second half of the top 10 in the ladies event underwent a drastic change in the free-style.

Diana Clifton Peach, slipped from fifth place to 11th, and Lorraine Hanlon of Boston dropped from seventh to 10th.

The world championships emphasized the supremacy of Europeans in figure skating, with only McPherson saving the rest of the world from being shut out completely.

The best the United States could do in the championships, which ended Sunday night at the outdoor stadium built for the 1956 Winter Olympics, was a fifth place in the men's division.

That spot was won by one of the world's most promising young figure skaters, Scott Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., who is only 14 years old.

Lorraine Hanlon, a 17-year-old Boston schoolgirl, was the highest placed American woman. She finished 10th. Karen Howland of Seattle, Wash., was 13th and Christine Haigler of Colorado Springs, Colo., wound up 19th among the 24 skaters.

WAC Champion Sun Devils Face Rival Arizona Tonight

By DICK STUART
Associated Press Staff Writer

Arizona State University, winner of the first Western Athletc Conference Basketball Championship, faces arch-rival Arizona tonight in its last test before the NCAA playoffs.

The Sun Devils — 8-1 in WAC play, 23-2 overall and ranked fourth nationally —might be excused if they take Arizona lightly. After all, the Wildcats are 3-6 in WAC action and 13-12 on the season.

But Arizona is after the Sun Devils for three reasons.

1. A victory would give Arizona its first winning season in nine years.

2. A victory would give the Wildcats fifth place in the final WAC standings,, while a loss would drop them into a last place tie with Wyoming at 3-7.

3. A victory would snap an 11-game losing streak to the Sun Devils. No Arizona team has beaten A-State since Ned Wulk began coaching the Sun Devils to national prominence.

Wulk, meanwhile, will be checking two regulars to determine if they've shaken off injuries. Hobbled recently were 6-foot-5 sophomore Dennis Dairman and 6-8 junior Art Becker.

Dairman suffered a dislocated finger on his right hand two weeks ago, while Becker sprained an ankle in a 73-70 victory over Creighton last Monday.

After tonight's action, the Sun Devils meet Utah State in an NCAA playoff game next Monday at Eugene, Ore. The winner goes into the far west regionals at Provo, Utah, March 15-16.

In season-ending WAC games last week, New Mexico took fourth place with a 4-6 record by rapping Utah 84-71 and Brigham Young University 84-59.

BYU gained second with a 6-4 mark by defeating Wyoming 80-76 while the Utes finished third at 5-5 after edging the Cowboys 92-90 in overtime.

Mississippi State Bound For NCAA Tournament

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Exuberant Mississippi State, long denied by tradition from a chance at going all the way, finally made it into the NCAA post-season basketball tournament.

The Maroons won the Southeastern Conference title Saturday night just a couple of hours after school president D. W. Colvard announced a break with tradition which prohibited Mississippi State from playing teams with Negro athletes.

"It's great," coach Babe McCarthy said. "I'm happy we can go. The boys deserve it. They won the championship."

The Maroons nailed down the title with a 75-73 victory at Mississippi. It was the third straight time they had won or shared the championship.

Duke, West Virginia and Connecticut also secured NCAA berths with Saturday victories, leaving only six spots still to be filled. Those go to the conference champions in the Ivy, Big Six, West Coast, Big Ten, Big Eight and Ohio Valley, still undecided.

Duke, paced by All-America Art Heyman, came from behind and beat Wake Forest 68-57 in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament at Raleigh, N.C.

Heyman bunched 15 of his 24 points in a 10-minute span that broke the game open in the second half. It was the 18th straight victory for the Blue Devils, ranked second in the nation and 24-2 for the season.

West Virginia had to resort to a game-saving stall in the final minutes to hold off Davidson's ambitious sophomores 79-74 in the finals of the Southern Conference Tournament at Richmond, Va. Rod Thorn's 22 points led the Mountaineers.

Connecticut, West Virginia's first-round NCAA opponent, nailed down the Yankee Conference title with an 88-73 victory over visiting Rhode Island.

Cincinnati, the nation's top-ranked team, winner of the Missouri Valley Conference and shooting for its third straight NCAA title, handed St. Louis its first home court loss of the season, 66-52 with All-America Ron Bonham scoring 32 points.

Four of the other ranked teams were upset victims, however. Chicago Loyola, No. 3, fell before Wichita 73-72 in Chicago; Illinois, No. 6, lost at Michigan 84-81; NCAA-bound New York University, No. 9, was upset at Fordham 71-68 despite a 35-point performance by All-America Barry Kramer, and No. 10 Georgia Tech lost at Vanderbilt 75-74.

Wichita, ranked seventh and bound for the NIT, put on a big last half rally to beat Loyola. Dave Stallworth, who scored 28 points, hit the basket that put Wichita ahead to stay.

The Illinois loss and Ohio State's 95-75 romp at home over Purdue put the Buckeyes in sole control of the Big Ten lead with a 10-3 league record.

Buffs Need Huskers Win To Stay in Big 8 Race

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas State stayed in command of the Big Eight basketball race by beating Oklahoma State and the Wildcats can sew up at least a championship tie tonight at Ames, Iowa, where Iowa State hasn't beaten K-State since 1957.

K-State cleared a big hurdle by whipping Oklahoma State 56-54 Saturday night at Stillwater, where their 1962 title chances went down the drain. It was Oklahoma State's first home court defeat this season and eliminated the Cowboys from the race. A jump shot by Jeff Simons with six seconds left won the game after K-State overcame a 16-point reficit.

Coach Tex Winter's team, 10-2, increased its winning streak to eight games and took a full game lead over Colorado's defending champs, 9-3.

Even if they lost at Iowa State, the Wildcats could win the championship outright by defeating Colorado at Manhattan, Kan., Saturday in the final game for both teams.

Colorado is expected to make last-place Nebraska its 25th consecutive home court victim tonight at Boulder and stay in the running.

Nebraska	1	11	.083	6	17	.261	1364	1521

In event of a tie, the Big Eight will establish a playoff to determine its representative in the NCAA Midwest Regional at Lawrence, Kan., March 15-16.

"We don't want any playoffs for the title," Winter said. The K-State coach named 7-foot Roger Suttner as the key man for the Wildcats down the stretch. At Iowa State, Coach Glen Anderson indicated his club is smarting from eight straight defeats by K-State.

"We'd like to get even for a lot of losses in this series, but we'd like especially to wipe out the memory of the game a week ago," he said.

K-State won that one by 12 points, eliminating the Cyclones.

Since a two-point overtime victory at Ames in 1957, Iowa State has beaten K-State only once in 13 games—that in the Conference Tournament in December, 1959. Six of the past eight defeats were by one or two points.

In the other game Saturday night, Oklahoma wiped out an 11-point Nebraska lead in the last 6½ minutes and won 77-75 behind little Eddie Evans, who had 25 points. Oklahoma now stands 7-6 with a chance to share fourth place with Iowa State, 8-5, and Oklahoma State, 7-5.

Oklahoma State plays at Oklahoma Tuesday, Nebraska at Missouri Wednesday and Kansas at Oklahoma State Saturday in other games this week.

CU's Durley Serves Notice On Thomas

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Colorado's Leander Durley, who just missed the 7-foot mark as Big Eight indoor high jump champion Saturday night, served notice on Boston's John Thomas in future meets.

The 5-foot-11 sophomore cleared 6 feet 10¾ inches on his second jump for a meet record and the best mark ever by a Big Eight athlete in the event, indoors or outdoors.

It was one of the best leaps by an American collegian. Thomas jumped 7 feet 1½ inches on a dirt track while in college.

Durley's best previous effort was 6-10 in a squad meet. The 19-year-old Denver youth claims he cleared 7 feet⅝ of an inch in practice three weeks ago—a feat not witnessed by his coach, Frank Potts.

"I didn't really think I would hit 7 feet tonight," Durley said. "I've never jumped in such a hard pit. I'm sore all over."

Durley, a music major, said he had eliminated the kick from jumping technique. "I'm just rolling and trying to relax."

He barely missed 7 feet on his first attempt after setting the meet record. He was over but his trailing knee brushed the bar. His lead knee hit the standard on his second attempt, and he made only a half-hearted try the third time.

Giant Slalom Races at Vail

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Aspen's Linda Moore and Rob Kiesel of Ogden, Utah, sparked Sunday in the last two giant slalom qualifying races for the Junior National Championships at Jackson Hole, Wyo., March 12-16.

Miss Moore and Kiesel won Sunday's two slalom runs. She also won two runs Saturday when Jere Elliott of Steamboat Springs won the boys' races.

The trio led 10 boys and six girls chosen by the Southern Rocky Mountain Ski Association to compete at Jackson Hole.

Big League Clubs Start Competition Saturday

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Veteran Gene Woodling was fired by the New York Mets and Detroit rookie pitcher Bill Faul was knocked unconscious by a batted ball on Sunday, but the big news to major league baseball fans this week is the opening of the spring exhibition schedule.

All 20 big league clubs will go into actual competition on Saturday for the first time since the end of the 1962 pennant races last October. In the top games the world champion New York Yankees meet the Baltimore Orioles at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and the National League champion San Francisco Giants play the Cleveland Indians at Tucson, Ariz.

The Mets asked waivers on Woodling, a $35,000 player-coach, for the purpose of making him a free agent because he intervened Friday on behalf of first baseman Marv Throneberry in Throneberry's contract dispute with George Weiss, Met president.

"I got in an agitation and I got fired," Woodling said.

Faul, a 22-year-old right-hander from Pleasant Plain, Ohio, was standing in right field at the Detroit camp in Lakeland, Fla. when a line drive from the bat of Mike Christino hit him in the head. He regained consciousness before being taken to a hospital. X-rays showed no skull fracture, but trainer Jack Homel said the rookie pitcher, up from Knoxville, had suffered a concussion.

Another rookie pitcher, Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati, suffered a painful injury in the Reds' camp at Tampa. He was hit on the right side by a line drive off the bat of Harry Bright, but was able to resume practice after a rest.

Whitey Ford, southpaw pitching star for the Yankees, was sharp in an intrasquad game Sunday. He retired nine batters in a row before yielding a hit. Don Cardwell also showed well for the Pirates, pitching two perfect innings and veteran Johnny Podres retired six in a row in a Dodger game.

Rookie Charley Harrison of Houston turned in the best hitting performance. He rapped out two singles, a double and a homer and drove in four runs in the Colts' camp game at Apache Junction, Ariz.

Outfielder Lenny Green signed with the Minnesota Twins for a reported 22,000 and pitcher Jim Bouton came to terms with the Yankees for an estimated $9,500.

Detroit Makes Strong Bid For Stanley Cup Berth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings, strong starters during the early weeks of the National Hoceky League campaign only to tail-off around mid-season, have picked up momentum in their usual role as fast finishers.

Powered by league scoring leader Gordie Howe the fourth-place Wings had a productive weekend with a pair of victories on the road. Detroit shaded the Rangers 3-2 in New York Sunday night after pulverizing the Canadiens 7-1 in Montreal the night before.

In Sunday night's other action, the Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the Boston Bruins 6-3 while the first place Chicago Black Hawks played a 2-2 tie with Montreal.

Detroit, in eliminating the Rangers from the four-team post-season Stanley Cup playoffs Sunday, enhanced its own status in the standings considerably. The Wings now trail the third-place Canadiens by only two points and remain six points out of second.

Lane's Showing May Hamper Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Lane's dull showing against unranked Vicente Derado of Argentina may have enhanced his chances of getting a title shot at lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz.

The 31-year-old top-ranking contender looked like a soft touch for Ortiz Saturday night when he rallied to a close but unanimous decision in 10 rounds over the strong and willing South American at Madison Square Garden.

The three officials had Lane the winner by the following scores: referee Johnny LoBianco, 6-3-1; judge Tony Castellano, 5-4-1, and judge Johnny Dran, 6-4. The AP card had Lane in front, 6-4.

It was the fifth straight victory for Lane who has a 73-12-2 record. Derado had a winning streak snapped at six. His record is 36-11-8. Lane, a 2-1 favorite, weighed 138½ pounds to Derado's 134½.

Three Teams Join Area Baseball League

Three American Legion teams from Aurora, Pueblo, and Grand Junction have joined the recently formed Area League, composed of teams from Colorado Springs, Arvada, Lakewood, and Jefferson County.

Four teams from the Denver League have indicated an interest in joining the new league.

All teams will play on a home-away-from-home basis with the exception of Colorado Springs, which will play their home games in Pueblo until their new field is completed.

The Area League, which hopes for a 10 - team league, will schedule approximately 25 games for each team with single games during week and double headers on the weekends.

The American Legion is open to boys 17 and 18 years old.

Bob Cousy, Celtic Court General, Plays Last Game Against Knicks

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Cousy, a product of the backboards of New York, played his last basketball bame in Madison Square Garden Sunday afternoon on a court pitched over the icy hockey rink. It took him a while to thaw out.

When he did, he pitched in two one-handers in a row and then passed off for two more baskets in an eight-point third quarter splurge that iced the game for the Boston Celtics.

They wound up 102-95 winners over the New York Knicks.

A crowd of 14,195—astounding for the last-place Knicks—turned out to watch Cousy's farewell performance. Because the New York Rangers had a Sunday night game, the hockey ice already was frozen and the basketball court was spread over it.

Unfortunately, it was one of those dreary late - season NBA games. The Celtics had clinched first, the Knicks last, in the Eastern Division.

"It was a sloppy game," Cousy said. "It's that time of year, everybody's dragging. Maybe, if the game had meant something...

"But playing my last game here, it's the court, you know, more than the town, so much. I played here as a junior in high school the first time. It was always every kid's dream to play in the Garden.

"I hate to sound uninteresting, but I didn't have too many feelings on the court. In a game those things disappear. I may have been a little excited before the game."

Was he happy with his farewell Garden performance?

"Not really," Cousy said. "It wasn't bad, but the whole game was kind of sloppy."

CU Skiers Win NCAA Regional

CRESTED BUTTE, Colo. (AP)—Colorado edged defending champion Denver University in the regional qualifying tournament Sunday for the NCAA ski championships at Solitude, Utah March 21-23.

The Buffaloes finished the 4-way meet with 387.4 points to runnerup Denver's 381.2. Western State also won a place in the NCAA meet by finishing third with 366.1. Other team scores were Wyoming 356.8, Utah 307.7, Air Force 307.3 and Colorado College 330.5.

A swirling snowstorm interfered with downhill competition Sunday and as a result co-favorites Dave Gorsuch of Western State, who won the slalom Saturday, and Bud Werner of Colorado failed to finish in the first 10. Chris Rounds of Denver copped the downhill race.

Earl Chandler of Colorado won the jumping with 222.2 points to 219.7 by Erik Janzen of Denver, who placed second.

Candy Spots Wins Derby In Near-Tragic Rough Race

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Candy Spots remains unbeaten in five races, is still California's triple-crown hope—and he can handle himself in rough-and-tumble racing.

Those facts emerged from the near-tragic Santa Anita Derby Saturday, which Candy Spots won.

"I was lucky," said Bill Shoemaker, Candy Spots' rider. "You might say I won twice."

He meant that he won the race—and he also won when he managed to steer Candy Spots through a violent trouble zone when four horses went down at the club house turn.

Candy Spots was hit so hard his rump swung sideways.

It was a lucky bump, Shoemaker said. Otherwise, Candy Spots might have stumbled and fallen over the already down Win-Em-All.

Four riders and horses crashed to the track—Ismael Valenzuela on Win-Em-All, Rudy Campas on Denodado, Eddie Burns on Royal Tower and Pete Moreno on Doolin Point.

The riders were stunned and battered. There were long moments of tension as the jockeys lay scattered on the track. None suffered serious injury, however.

But the colt Denodado, winner of the recent San Felipe Handicap for the Flying M Ranch, fractured his left hind leg. He was destroyed on the spot.

The break from the gate had been good. The 13 colts thundered past the grandstand. And then came the sudden pile-up at the turn.

The survivors raced on. Track announcer Joe Hernandez continued his call as the horses went into the back stretch.

The crowd of 57,000 watched almost in silence.

Track attendants and horse ambulances rushed to the scene. It was many minutes before the track could be cleared, the uninjured horses led away and the jockeys hurried to a nearby hospital.

Track officials said the pile-up started when Sky Gem, who was to go on to finish second, lugged out and his stable mate, Win-Em-All, tripped over his heels.

The winning time was 1 minute, 50 1-5 seconds for 1⅛ miles, which wasn't bad, considering the trouble.

Candy Spots will now point for the Kentucky Derby.

Hatem Leads ABC Tourney

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—All of the leaders in American Bowling Congress Tournament events at the start of the weekend were still on top today.

Jack Logan of Kalamazoo, Mich., needed a strike on the first ball of his final frame in the regular singles Saturday to take the lead, but left four pins and finished with a three-game total of 705 to tie Jack Bullis of Bay City, Mich., for second place. Ron Hatem held on to the lead with his 707.

Charles Bligh of Detroit moved into second place in the classic all-events Saturday with a nine-game total of 1923, two pins behind the leader, Joe Joseph of Detroit, who bowled last Monday and Tuesday.

Best 72-hole score on the PGA tour of 1962 was registered by Phil Rodgers with a 363 in the Tucson Open. He shot 64-68-65-66

Bob Rosburg Leads Golfers In Tourney

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pudgy Bob Rosburg, who has had to settle for second place five times since winning his last golf tourney, carries a one-stroke lead into today's final round of the $40,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

During the victory drouth, Rosburg lost three sudden death playoffs — the last to handsome Tony Lema, who is pressing Rosburg for the $6,400 first-prize check here.

Rosburg, the ex-PGA champion from Portland, Ore., shot a 32-35—67 in Sunday's third round to equal the course record he set Friday on the water-dotted Lakewood Country Club course.

Registering an 8-under par 208 for 54 holes, Rosburg, 36, regained the lead he lost Saturday to gray-haired Bo Wininger, whose 72 dropped him to third place.

Lema, 29, who won three tournaments last fall, moved into second place with a 72-69-68—209. Wininger stood at 210.

Rosburg finished second in the New Orleans Open last year, with a happy-go-lucky Wininger picking up the championship.

"Anybody who is eight shots behind can win this tourney," was the prediction from Gary Player going into the final round. "You can make up — or lose — four strokes on one hole," said Player, whose 212 tied him with Doug Sanders for fourth place — four strokes behind Rosburg.

Arnold Palmer carded his first par round with a 72 to give him a 219—11 strokes off the pace.

Young Jack Nicklaus also had his best showing. He carded a 69 for a 216.

'Big Dipper' Shines Again For Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Dipper is shining again and the San Francisco Warriors are back in the thick of contention for a berth in the National Basketball Association Playoffs.

Wilt Chamberlain, San Francisco's 7-foot-1 star who prefers The Big Dipper nickname instead of Wilt The Stilt, scored only 13 points a week ago Sunday against St. Louis. It was a low mark for the league's scoring champ who finished last season with an average of 50.4 points per game.

Since then Wilt has reeled off scoring performances of 34, 54, 49 and 45 points and the Warriors have won four straight to climb into a virtual tie with the Detroit Pistons for third place and the last playoff spot in the Western Division. The Pistons still lead by .002, but now are one game behind in the important loss column.

No. 4 in a row for the Warriors came Sunday as they roared from behind to nip the Cincinnati Royals, 123-122.

In Sunday's other NBA games the Syracuse Nationals edged Detroit 127-123, the St. Louis Hawks defeated the Chicago Zephyrs 104-97 and the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 102-95.

Saturday night Boston clinched its seventh straight Eastern Division title by beating New York 122-117, Syracuse walloped Detroit 152-128 and San Francisco handed the Los Angeles Lakers their fourth straight defeat 122-113.

Sifford Cops First Golf Tournament in Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—It was a long time coming, but cigar-smoking, 39-year-old Charlie Sifford finally has that first big tourney victory.

"I honestly feel this is the turning point of my career," the Negro golf pro from Los Angeles said after taking a six-stroke victory in the Puerto Rico Open Sunday.

It was the first time he has ever won a PGA-sanctioned, 72-hole tourney, though he has been high among the money winners many times. His only previous victory in a PGA event was in the 54-hole Long Beach Open in 1957.

Sifford, leading by only one stroke going into the final round, shot a 3-under-par 68 and finished with a 277, good for $1,200. George Knudson of Toronto, tied with Manuel de la Torre of Milwaukee going into the last round, slipped to a 73 and second place at 283.

De la Torre blew to a 75 and third at 285.

Big League Clubs Start Competition Saturday

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Veteran Gene Woodling was fired by the New York Mets and Detroit rookie pitcher Bill Faul was knocked unconscious by a batted ball on Sunday, but the big news to major league baseball fans this week is the opening of the spring exhibition schedule.

All 20 big league clubs will go into actual competition on Saturday for the first time since the end of the 1962 pennant races last October. In the top games the world champion New York Yankees meet the Baltimore Orioles at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and the National League champion San Francisco Giants play the Cleveland Indians at Tucson, Ariz.

The Mets asked waivers on Woodling, a $35,000 player-coach, for the purpose of making him a free agent because he intervened Friday on behalf of first baseman Marv Throneberry in Throneberry's contract dispute with George Weiss, Met president.

"I got in an agitation and I got fired," Woodling said.

Faul, a 22-year-old right-hander from Pleasant Plain, Ohio, was standing in right field at the Detroit camp in Lakeland, Fla. when a line drive from the bat of Mike Christino hit him in the head. He regained consciousness before being taken to a hospital. X-rays showed no skull fracture, but trainer Jack Homel said the rookie pitcher, up from Knoxville, had suffered a concussion.

Another rookie pitcher, Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati, suffered a painful injury in the Reds' camp at Tampa. He was hit on the right side by a line drive off the bat of Harry Bright, but was able to resume practice after a rest.

Whitey Ford, southpaw pitching star for the Yankees, was sharp in an intrasquad game Sunday. He retired nine batters in a row before yielding a hit. Don Cardwell also showed well for the Pirates, pitching two perfect innings and veteran Johnny Podres retired six in a row in a Dodger game.

Rookie Charley Harrison of Houston turned in the best hitting performance. He rapped out two singles, a double and a homer and drove in four runs in the Colts' camp game at Apache Junction, Ariz.

Outfielder Lenny Green signed with the Minnesota Twins for a reported 22,000 and pitcher Jim Bouton came to terms with the Yankees for an estimated $9,500.

Detroit Makes Strong Bid For Stanley Cup Berth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings, strong starters during the early weeks of the National Hoceky League campaign only to tail-off around mid-season, have picked up momentum in their usual role as fast finishers.

Powered by league scoring leader Gordie Howe the fourth-place Wings had a productive weekend with a pair of victories on the road. Detroit shaded the Rangers 3-2 in New York Sunday night after pulverizing the Canadiens 7-1 in Montreal the night before.

In Sunday night's other action, the Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the Boston Bruins 6-3 while the first place Chicago Black Hawks played a 2-2 tie with Montreal.

Detroit, in eliminating the Rangers from the four-team post-season Stanley Cup playoffs Sunday, enhanced its own status in the standings considerably. The Wings now trail the third-place Canadiens by only two points and remain six points out of second.

Lane's Showing May Hamper Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenny Lane's dull showing against unranked Vicente Derado of Argentina may have enhanced his chances of getting a title shot at lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz.

The 31-year-old top-ranking contender looked like a soft touch for Ortiz Saturday night when he rallied to a close but unanimous decision in 10 rounds over the strong and willing South American at Madison Square Garden.

The three officials had Lane the winner by the following scores: referee Johnny LoBianco, 6-3-1; judge Tony Castellano, 5-4-1, and judge Johnny Dran, 6-4. The AP card had Lane in front, 6-4.

It was the fifth straight victory for Lane who has a 73-12-2 record. Derado had a winning streak snapped at six. His record is 36-11-8. Lane, a 2-1 favorite, weighed 138½ pounds to Derado's 134½.

Three Teams Join Area Baseball League

Three American Legion teams from Aurora, Pueblo, and Grand Junction have joined the recently formed Area League, composed of teams from Colorado Springs, Arvada, Lakewood, and Jefferson County.

Four teams from the Denver League have indicated an interest in joining the new league.

All teams will play on a home-away-from-home basis with the exception of Colorado Springs, which will play their home games in Pueblo until their new field is completed.

The Area League, which hopes for a 10 - team league, will schedule approximately 25 games for each team with single games during week and double headers on the weekends.

The American Legion is open to boys 17 and 18 years old.

Bob Cousy, Celtic Court General, Plays Last Game Against Knicks

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Cousy, a product of the backboards of New York, played his last basketball bame in Madison Square Garden Sunday afternoon on a court pitched over the icy hockey rink. It took him a while to thaw out.

When he did, he pitched in two one-handers in a row and then passed off for two more baskets in an eight-point third quarter splurge that iced the game for the Boston Celtics.

They wound up 102-95 winners over the New York Knicks.

A crowd of 14,195—astounding for the last-place Knicks—turned out to watch Cousy's farewell performance. Because the New York Rangers had a Sunday night game, the hockey ice already was frozen and the basketball court was spread over it.

Unfortunately, it was one of those dreary late - season NBA games. The Celtics had clinched first, the Knicks last, in the Eastern Division.

"It was a sloppy game," Cousy said. "It's that time of year, everybody's dragging. Maybe, if the game had meant something...

"But playing my last game here, it's the court, you know, more than the town, so much. I played here as a junior in high school the first time. It was always every kid's dream to play in the Garden.

"I hate to sound uninteresting, but I didn't have too many feelings on the court. In a game those things disappear. I may have been a little excited before the game."

Was he happy with his farewell Garden performance?

"Not really," Cousy said. "It wasn't bad, but the whole game was kind of sloppy."

CU Skiers Win NCAA Regional

CRESTED BUTTE, Colo. (AP)—Colorado edged defending champion Denver University in the regional qualifying tournament Sunday for the NCAA ski championships at Solitude, Utah March 21-23.

The Buffaloes finished the 4-way meet with 387.4 points to runnerup Denver's 381.2. Western State also won a place in the NCAA meet by finishing third with 366.1. Other team scores were Wyoming 356.8, Utah 307.7, Air Force 307.3 and Colorado College 330.5.

A swirling snowstorm interfered with downhill competition Sunday and as a result co-favorites Dave Gorsuch of Western State, who won the slalom Saturday, and Bud Werner of Colorado failed to finish in the first 10. Chris Rounds of Denver copped the downhill race.

Earl Chandler of Colorado won the jumping with 222.2 points to 219.7 by Erik Janzen of Denver, who placed second.

Downhill—1. Chris Rounds, Denver University, 2:19.5. 2. Roche Bush, Colorado University, 2:20.0. 3-4 tie, John Koltzow, Denver, and Glenn Aitken, Colorado, 2:21.0. 5. Australians Win Tennis Tournament

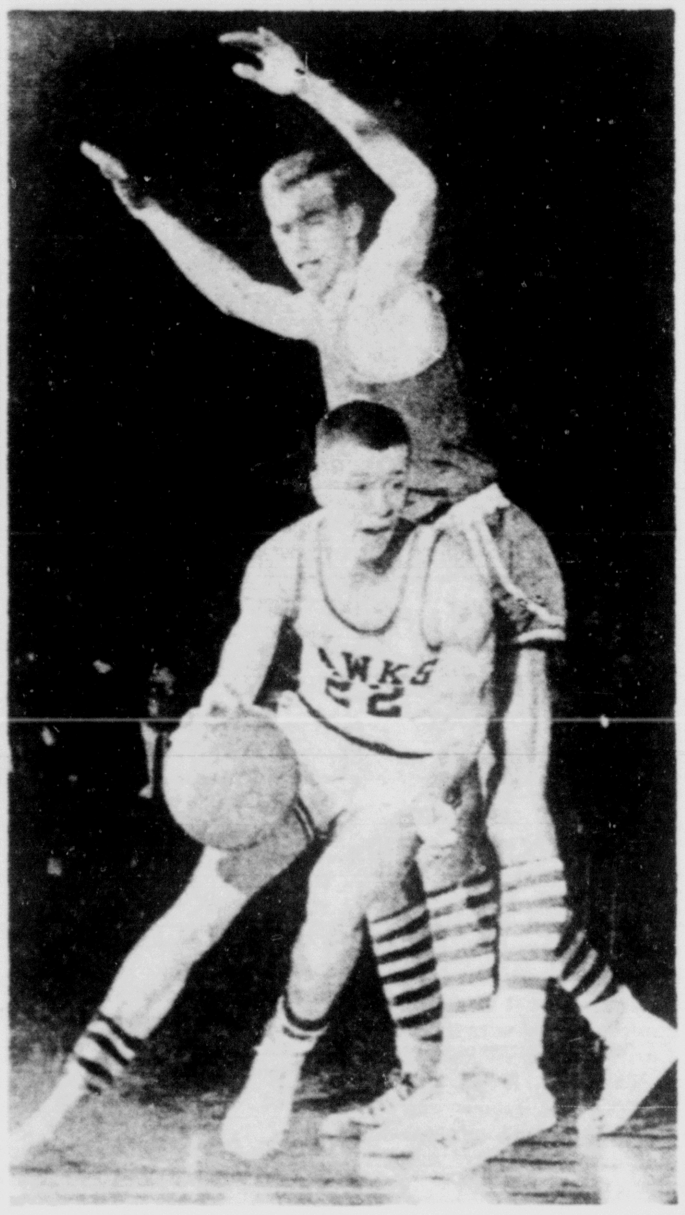
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Australians swept both the men's and women's championships of the Good Neighbor tennis tournament, third event on the winter circuit.



CENTIPEDE DEFENSE? — Closely guarded by apparently four-legged Pete Brewer, Marquette High School, Milwaukee, "Kip" Whitlinger (22) of Xavier High School, Appleton, Wis., decides it's time to flee. The camera angle gave Brewer the extra legs, but Xavier won the state Catholic high school basketball championship anyway. They defeated Marquette, 71-66, in the finals at Milwaukee. (AP Wirephoto)

Candy Spots Wins Derby In Near-Tragic Rough Race

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Candy Spots remains unbeaten in five races, is still California's triple-crown hope—and he can handle himself in rough-and-tumble racing.

Those facts emerged from the near-tragic Santa Anita Derby Saturday, which Candy Spots won.

"I was lucky," said Bill Shoemaker, Candy Spots' rider. "You might say I won twice."

He meant that he won the race—and he also won when he managed to steer Candy Spots through a violent trouble zone when four horses went down at the club house turn.

Candy Spots was hit so hard his rump swung sideways.

It was a lucky bump, Shoemaker said. Otherwise, Candy Spots might have stumbled and fallen over the already down Win-Em-All.

Four riders and horses crashed to the track—Ismael Valenzuela on Win-Em-All, Rudy Campas on Denodado, Eddie Burns on Royal Tower and Pete Moreno on Doolin Point.

The riders were stunned and battered. There were long moments of tension as the jockeys lay scattered on the track. None suffered serious injury, however.

But the colt Denodado, winner of the recent San Felipe Handicap for the Flying M Ranch, fractured his left hind leg. He was destroyed on the spot.

The break from the gate had been good. The 13 colts thundered past the grandstand. And then came the sudden pile-up at the turn.

The survivors raced on. Track announcer Joe Hernandez continued his call as the horses went into the back stretch.

The crowd of 57,000 watched almost in silence.

Track attendants and horse ambulances rushed to the scene. It was many minutes before the track could be cleared, the uninjured horses led away and the jockeys hurried to a nearby hospital.

Track officials said the pile-up started when Sky Gem, who was to go on to finish second, lugged out and his stable mate, Win-Em-All, tripped over his heels.

The winning time was 1 minute, 50 1-5 seconds for 1⅛ miles, which wasn't bad, considering the trouble.

Candy Spots will now point for the Kentucky Derby.

Hatem Leads ABC Tourney

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—All of the leaders in American Bowling Congress Tournament events at the start of the weekend were still on top today.

Jack Logan of Kalamazoo, Mich., needed a strike on the first ball of his final frame in the regular singles Saturday to take the lead, but left four pins and finished with a three-game total of 705 to tie Jack Bullis of Bay City, Mich., for second place. Ron Hatem held on to the lead with his 707.

Charles Bligh of Detroit moved into second place in the classic all-events Saturday with a nine-game total of 1923, two pins behind the leader, Joe Joseph of Detroit, who bowled last Monday and Tuesday.

Best 72-hole score on the PGA tour of 1962 was registered by Phil Rodgers with a 263 in the Tucson Open. He shot 64-68-65-66.

Bob Rosburg Leads Golfers In Tourney

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pudgy Bob Rosburg, who has had to settle for second place five times since winning his last golf tourney, carries a one-stroke lead into today's final round of the $40,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

During the victory drouth, Rosburg lost three sudden death playoffs — the last to handsome Tony Lema, who is pressing Rosburg for the $6,400 first-prize check here.

Rosburg, the ex-PGA champion from Portland, Ore., shot a 32-35—67 in Sunday's third round to equal the course record he set Friday on the water-dotted Lakewood Country Club course.

Registering an 8-under par 208 for 54 holes, Rosburg, 36, regained the lead he lost Saturday to gray-haired Bo Wininger, whose 72 dropped him to third place.

Lema, 29, who won three tournaments last fall, moved into second place with a 72-69-68—209. Wininger stood at 210.

Rosburg finished second in the New Orleans Open last year, with a happy-go-lucky Wininger picking up the championship.

"Anybody who is eight shots behind can win this tourney," was the prediction from Gary Player going into the final round. "You can make up — or lose — four strokes on one hole," said Player, whose 212 tied him with Doug Sanders for fourth place — four strokes behind Rosburg.

Arnold Palmer carded his first par round with a 72 to give him a 219—11 strokes off the pace.

Young Jack Nicklaus also had his best showing. He carded a 69 for a 216.

'Big Dipper' Shines Again For Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Dipper is shining again and the San Francisco Warriors are back in the thick of contention for a berth in the National Basketball Association Playoffs.

Wilt Chamberlain, San Francisco's 7-foot-1 star who prefers The Big Dipper nickname instead of Wilt The Stilt, scored only 13 points a week ago Sunday against St. Louis. It was a low mark for the league's scoring champ who finished last season with an average of 50.4 points per game.

Since then Wilt has reeled off scoring performances of 34, 54, 49 and 45 points and the Warriors have won four straight to climb into a virtual tie with the Detroit Pistons for third place and the last playoff spot in the Western Division. The Pistons still lead by .002, but now are one game behind in the important loss column.

No. 4 in a row for the Warriors came Sunday as they roared from behind to nip the Cincinnati Royals, 123-122.

In Sunday's other NBA games the Syracuse Nationals edged Detroit 127-123, the St. Louis Hawks defeated the Chicago Zephyrs 104-97 and the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 102-95.

Saturday night Boston clinched its seventh straight Eastern Division title by beating New York 122-117, Syracuse walloped Detroit 152-128 and San Francisco handed the Los Angeles Lakers their fourth straight defeat 122-113.

Sifford Cops First Golf Tournament in Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—It was a long time coming, but cigar-smoking, 39-year-old Charlie Sifford finally has that first big tourney victory.

"I honestly feel this is the turning point of my career," the Negro golf pro from Los Angeles said after taking a six-stroke victory in the Puerto Rico Open Sunday.

It was the first time he has ever won a PGA-sanctioned, 72-hole tourney, though he has been high among the money winners many times. His only previous victory in a PGA event was in the 54-hole Long Beach Open in 1957.

Sifford, leading by only one stroke going into the final round, shot a 3-under-par 68 and finished with a 277, good for $1,200. George Knudson of Toronto, tied with Manuel de la Torre of Milwaukee going into the last round, slipped to a 73 and second place at 280.

De la Torre blew to a 75 and third at 285.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I inherited a number of odd-sized sheets. Since my mattresses were two different sizes . . . I made my own contour sheets.

I placed the sheet evenly on the mattress and tucked it in on all sides, then carefully pinned "each corner" together. After sewing a row of stitches on each corner (diagonally), I tried it on the bed again. If it seemed to fit, I removed the pins, and sewed it a second time . . . making a flat fell or french seam.

I then sewed a piece of colored bias tape (to match the room) in one corner of each sheet so that I could easily identify the right sheet for the right mattress.

After the first sheet for each bed is completed, "save" the corner that you "cut out" and use it for a pattern. Then it will not be necessary to measure every sheet. —C. N.

Dear Ladies:

Thanks for all of your ideas on making contour sheets. I put all methods together and made contour sheets this week!

Some I ruined . . .

Patterns are wonderflu but they do not fit "all" sizes of mattresses . . . or so I found out! The above directions were excellent as far as I'm concerned and here's how I did it:

As my mattresses varied in size I found it far better to do just what "C. N." suggested. I placed the sheet (after being washed because some sheets shrink), on top of my mattress, and holding each corner out at a 45 degree angle took some straight pins and pinned the corners to the exact size of the mattress.

I followed her instructions and tried the sheets back on the bed before finishing the underneath corner. When I was sure it fitted, I finished the sheet by inserting elastic on "opposite" corners (two insertions of elastic instead of the regular four), thus saving on elastic).

Here is another hint I discovered: it's an easier way to make up the bed for those who have twin-sized mattresses pushed together to form a king-sized bed:

If you have never found a contour sheet to fit an "over-sized" "king" mattress, instead of making twin-sized sheets to cover each mattress, make the contour sheet to fit the "entire" expanse of the bed. This will not only eliminate the problem of sheets on each mattress but I found that it was far "easier" instead of putting the sheet on all four corners of each mattress (which makes eight times) to apply it to only four corners. This cuts your work in exactly half. Think that over!

Also . . . instead of washing two bottom sheets each week we are only washing one! For those who send their linens to commercial laundrys you may be charged a wee bit more for a king-sized sheet but it is cheaper than paying for two separate sheets.

Where can you get your material? Buy a big sheet (or sheeting) and turn it "sideways" (this means the exact wrong way across the bed) and continue from there to make your own custom-made sheets.

If you will look in your closet and find your favorite contour sheet, you may easily rip (this means to remove the thread) from one corner of this "pet" sheet, and press it flat on your ironing board. Then . . . you will have a "perfect" pattern for your individual contour sheets. Later, the sheet may be resewn. Lay a newspaper underneath this sheet and take a crayon and draw around the pattern, then take your scissors and cut it out. And use it on those new sheets you are cutting.

For those of you who are copying sheets with insertions . . . the part cut from the corner of the sheet will suffice for your insertion.

Some sheets have reinforced gussets. If your sheet was hard to fit on the bed, instead of using a reinforced cloth gusset, try putting some elastic in these corners! It gives just enough to keep from breaking your fingernails, lifting that heavy mattress, putting your knee under it, and "splitting your insides" out trying to pull if over the fourth corner! —Love, Heloise

Republicans Say Strength Gained In South, West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans measuring 1964 chances find their strength gaining in the South and West and their weakness showing in the big cities where they say they lost the presidency in 1960.

That was the gist of a statistical report released over the weekend by Republican National Chairman William E. Miller. He said it provided "satisfaction with the results of last fall's election and optimism as Republicans prepare for the campaign of 1964."

Any such optimism was tempered, however, with the report's admissions (1) that the big cities are still solidly Democratic, (2) that New England, once a Republican stronghold, "needs extra effort," (3) that older voters aren't responding to GOP appeals and (4) that party candidates made no significant 1962 gains in depressed areas.

Three of the big cities—Detroit, Chicago and Philadelphia—bid today at a meeting of the National Committee's site subcommittee for the 1964 presidential nominating convention.

Govs. George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania who have been mentioned as possible candidates for the nomination, planned to head their delegations. Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley led the Chicago group.

The subcommittee will hear proposals Tuesday from Dallas, San Francisco and Miami Beach.

The national committee's analysis of 1962 election results noted Republican gains among the farmers, increases in the GOP vote in the suburbs and the addition of 1.5 million party votes in the South.

On this point, the report said: "If an increase in the Republican percentage of the vote for the House of Representatives is the indicator of dissatisfaction with the present administration, the South ranks as the area with the most substantial rejection of the New Frontier, followed by the states west of the Mississippi with a relatively high percentage of farm population."

This seemed to bear out the general thesis of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that the Republicans could win the presidency by linking the south with the Midwest and West.

The report gave some comparative figures that could have a bearing on the chances of other potential bidders for the nomination—Scranton, Romney and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The report noted a chronic Republican weakness in the big cities, where it said the vote was crucial in the defeat of Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 presidential election.

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

By CHARLES H. GOREN

Q. 1—As South you hold:
Spades, K-6; Hearts, 8-5-4; Diamonds, 10-3-2; Clubs, K-7-6-5-2.

Your partner opens with four no trump.

What do you bid?

A.—Six no trump. The opening bidder has described a balanced holding of 28-29 high card points. Your six points assure a combined total of at least 34, adequate for the slam undertaking.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
Spades, A-J-9-3; Hearts, A-K-9-8-5-4; Clubs, Q-10-4.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Hrt.	2 Clbs.	Dbl.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A. — Three clubs. We recommend not standing for the double because the penalty may prove inadequate. Although partner probably does not fit your hearts, you have strong support for the other suits. In order to suggest the great offensive strength of your hand, a cue bid of the opponent's suit is in order. This call will assure partner that you are not running from the double because of weakness.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
Spades, 2; Hearts, 6-3; Diamonds, K-Q-J-6-5-4-2; Clubs, 9-6-3.

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 N.T.
Pass	?

What is your response?

A.—Three no trump. Despite the unbalanced distribution, this is your soundest chance for game. If partner, by some chance, does not hold the ace of diamonds he should have three small ones because an opening no trump bid must not be made if the hand contains a worthless doubleton.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
Spades, Q-10-7-6-5-2; Hearts, A-K-9-8-3; Clubs, 10-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Clb.	1 Hrt.	1 Spd.	4 hrts.
Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. The fact that your partner was unable to act on the second round is not significant. It is highly likely that some of the values for partner's opening bid are in spades. If, by chance, you are doubled you can then bid five diamonds.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
Spades, K-10-9-2; Hearts, A-K-Q-2; Diamonds, A-J-10-9-3.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Dia.	2 Clbs.	2 dia.	5 Clbs.

What do you bid now?

A.—Six diamonds. Bidding by the opponents has made it difficult to act with precision in this case. However, it is reasonable to assume that partner's free raise must be based on diamond support and something of value in the spade suit. At the most, the slam contract might depend on a finesse.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
Spades, K-9; Hearts, A-Q-J-8; Diamonds, A-Q-J-7-5; Clubs, A-8.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Dia.	Pass	2 Clbs.	Pass
2 Hrts.	Pass	2 Spds.	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	5 Spds.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A. — Partner has described a holding of six clubs and five spades. From his leap to five it is quite apparent that he has at least the ace, queen, and jack of spades, and his clubs should be solid with you holding the ace. It is easy to count 13 tricks and you should accordingly contract for a grand slam at no trump.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
Spades, 9-5-2; Hearts, Q; Diamonds, 9-8-5-4-2; Clubs, A-10-6-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Hrt.	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass
3 Hrts.	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. This is a speculative bid and if your queen were in any other suit we would recommend a pass. The queen of hearts should be regarded as a sure trick, therefore your hand will produce two tricks for partner. Remember, you have shown weakness with your one no trump response and partner has jumped in face of it.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
Spades, 10-2; Hearts, 8-6-3; Diamonds, -J-5; Clubs, A-K-Q-J-4.

The bidding has been opened by your right hand opponent with one spade.

What do you bid?

A.—While it is true that your hand is worth 16 points, a takeout double is not recommended because the hand lacks flexibility. The fact that you make a vulnerable overcall at the two level will describe a strong hand, and unless partner can take voluntary action no game will be missed. Therefore bid two clubs.

PASSPORTS

More than 863,087 U.S. passports were issued or renewed in 1960, with residents of California, Illinois, New Jersey and New York obtaining 439,210 of these, or 51 per cent of the total.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Try the Printed Word!

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a "reader." Abby, this man reads constantly. He always has a book, magazine or newspaper in his hands. He even takes his reading to the table. When he shaves, he uses an electric razor so he can read while he shaves. He not only does this at home but, when we go out to visit relatives or friends, he picks up anything to read that is within reach, and is lost in it for the rest of the evening.

This is terribly embarrassing. I know there are worse faults. But what can I do about this reading habit? We've been married six years, and he is getting worse.—READER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Madame, your husand is "escaping" into the printed page. At home, perhaps he is bored. Why don't you read whatever it is that your husband has found so absorbing, and discuss it with him? When he is away from home, he probably "loses" himself in a magazine to avoid making conversation. This is rude. If you can't get him to listen to you while you tell him how much his constant reading irritates you—write him a letter. He'll read it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and nothing I do is right. My mother criticizes everything I do. I would do anything to get away from this house and "her." There is a sailor I know who is leaving for San Diego soon. He says if I marry him he will take me away from my unhappy home life. I hate to quit school, but anything is better than living here. Please help me decide. —FED UP

DEAR FED UP: "Stay home!" Of all the reasons to marry, getting away from home is the poorest. The divorce courts are full of girls who learned too late that mother was right, and her criticisms were far easier to bear than the life offered by a spur of the moment Romeo.

DEAR ABBY: I am 43 but no one takes me for a day older than 30. I am going with a man of 25. He knows I am "older" than he is, but he doesn't know how much. We frequently kid each other about our ages. I know I have him fooled. Should I tell him the truth? He is getting serious. —I. M. SERIOUS

DEAR I. M.: You can "kid" each other all you like, but you can't kid Father Time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E. L.": It seems strange that a guy will propose to a girl under a light he wouldn't think of choosing a suit by.

Menotti Opera Described as Possibly Joke

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Gian Carlo Menotti has got to be kidding. He has taken a typical too much before bedtime nightmare, added a musical score and lyrics and called it an "operatic riddle." The result, "Labyrinth," had its first performance Sunday afternoon on NBC.

The short opera, NBC proclaimed widely in advance, was "surrealistic," and it did indeed capture that dream quality of Salvador Dali's paintings. It also had something of Dali's roguishness, so maybe it was all a joke.

Menotti appeared to prepare us for the "pure fantasy." He explained the symbolism: the old man was the past, the astronaut was the future, the hotel was life, the desk clerk was death and so on.

It was not enough. The show opened on a long, long hotel corridor with a bride and groom, in full regalia, as the grom hunted frantically for the key to their room.

The whole hour was devoted to that hunt. Time and space were scrambled and telescoped. The bridegroom encountered a femme fatale who kept dropping senseless code notes. He went to play chess with an old man, and was shoved onto the lap of an old lady, who promptly turned to dust. He floated through space drinking tea with an astronaut. He rode in an old-fashioned train which the passengers periodically turned into a swimming pool. It was a real nightmare, without sequence or sense.

He did find the key at the end, although I suspect he was dead because the desk clerk had him nailed in a casket.

As our poor lost hero was sliding down a women's mouth, clutching at billiard balls and soaring with the aid of inflated children's balloons, there was, of course, singing.

It was well produced, the singing was good, the music was often pleasing. But personally, if I must go through a nightmare, I'd rather have the fun of eating the cheese, too.

NBC now has decided to let Joey Bishop continue his half-hour situation comedy next season. Earlier it had announced he would move to a weekly hour-long variety show.

Jack Paar, originally scheduled to move to Thursday nights next September, will stay where he is on Fridays. Perry Como's sponsor will move to Thursday nights, where Como will do 10 or 11 shows and the rest of the time will be filled with a dramatic anthology.

All this reshuffling means there's still an empty hour on Wednesday nights—maybe for a Merv Griffin variety hour?

Republicans Say Strength Gained In South, West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans measuring 1964 chances find their strength gaining in the South and West and their weakness showing in the big cities where they say they lost the presidency in 1960.

That was the gist of a statistical report released over the weekend by Republican National Chairman William E. Miller. He said it provided "satisfaction with the results of last fall's election and optimism as Republicans prepare for the campaign of 1964."

Any such optimism was tempered, however, with the report's admissions (1) that the big cities are still solidly Democratic, (2) that New England, once a Republican stronghold, "needs extra effort," (3) that older voters aren't responding to GOP appeals and (4) that party candidates made no significant 1962 gains in depressed areas.

Three of the big cities—Detroit, Chicago and Philadelphia—bid today at a meeting of the National Committee's site subcommittee for the 1964 presidential nominating convention.

Govs. George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania who have been mentioned as possible candidates for the nomination, planned to head their delegations. Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley led the Chicago group.

The subcommittee will hear proposals Tuesday from Dallas, San Francisco and Miami Beach.

The national committee's analysis of 1962 election results noted Republican gains among the farmers, increases in the GOP vote in the suburbs and the addition of 1.5 million party votes in the South.

On this point, the report said: "If an increase in the Republican percentage of the vote for the House of Representatives is the indicator of dissatisfaction with the present administration, the South ranks as the area with the most substantial rejection of the New Frontier, followed by the states west of the Mississippi with a relatively high percentage of farm population."

This seemed to bear out the general thesis of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that the Republicans could win the presidency by linking the south with the Midwest and West.

The report gave some comparative figures that could have a bearing on the chances of other potential bidders for the nomination—Scranton, Romney and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The report noted a chronic Republican weakness in the big cities, where it said the vote was crucial in the defeat of Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 presidential election.

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

By CHARLES H. GOREN

Q. 1—As South you hold:
Spades, K-6; Hearts, 8-5-4; Diamonds, 10-3-2; Clubs, K-7-6-5-2.

Your partner opens with four no trump.

What do you bid?

A.—Six no trump. The opening bidder has described a balanced holding of 28-29 high card points. Your six points assure a combined total of at least 34, adequate for the slam undertaking.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
Spades, A-J-9-3; Hearts, A-K-9-8-5-4; Clubs, Q-10-4.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Hrt.	2 Clbs.	Dbl.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A. — Three clubs. We recommend not standing for the double because the penalty may prove inadequate. Although partner probably does not fit your hearts, you have strong support for the other suits. In order to suggest the great offensive strength of your hand, a cue bid of the opponent's suit is in order. This call will assure partner that you are not running from the double because of weakness.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
Spades, 2; Hearts, 6-3; Diamonds, K-Q-J-6-5-4-2; Clubs, 9-6-3.

The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 N.T.
Pass	?

What is your response?

A.—Three no trump. Despite the unbalanced distribution, this is your soundest chance for game. If partner, by some chance, does not hold the ace of diamonds he should have three small ones because an opening no trump bid must not be made if the hand contains a worthless doubleton.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
Spades, Q-10-7-6-5-2; Hearts, A-K-9-8-3; Clubs, 10-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Clb.	1 Hrt.	1 Spd.	4 hrts.
Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. The fact that your partner was unable to act on the second round is not significant. It is highly likely that some of the values for partner's opening bid are in spades. If, by chance, you are doubled you can then bid five diamonds.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
Spades, K-10-9-2; Hearts, A-K-Q-2; Diamonds, A-J-10-9-3.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Dia.	2 Clbs.	2 dia.	5 Clbs.

What do you bid now?

A.—Six diamonds. Bidding by the opponents has made it difficult to act with precision in this case. However, it is reasonable to assume that partner's free raise must be based on diamond support and something of value in the spade suit. At the most, the slam contract might depend on a finesse.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
Spades, K-9; Hearts, A-Q-J-8; Diamonds, A-Q-J-7-5; Clubs, A-8.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Dia.	Pass	2 Clbs.	Pass
2 Hrts.	Pass	2 Spds.	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	5 Spds.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A. — Partner has described a holding of six clubs and five spades. From his leap to five it is quite apparent that he has at least the ace, queen, and jack of spades, and his clubs should be solid with you holding the ace. It is easy to count 13 tricks and you should accordingly contract for a grand slam at no trump.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
Spades, 9-5-2; Hearts, Q; Diamonds, 9-8-5-4-2; Clubs, A-10-6-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Hrt.	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass
3 Hrts.	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. This is a speculative bid and if your queen were in any other suit we would recommend a pass. The queen of hearts should be regarded as a sure trick, therefore your hand will produce two tricks for partner. Remember, you have shown weakness with your one no trump response and partner has jumped in face of it.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
Spades, 10-2; Hearts, 8-6-3; Diamonds, -J-5; Clubs, A-K-Q-J-4.

The bidding has been opened by your right hand opponent with one spade.

What do you bid?

A.—While it is true that your hand is worth 16 points, a take-out double is not recommended because the hand lacks flexibility. The fact that you make a vulnerable overcall at the two level will describe a strong hand, and unless partner can take voluntary action no game will be missed. Therefore bid two clubs.

PASSPORTS

More than 853,087 U.S. passports were issued or renewed in 1960, with residents of California, Illinois, New Jersey and New York obtaining 439,210 of these, or 31 per cent of the total.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Try the Printed Word!

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a "reader." Abby, this man reads constantly. He always has a book, magazine or newspaper in his hands. He even takes his reading to the table. When he shaves, he uses an electric razor so he can read while he shaves. He not only does this at home but, when we go out to visit relatives or friends, he picks up anything to read that is within reach, and is lost in it for the rest of the evening.

This is terribly embarrassing. I know there are worse faults. But what can I do about this reading habit? We've been married six years, and he is getting worse.—READER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Madame, your husand is "escaping" into the printed page. At home, perhaps he is bored. Why don't you read whatever it is that your husband has found so absorbing, and discuss it with him? When he is away from home, he probably "loses" himself in a magazine to avoid making conversation. This is rude. If you can't get him to listen to you while you tell him how much his constant reading irritates you—write him a letter. He'll read it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and nothing I do is right. My mother criticizes everything I do. I would do anything to get away from this house and "her." There is a sailor I know who is leaving for San Diego soon. He says if I marry him he will take me away from my unhappy home life. I hate to quit school, but anything is better than living here. Please help me decide. —FED UP

DEAR FED UP: "Stay home!" Of all the reasons to marry, getting away from home is the poorest. The divorce courts are full of girls who learned too late that mother was right, and her criticisms were far easier to bear than the life offered by a spur of the moment Romeo.

DEAR ABBY: I am 43 but no one takes me for a day older than 30. I am going with a man of 25. He knows I am "older" than he is, but he doesn't know how much. We frequently kid each other about our ages. I know I have him fooled. Should I tell him the truth? He is getting serious. —I. M. SERIOUS

DEAR I. M.: You can "kid" each other all you like, but you can't kid Father Time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "E. L.": It seems strange that a guy will propose to a girl under a light he wouldn't think of choosing a suit by.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Hanover News

By MRS. RUTH CHISMAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Vette visited Mrs. Edna Van Dusen of Fountain Wednesday evening before prayer meeting at the Bud McGuires in Fountain.

Don't forget the chicken dinner the High School students are serving at the Hanover School from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, to raise money to go on their senior trip.

The Fred Days have been busy installing a bath and water system in their home.

Do we appreciate all the road work the county road men are doing in our community! We have had much better roads the past two years, and they have been doing an extensive work of improving in the past few weeks.

Several from the community attended the Vic Olander sale, north of Ellicott, Monday. The Olanders were selling all of their things. They plan to do some traveling.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives of Red Hamilton of Edisen, who died last Saturday at a Colorado Springs hospital. Mr. Hamilton was a son-in-law of Mrs. Young who used to live in Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chisman, Brenda and Sheryl, of Colorado Springs, and Ruth Chisman went to Texas Thursday, Feb. 21, and visited the Chase Chismans and M. T. Glasscocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chisman and Dennis and a boy friend, Mrs. Carrie Butler and Myra Woods of Colorado Springs had come out Sunday, Feb. 24, and had dinner with the Roy Chismans.

The Walt Adams family of Fowler and Jim Lance family, near Falcon, visited Sunday, Feb. 24, with Mr. and Mrs. Mick Adams.

Triple Threat Man Is Seen in Politics

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr. is the only man in Pennsylvania history ever to head all three branches of state government.

As lieutenant governor he presided over the state senate to lead the legislative branch; as governor he headed the executive department; and as chief justice he heads the judicial arm of the state.

Research of Candy Proves Hard Task

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—A course offered by Rutgers University's extension center sounds like child's play — part of the curriculum is tasting candy, soft drinks and ice cream.

But chemists and lab technicians in the "flavor materials" have a hard task set for them. They're working to discover new ways to appeal to the American taste bud.

Menotti Opera Described as Possibly Joke

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Gian Carlo Menotti has got to be kidding. He has taken a typical too much before bedtime nightmare, added a musical score and lyrics and called it an "operatic riddle." The result, "Labyrinth," had its first performance Sunday afternoon on NBC.

The short opera, NBC proclaimed widely in advance, was "surrealistic," and it did indeed capture that dream quality of Salvador Dali's paintings. It also had something of Dali's roguishness, so maybe it was all a joke.

Menotti appeared to prepare us for the "pure fantasy." He explained the symbolism: the old man was the past, the astronaut was the future, the hotel was life, the desk clerk was death and so on.

It was not enough. The show opened on a long, long hotel corridor with a bride and groom, in full regalia, as the grom hunted frantically for the key to their room.

The whole hour was devoted to that hunt. Time and space were scrambled and telescoped. The bridegroom encountered a femme fatale who kept dropping senseless code notes. He went to play chess with an old man, and was shoved onto the lap of an old lady, who promptly turned to dust. He floated through space drinking tea with an astronaut. He rode in an old-fashioned train which the passengers periodically turned into a swimming pool. It was a real nightmare, without sequence or sense.

He did find the key at the end, although I suspect he was dead because the desk clerk had him nailed in a casket.

As our poor lost hero was sliding down a women's mouth, clutching at billiard balls and soaring with the aid of inflated children's balloons, there was, of course, singing.

It was well produced, the singing was good, the music was often pleasing. But personally, if I must go through a nightmare, I'd rather have the fun of eating the cheese, too.

NBC now has decided to let Joey Bishop continue his half-hour situation comedy next season. Earlier it had announced he would move to a weekly hour-long variety show.

Jack Paar, originally scheduled to move to Thursday nights next September, will stay where he is on Fridays. Perry Como's sponsor will move to Thursday nights, where Como will do 10 or 11 shows and the rest of the time will be filled with a dramatic anthology.

All this reshuffling means there's still an empty hour on Wednesday nights—maybe for a Merv Griffin variety hour?

Bank Bill Said To Have Been Bipartisan

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—"First of all let me assert my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself—nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance."

Franklin D. Roosevelt said this to an anxious nation 30 years ago today as he was inaugurated president Saturday, March 4, 1933.

Banks were closing all across the nation. Accounts of the financial panic vied with those on the inauguration for front page attention.

On Feb. 1, 1933, withdrawals in the nation's banks exceeded deposits by $5.8 million. By Feb. 28, the figure had climbed to $207 million and it had reached $454 million the day before inauguration.

The governor of Michigan closed all banks in his state Feb. 14 to prevent their collapse. They were still closed March 4.

Roosevelt's first official act as president—at 10:30 p.m. March 5—was to declare a national bank holiday.

Monday morning Americans found themselves, for the most part, without cash to carry on their business.

In some areas forms of scrip were used instead of cash. In others a modified barter system spang up. Everywhere people improvised to get by somehow.

In Washington, Treasury officials—both those of the new administration and holdovers from the administration of former President Herbert Hoover—worked around the clock to draft legislation to save the banking system.

Raymond Moley, a member of the Roosevelt "brain trust," wrote later that they had "forgotten to be Republicans or Democrats. We were just a bunch of men trying to save the banking system."

When a new Congress convened March 9, it quickly legalized everything Roosevelt had done. The bank bill was passed and the president signed it the same day. It was the initial act in the celebrated "100 days" of the New Deal.

A few days later, banks were allowed to pay out some funds and receive deposits. Within two weeks, three-fourths of the banks were open again. Five per cent never reopened.

Some Republicans and old school bankers believe massive, secret government loans could have saved the banks. They say Roosevelt undermined confidence in the banks by his refusal to take part in Hoover's last-ditch efforts.

These critics date the start of the crisis to a 1932 order giving publicity to loans to distressed banks by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, an order demanded by Democratic House Speaker John Nance Garner, who was to become Roosevelt's vice president.

Democrats, on the other hand, contend that confidence in the banking system had dropped to such a low point that a new start was needed. Small rural banks had been failing for a number of years.

Could it happen again?

Much has been done since 1933 to strengthen inherent weaknesses in the banking system. Federal Deposit Insurance now guarantees bank accounts up to $10,000. The Federal Reserve System has broader emergency powers and banks are more closely regulated.

Commenting on the banking practices of the period, however, economist John Kenneth Galbraith, now ambassador to India, says in his book, "The Great Crash:"

"In fact, many of these practices were made ludicrous only by the depression. Loans which would have been perfectly good were made perfectly foolish by the collapse of the borrower's prices or the market for his goods or the value of the collateral he had posted. A depression such as that of 1929-32 were it to begin as this is written, would also be damaging to many currently impeccable banking reputations."

Bank Bill Said To Have Been Bipartisan

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—"First of all let me assert my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself—nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance."

Franklin D. Roosevelt said this to an anxious nation 30 years ago today as he was inaugurated president Saturday, March 4, 1933.

Banks were closing all across the nation. Accounts of the financial panic vied with those on the inauguration for front page attention.

On Feb. 1, 1933, withdrawals in the nation's banks exceeded deposits by $5.8 million. By Feb. 28, the figure had climbed to $207 million and it had reached $454 million the day before inauguration.

The governor of Michigan closed all banks in his state Feb. 14 to prevent their collapse. They were still closed March 4.

Roosevelt's first official act as president—at 10:30 p.m. March 5—was to declare a national bank holiday.

Monday morning Americans found themselves, for the most part, without cash to carry on their business.

In some areas forms of scrip were used instead of cash. In others a modified barter system spang up. Everywhere people improvised to get by somehow.

In Washington, Treasury officials—both those of the new administration and holdovers from the administration of former President Herbert Hoover—worked around the clock to draft legislation to save the banking system.

Raymond Moley, a member of the Roosevelt "brain trust," wrote later that they had "forgotten to be Republicans or Democrats. We were just a bunch of men trying to save the banking system."

When a new Congress convened March 9, it quickly legalized everything Roosevelt had done. The bank bill was passed and the president signed it the same day. It was the initial act in the celebrated "100 days" of the New Deal.

A few days later, banks were allowed to pay out some funds and receive deposits. Within two weeks, three-fourths of the banks were open again. Five per cent never reopened.

Some Republicans and old school bankers believe massive, secret government loans could have saved the banks. They say Roosevelt undermined confidence in the banks by his refusal to take part in Hoover's last-ditch efforts.

These critics date the start of the crisis to a 1932 order giving publicity to loans to distressed banks by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, an order demanded by Democratic House Speaker John Nance Garner, who was to become Roosevelt's vice president.

Democrats, on the other hand, contend that confidence in the banking system had dropped to such a low point that a new start was needed. Small rural banks had been failing for a number of years.

Could it happen again?

Much has been done since 1933 to strengthen inherent weaknesses in the banking system. Federal Deposit Insurance now guarantees bank accounts up to $10,000. The Federal Reserve System has broader emergency powers and banks are more closely regulated.

Commenting on the banking practices of the period, however, economist John Kenneth Galbraith, now ambassador to India, says in his book, "The Great Crash:"

"In fact, many of these practices were made ludicrous only by the depression. Loans which would have been perfectly good were made perfectly foolish by the collapse of the borrower's prices or the market for his goods or the value of the collateral he had posted. A depression such as that of 1929-32 were it to begin as this is written, would also be damaging to many currently impeccable banking reputations."

MISS DUME SHOULD REST NOW.
AXEL, YOU ARE MAGNIFICENT! I AM DEEPLY TOUCHED...
DR. CASEY, WILL YOU DO ME THE COURTESY OF ADVISING RODNEY THAT I AM RETURNED, AND BEAR GLAD TIDINGS FOR THAT FORTUNATE YOUNG FELLOW?
MAGGIE, I HAVE JUST SEEN A SUPERB PERFORMANCE.
HIS... OR HERS?

ORPHAN ANNIE
YESTERDAY WAS TO HAVE BEEN THE DAY OF THE BLOWOUT! IT WAS — TEN MINUTES EARLY!
I TELL YUH, WE FOUND IT! IT—IT WAS LYIN' ON TH' BEACH!
YEAH! SURE! ELECTRIC GARAGE DOOR CONTROL? SHOW US THE SPOT WHERE YOU "FOUND" IT!
3-4-63
AT THE MAYOR'S OFFICE, HIS SISTER COMES TO CALL!
WHAT? LON DIDN'T COME HOME LAST NIGHT? TCH-TCH!
THOUGHT YOU'D KNOW WHY; HE SAID YOU AND HE WERE WORKING ON A BIG DEAL!
WHILE AT THE HACIENDA—
THEY HAD TONS O' DYN'MITE! GOIN' T'BLOW US A MILE HIGH! WE KNOW THAT! BUT JUST THAT LITTLE "THUD"! WHAT HAPPENED?
WHY IT BLEW AHEAD OF TIME WE DON'T KNOW! AND I DOUBT IF THEY CARE, WHERE THEY ARE NOW!

U.S. Space Work Comes Closer to Dougnut Job

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (NEA) —After five years of count-down and blast-off, the U.S. space effort is finally coming down to earth with a flying doughnut currently in laboratory tests here.

This new consumer-oriented satellite is called Nimbus and will be hung from a dry hook 500 miles aloft to watch our planet's weather-cloud formation and density, wind velocity and direction, precipitation and humidity.

The information gathered by Nimbus' television cameras will be received by a ground station at Fairbanks, Alaska, and communicated to a waiting nation via the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Just how crucial the weather forecast is to the American civilization is impossible to calculate.

In addition to the millions of people who stay up long past a reasonable bedtime to catch the late weather report, whole industries are geared to tomorrow's rain or shine.

Fuel oil dealers, air-conditioning servicemen, sanitation departments, air lines, bus lines and trainmen schedule their day by what the weatherman says.

Picnics are planned, classes are canceled, wedding ceremonies are hurried on the basis of the forecast. Battles are postponed.

In New York, for example, a city-wide chain of bakeries rewrites its daily recipes for the weather. A rainy day means that mother is house-bound with the kids, leaving father with the job of picking up the dessert on the way home. And father, it turns out, usually picks up the richest, gooeyest dessert he can find.

The U.S. is so weather-nutsy, in fact, that many insurance companies now offer a vacation policy that pays you for every rainy or sunny day during your holiday, depending on what you prefer.

This precipitation anxiety is, of course, to be found in the National Aeronautic and Space Administration as well.

And so, we now have a half-dozen Tiros weather satellites floating around up there, yielding 80 to 95 per cent usable cloud-and-wind information.

"Nimbus," says a spokesman for General Electric which is testing the 600-pound doughnut at Valley Forge, "will do a lot better than that. New mechanisms will keep it pointing always at the earth in its 103-minute orbit."

Nimbus is scheduled for launching late this year.

But don't suppose for a minute that Nimbus is the answer, either. NASA plans also call for Aeros in the near future—there synchronous satellites keeping every bit of earth weather under surveillance every minute.

"Just think of it," the satellite man said. "You'll never get caught in an unexpected rainstorm again."

He would not, however, take a little even money bet on it.

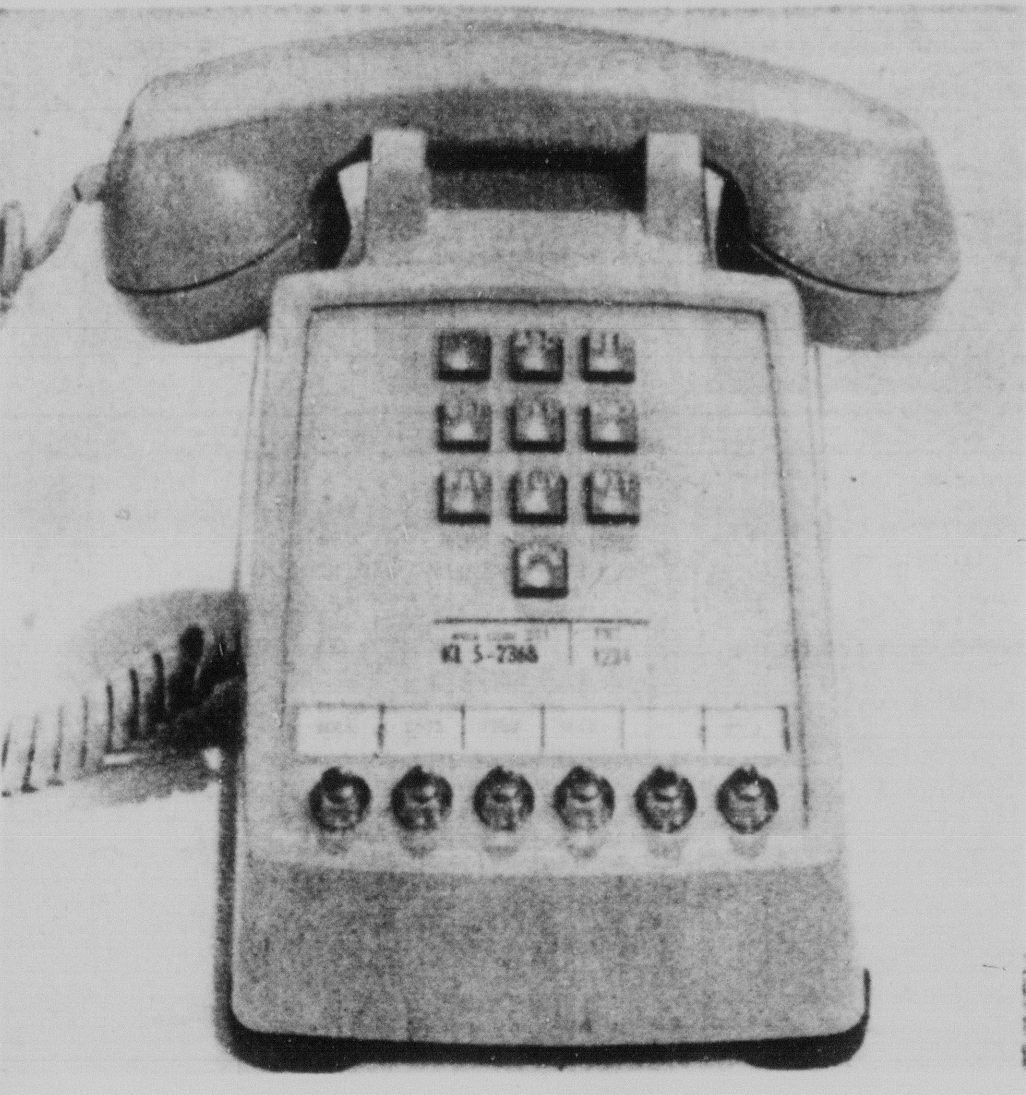
Pythons Are Kept As Pets in Home

MASSAPEQUA, N. Y. (AP) — Neighbors of Martin Towne are intrigued with his new pets but they're glad to hear he won't be letting them run loose.

Towne keeps two 4-year-old pythons from South America in a cage in the living room. He claims his wife and young daughter share his delight in watching "the graceful creatures move about.

"After the neighbors visited our home and got used to the Pythons they seemed to enjoy them almost as much as we do," the reptile enthusiast reported.



PUSH-BUTTON PHONE ERA SOON AT HAND—This is a type of push-button telephone millions of Americans soon will be using instead of the dial phone. There are three rows of three buttons each plus a tenth "O" button centered below the button row. The combinations of letters and numbers on the push buttons are the some as on a dial phone. The type of phone shown here has extension buttons at bottom for use generally in offices. (AP Wirephoto)

France Plans Bomb Blast in South Pacific

PARIS (UPI)—French sources said here that France plans to explode its first thermonuclear device on a South Pacific island by mid-1964 under a speed-up program to give the French an independent national nuclear force regardless of U.S. objections.

The sources said the test would involve a "baby" H-device about halfway between an atomic bomb and a true hydrogen bomb and probably would take place in the Gambier Islands, about 1,000 miles southeast of Tahiti.

Some 1,500 French technicians already were reported to be either at Mangareva Island in the Gambiers or en route there to prepare for the test which President Charles de Gaulle's government feels will speed by at least four years the time needed for France to attain full H-bomb capacity.

Previous French nuclear tests have been held at Reggane in the Sahara of southern Algeria.

Under the Evian agreement of last March ending the Algerian War, the French are permitted to use the Sahara test range until 1967. But the Algerian government has made known its hostility to further testing in the Sahara and other neighboring countries also have complained.

French sources said that in the Pacific test, the plan is to trigger their H-device with a top-secret plutonium detonator instead of the usual enriched uranium.

History Being Written Now In Peru's Life

By WILLIAM B. SMART
United Press International

LIMA, Peru—In Peru right now, one gets the feeling he is watching history being written—and that no one knows what the last sentence on the page will say.

This, then, will be the unfinished biography of a military junta still in mid-journey.

Last July, North Americans were startled to read that military officials had seized power, invalidated the elections in Peru, and ousted the president, Manuel Prado, and his cabinet. Maj. Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy headed the senior military junta that took over. Prado went to a prison island.

Here, it appeared, was another destruction of democracy by the kind of military autocracy that has so long been the curse of Latin American government, and which had interrupted three other South American governments earlier in the year.

That impression was strengthened by recollection of some grim past history. The APRA party that appeared to have won the elections had long been bitterly opposed by the military. Riots and killings 30 years ago had resulted in thousands of Apristas being stood against ancient Inca ruins in the city of Chan Chan and shot.

APRA has long since abandoned its extremism and is now considered a staunch foe of communism. But there were those who felt that the military takeover last July stemmed from the long memories of generals who had not forgotten the old bitterness.

One man who held this view was James Loeb Jr., U.S. ambassador to Peru. On his recommendation, the U.S. promptly broke relations with the new military government, and it appeared the $95 million the U.S. had loaned to Peru earlier this year might go down the drain.

So how does this policy look today, after six months of military government? What are the chances of restoring constitutional elections?

Cesar Gonzalez is an upcoming young businessman, a junior official with a big mining company, owner of a couple of service stations and other interests. He lives with his wife and six children, not lavishly but very well in the handsome San Isidro area of Lima.

He is no ragged revolutionary. He has a substantial stake in society, and a mature, responsible outlook.

To him there is no question about the military government.

"This is the first government Peru has had that has tried to solve our problems," he says. "This is a historic time. For the first time we are not being governed by those who own the country. For the first time democracy is being given a real chance."

"What you must understand," e insists, "is that this is no military dictatorship. There are no arrests. The press is free. This is exactly what 80 per cent of the people want."

Gonzalez explains that the military had considerable justification for its action. By tradition, it had been appointed supervisor of the elections, to keep order and prevent fraud. After formal investigation, it reported numerous evidences that the election had not been honest—and only after these reports were ignored did it step in to oust President Prado and take power.

The junta has promised elections for next June. Gonzalez has no doubt they will be held, opening up a new democratic vista.

This point of view, is shared by many Peruvians with whom we have talked. There's a general feeling that the government's new planning commission, its program of land reform, and its insistence on collecting, not just talking about, taxes all represent real hope.

There's also a widespread feeling that the U.S. government made a serious mistake in breaking off relations with the military government so precipitously.

We detected evidences of discontent, however. A veteran newspaperman, who has been through this sort of thing before, says he is betting against elections being held next June.

"Discontent is growing, and the Communist-inspired disorders in the Andes and in the mines will give the government the excuse it needs to postpone elections."

A U.S. official was even less hopeful. "The talk of land and tax reform is just that—talk," he said. "These military boys are finding that running a government is a good deal more difficult than ordering around a regiment of soldiers. They just aren't getting anywhere."

Headaches
Can Be Danger Signals!

Although many headaches are simple and respond to home treatment, those which persist are warning signals. The headache is a symptom, not a disease. It indicates that all is not well with the body and its normal functions.

When headaches persist or recur, consult your physician without delay. Good health is too often taken for granted until it is lost.

If your physician writes a prescription . . . we invite you to bring it to Aley's . . . saving our customers money on each prescription is a mighty important part of our business.

France Plans Bomb Blast in South Pacific

PARIS (UPI)—French sources said here that France plans to explode its first thermonuclear device on a South Pacific island by mid-1964 under a speed-up program to give the French an independent national nuclear force regardless of U.S. objections.

The sources said the test would involve a "baby" H-device about halfway between an atomic bomb and a true hydrogen bomb and probably would take place in the Gambier Islands, about 1,000 miles southeast of Tahiti.

Some 1,500 French technicians already were reported to be either at Mangareva Island in the Gambiers or en route there to prepare for the test which President Charles de Gaulle's government feels will speed by at least four years the time needed for France to attain full H-bomb capacity.

Previous French nuclear tests have been held at Reggane in the Sahara of southern Algeria.

Under the Evian agreement of last March ending the Algerian War, the French are permitted to use the Sahara test range until 1967. But the Algerian government has made known its hostility to further testing in the Sahara and other neighboring countries also have complained.

French sources said that in the Pacific test, the plan is to trigger their H-device with a top-secret plutonium detonator instead of the usual enriched uranium.

History Being Written Now In Peru's Life

By WILLIAM B. SMART
United Press International

LIMA, Peru—In Peru right now, one gets the feeling he is watching history being written—and that no one knows what the last sentence on the page will say.

This, then, will be the unfinished biography of a military junta still in mid-journey.

Last July, North Americans were startled to read that military officials had seized power, invalidated the elections in Peru, and ousted the president, Manuel Prado, and his cabinet. Maj. Gen. Ricardo Perez Godoy headed the senior military junta that took over. Prado went to a prison island.

Here, it appeared, was another destruction of democracy by the kind of military autocracy that has so long been the curse of Latin American government, and which had interrupted three other South American governments earlier in the year.

That impression was strengthened by recollection of some grim past history. The APRA party that appeared to have won the elections had long been bitterly opposed by the military. Riots and killings 30 years ago had resulted in thousands of Apristas being stood against ancient Inca ruins in the city of Chan Chan and shot.

APRA has long since abandoned its extremism and is now considered a staunch foe of communism. But there were those who felt that the military takeover last July stemmed from the long memories of generals who had not forgotten the old bitterness.

One man who held this view was James Loeb Jr., U.S. ambassador to Peru. On his recommendation, the U.S. promptly broke relations with the new military government, and it appeared the $95 million the U.S. had loaned to Peru earlier this year might go down the drain.

So how does this policy look today, after six months of military government? What are the chances of restoring constitutional elections?

Cesar Gonzalez is an upcoming young businessman, a junior official with a big mining company, owner of a couple of service stations and other interests. He lives with his wife and six children, not lavishly but very well in the handsome San Isidro area of Lima.

He is no ragged revolutionary. He has a substantial stake in society, and a mature, responsible outlook.

To him there is no question about the military government.

"This is the first government Peru has had that has tried to solve our problems," he says. "This is a historic time. For the first time we are not being governed by those who own the country. For the first time democracy is being given a real chance."

"What you must understand," e insists, "is that this is no military dictatorship. There are no arrests. The press is free. This is exactly what 80 per cent of the people want."

Gonzalez explains that the military had considerable justification for its action. By tradition, it had been appointed supervisor of the elections, to keep order and prevent fraud. After formal investigation, it reported numerous evidences that the election had not been honest—and only after these reports were ignored did it step in to oust President Prado and take power.

The junta has promised elections for next June. Gonzalez has no doubt they will be held, opening up a new democratic vista.

This point of view, is shared by many Peruvians with whom we have talked. There's a general feeling that the government's new planning commission, its program of land reform, and its insistence on collecting, not just talking about, taxes all represent real hope.

There's also a widespread feeling that the U.S. government made a serious mistake in breaking off relations with the military government so precipitously.

We detected evidences of discontent, however. A veteran newspaperman, who has been through this sort of thing before, says he is betting against elections being held next June.

"Discontent is growing, and the Communist-inspired disorders in the Andes and in the mines will give the government the excuse it needs to postpone elections."

A U.S. official was even less hopeful. "The talk of land and tax reform is just that—talk," he said. "These military boys are finding that running a government is a good deal more difficult than ordering around a regiment of soldiers. They just aren't getting anywhere."

Headaches
Can Be Danger Signals!

Although many headaches are simple and respond to home treatment, those which persist are warning signals. The headache is a symptom, not a disease. It indicates that all is not well with the body and its normal functions.

When headaches persist or recur, consult your physician without delay. Good health is too often taken for granted until it is lost.

If your physician writes a prescription . . . we invite you to bring it to Aley's . . . saving our customers money on each prescription is a mighty important part of our business.
